DOGS APPEAR IN VAUDEVILLE ON WEDNESDAY

A Review—The vaudeville comedy talking, acrobatic acts and a chorus of beautiful white collars and as many attractive girls furnished entertainment at the Astoria theater yesterday. This was the last Fanchon & Marco stage idea to be shown here until the circuit is re-routed and La Grande given a permanent place—if it can be accomplished.

Joe Holley and Lucille Orden, a comedy talking team, were featured and provided much merriment with their clever repartee. The negro trainer of the colts took his turn on the stage with two vocal solos which were generously applauded.

The costumes and settings were attractive. Kenneth Gekker's Arcadians furnished music.

The picture last night was "A Thief in the Dark," a comedy of the ghost variety.

To Divorce Or Not Is Renee's Plight

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12 (AP)—Things happen quickly in the domestic life of Renee Adore, screen actress and today it was not quite certain whether divorce threatens her married life or not.

Xenodyssey Miss Adore filed a divorce action against her tailor-husband, William S. Gill, a few hours later, she announced she had instructed her attorney to withdraw the proceedings. Then the lawyer filed a document in superior court, but refused to discuss what it was.

When Miss Adore could be reached later, she told, refused to discuss things.

Five Killed In Tanker Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12 (AP)—The boatwain who lost his life in the explosion aboard the steamer Shreveport off the Carolina coast yesterday, was John Wolcott, of Delaware Gardens, near Camden, N. J., according to the records of the United States shipping commissioner here.

The address of the other four dead men are: A. Bergman, chief mate, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Harry E. Hopkins, second mate, North Eastport, Maine.

D. Miranda, pumpman, Asturias, Spain.

Seven Person, machinist, Boston.

The charred hull of the tanker Shreveport, anchored off Frying Pan shoals, bore mute evidence today to another grim tragedy of the sea.

FINDS NUGGET

REDDING—W. L. Hill, rancher in the Thurston district six miles north of Redding, showed a small creek flowing through his land, a small creek flowing through his land. Hill said he had started development of a mining claim there.

Mr. Stack received the appointment from George L. Berry, president of the International Pressmen's union, representing the national democratic committee.

"I'll be here 25 years from now," is the conviction of C. S. "Bud" Hartwig, who is almost the oldest man in the convention, and in spite of his 71 years is one of the most vigorous and enthusiastic of delegates. Mr. Hartwig is secretary-treasurer of the Meat Cutters union No. 143, of Portland.

"Bud" Hartwig's most formidable rival is "Bud" Walker, who proudly claims 72 years age to his credit, or 75 years young, and says "I have had Hartwig beat a year." Mr. Walker is business agent for 1709 Streetcarmen in Portland. He is a member of the local 537.

C. E. Foley, of Exelton, representative of Builders union No. 228, is also attending the convention.

T. M. Newberry, of Salem, is another of the delegates. Mr. Newberry is a member of the Central Labor council. He is a barber by trade.

E. H. Dodds, of Portland, member of Carpenters union No. 226, is not a newcomer in La Grande. Mr. Dodds visited in La Grande 25 years ago this fall.

H. F. Stewart, of Portland, member of the Building Laborers local No. 236, is in attendance at the convention.

The cigarettes which were passed out as gifts to the convention delegates last night at the banquet at the Foley hotel and this morning during the morning session of the convention, were the gift of Charles Martin, of Portland. Mr. Martin represents the Astoria-Pacific tobacco company which is the largest union ciggie tobacco manufacturing company in the United States. The headquarters of the company are in Louisville, Kentucky.

Jim Taylor, of the Washington State Federation of Labor, is an old timer in the labor movement. Mr. Taylor used to be president of the metal union during the war. He says he has attended many trade union conventions and he said that he has attended many conventions but in the old days before the 15th amendment they didn't let women attend them.

C. E. Mackman, La Grande shoe manufacturer and said to be the oldest union card man in the city, treated the banquet last night at the Foley to several boxes of his good cigars.

Roy C. Toombs Surrenders At St. Louis Today

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Roy C. Toombs, Chicago and St. Louis financier, surrendered himself to St. Louis authorities today for arrest on warrants charging him with embezzlement as president of the International Life Insurance company of St. Louis.

Counsel for the stock broker and insurance man immediately instituted proceedings for a writ of habeas corpus for Toombs' extradition.

Eugene Boxer Shot On Hunting Trip

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 12 (AP)—Billy Wellborn, Eugene boxer, was shot to death at 7:30 a. m. today while on a hunting trip in the Macpiston country with a party of three friends. It is believed the shot was accidental.

The companions heard the shot and investigating, found Wellborn dead with a bullet through his heart. No one witnessed the accident, as the three other men were in camp.

PERSHING ON BIRTHDAY IS GIVEN MEDALS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—General John J. Pershing today celebrated the sixty-eighth milestone of a life rich in adventure and accomplishment, crowned by leadership of the lustrations that fought in America's greatest war.

Now fully retired after a long and fruitful service in the army, the man who, with Washington and a few others, rose to the high distinction of a full-ranked general, found on this birthday echoes of the acclaim which a grateful world bestows upon those it reveres.

At the war department where General Pershing has a handsome office although he is no longer actively connected with that branch of the government, time was set aside today so that the general might receive the four latest foreign decorations which admiring nations have conferred upon him.

GETS TWO TERMS IN PEN

BUREKA—Jack Ryan, 26, half-breed Indian, was sentenced to two years of from 1 to 30 years each in San Quentin after his plea of guilty to charges of attacking two young girls. The sentences were to run concurrently.

CONVENTION TO WIND UP WORK TODAY

from the organized labor movement and the general public.

Thanks and sincere appreciation were also extended to the local committee on arrangements headed by Max Colton, to the representatives of the city of La Grande, chamber of commerce and other civic bodies and to the citizens and the press of La Grande for their warm welcome, generous accommodations, splendid entertainment and many courtesies extended to the delegates to this convention.

Max Colton, as chairman of the event, in a clever toastmaster style, had much to do with the success of the affair.

Others who spoke were: A. W. Cooper, president of the Oregon Labor Federation; Mrs. Kate O'Hare, representative of the American Federation of Teachers; Bill Swath, international representative of the Meat Cutters' union; Miss Dea Tamby, Cigar Workers; E. P. Duffey, international representative of Hotel and Restaurant Workers; Joe Reed, representative of the International Boiler Makers; Jim Taylor, of Washington State Federation of Labor, extending the greetings of his state; E. J. Euel, former secretary-treasurer of State Federation of Labor; H. H. Bruggard, one of the three commissioners on the state accident commission.

One of the most successful entertainment features of the Federation of Labor convention during the week was the banquet which was attended last night by more than 200 delegates, townspeople and friends.

Bill Oberlin, as the final speaker of the occasion spoke for the entire delegation when he commented on the fine hospitality of the La Grande people, on the beauty of the Walla Walla valley and Walla Walla lake region as seen by the delegates many of them for the first time on the trip Tuesday. The evening breakfast given Tuesday morning was also commended upon freely as one of the most enjoyable events of the week.

Max Colton, as chairman of the event, in a clever toastmaster style,
