All Roads Lead To Round-Up City During This Week

All roads this week are leading to the Round-Up at Pendleton, the pioneer pageant of the west. Many La Grande folk went yesterday for the opening day. Others are going today and tomorrow, but the largest crowd will be on Saturday, the last day. Last year, it is said, a total of 50,000 people visited the Round-Up.

The Pendleton club was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at the country home of Mrs. Marcia Riddle in May Park. Mrs. Frank Oswald, president of the club, presided at a short business meeting at which time the members of the club voted to send $5 to the national Red Cross for relief purposes in the West Indies and Florida.

A presidential straw vote by the members present resulted in ten votes for Hoover, seven for Smith and one for the prohibition nominee.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Dawson, of California, Mrs. C. E. Smith and Mrs. Hardy.

A delectable luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. A. T. Hill and Mrs. P. B. Appleby, entertained Tuesday afternoon with an informal tea at the Hill home on 1603 First street, honoring a group of visitors in La Grande, Miss Cornelia Maylin, Salem, state librarian; Mrs. George Hartman and Mrs. Sturgis, of Pendleton, and Miss Todd, Minnion, dean of women at the Oregon Normal school.

A group of friends and acquaintances of the visitors were invited in for a very delightful afternoon. The groups were pretty with fall flower decorations.

The Winter bridge club met Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hoppel and enjoyed a most pleasant evening. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newland were winners of first prize for high bridge scores. The rooms of the Hoppel home were pretty with fall flowers.

A two-course luncheon was served by the hostess following the cards.

A. G. S. Social Year To Begin Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Associated Girl Students of the La Grande High school will formally open activities with a party at 3 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. The membership of the A. G. S. includes about 250 students and at the entertainment tomorrow they will enjoy a program of dancing, talks, readings and music.

At that time also, the big and little sisters will get together for the first time. Mildred Smith is chairman of the big sister committee and last week at the first A. G. S. assembly she introduced the girls.

Julie Campbell has charge of the party Friday which is to be held for the purpose of helping the entering girls to become better acquainted.

The big sister movement which is an established institution in the La Grande High school, has proved successful in its purpose. It began in 1925 at the instigation of Miss Percie. During the first week of school the big sisters helped their little sisters to enroll, showed them about the building and will continue to sponsor them during the year.

The A. G. S. plans to hold a party each month, says Ruth Smalley, president of the association. A party for Halloween will probably be the next event of that kind.

The Sons and Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War met last night at the Christian church with about 15 in attendance. The program featured several talks in keeping with the idea of "Constitution" week and a group of high school girls presented a recitation of the preamble to the Constitution.

The Tukwila campfire girls last night surprised their assistant guardian, Miss Louise Leighton, with a delightful party and handkerchief shower. Miss Leighton is leaving this week to attend college in Idaho and the party was a farewell for her. About 14 campfire girls were there with Mrs. H. J. Tyler, guardian of the group.

Loyal Sisters Aid Planning Program

The Loyal Sisters Aid of the Christian church held the opening meeting of the fall yesterday afternoon in the church annex with 17 members in attendance.

Following the devotional read by Mrs. C. E. Golden, a business meeting was held. Mrs. C. E. Bunting, president, presiding.

Plans were made for the annual chicken dinner to be given next month in the Old Fellows hall.

Committees appointed were: kitchen, Mrs. Harry Sandos, Mrs. Ed Elliott, and Mrs. S. C. Lapham; dining room, Mrs. Arlin Young.

Plans were also made for a rummage sale to be held Saturday Sept. 29, with Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Elliott in charge.

The Bible Searchers class of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. Lewis on 402 Third street with Mrs. M. M. Miller as assistant hostess.

The program topic was "Joy", and was read by Mrs. J. K. Wright who gave a talk and the scripture reading of the afternoon. Two hymns were also sung.

Jean Davis and Mrs. Plaborg each entertained with two phobers.

An hour in the afternoon was spent in piecing a quilt to go in the Christmas box which is filled each year by the class. It was announced that Mrs. Nye this summer finished piecing the first quilt.

Mrs. C. E. Duffey and Mrs. A. L. Voigt entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon Tuesday afternoon, having as their honor guests Mrs. O. H. Snodgrass, of Belle River, Ill., who has been visiting here for some time with her sister, Mrs. K. C. Lapham, and Mrs. C. N. Leaks, of Portland, a sister of Mrs. Duffey.

The luncheon was given at the home of Mrs. Voigt near the park. The rooms were decorated with fall flowers. After the luncheon the afternoon was spent socially. Fifteen women were present.

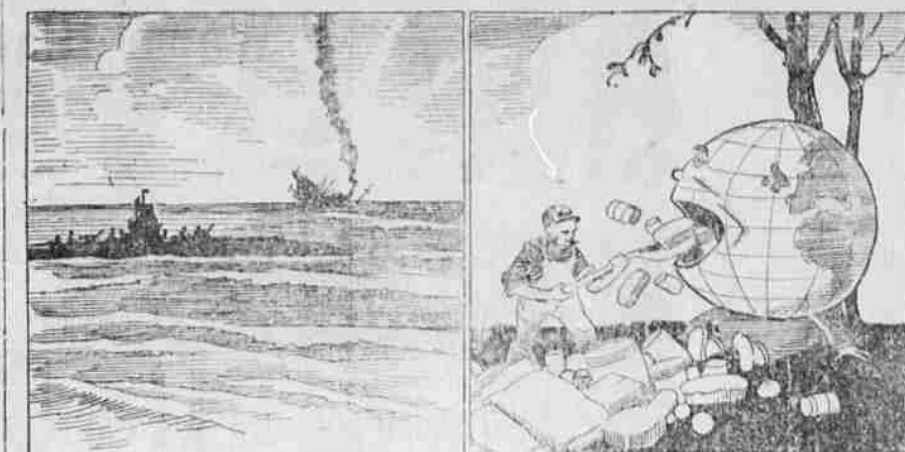

Announcements

The Greenwood Parent-Teacher association will meet Friday afternoon, Sept. 21, at 2:30 o'clock at Greenwood school. All parents of children at the school are invited to attend the meeting and the large attendance is urged. Dues for the year can be paid at that time.

A reception will be given tomorrow evening at the Methodist Episcopal church for the new pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. V. E. Hall and family. A short program will be featured and refreshments will be served. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

Chapter I of the P. E. O. will meet at the home of Mrs. H. S. Brownson, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Harry Waggoner as assistant hostess.

QUESTION No. 12. With the above hand and normally, which player would become the Declarer and at what contract?

QUESTION No. 13. With East and West playing a Spade contract and the first trick won by the Ace of Hearts, what cards should West and East play to trick 2?

Answer Blank

Answers

12. West should become the Declarer with a contract of Three Spades. The normal bidding of the hand would be South, one Heart; West, one Spade; North, two Clubs; East, two Spades; South, three Clubs; West, three Spades.

13. West should lead the Deuce of Diamonds and East should play the Jack of Diamonds. It is quite true that the Declarer would be anxious to exhaust the adverse trumps, but he can see that if he lead a trump to trick 2, it will be won by the adversaries who will then lead another Heart and probably follow that by leading a Club. If that should happen, Declarer would win with the Ace of Clubs, exhaust the adverse trumps, and then would have to lead a Diamond which the adversaries would win and capture another Club, thus saving game. In order to discard the losing Club from Dummy, it is necessary to establish the Diamonds in closed hand before leading trumps.

ACCIDENTS SHOCK ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Two airplane accidents, one of which was the first English fatality to a woman flyer, shocked aviation circles today. The second accident seriously injured Jack Nokes, who has recently won fame as one of the most intrepid stunt fliers of the Royal air force.

Rule one calls for irregular lines. Necklines, waistlines, hemlines are equally affected by the idea of ups and downs. There are exceptions to the rule.

Rule two suits material to the line. Or, as some dressmakers prefer to put it, the line to suit the material. Materials for evening are velvet, satin, taffeta, lace, lace and chiffon.

The third rule is concerned with shions, is "Don't be afraid to look different in your evening clothes." This designer says that evening clothes and day clothes should be entirely different in effect and purpose. He urges women to study the fashion plates of the Eighties and Nineties in a search for the basic principles on which the night time chic of 1928 is built.
