Tear Down Hangar At Flying Field

LA GRANDE, OREGON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The hangar which the La Grande flying school built here last January is being torn down and the lumber is being moved to Union. I. G. Knight purchased the building about a week ago of Robert Ayers, of La Grande, who had bought it at a sheriff's sale about half a year ago. Mr. Knight is building a garage with the lumber in North Union.

Max O'Connell and his pilot, Gene Cole, of MacArthur, left the field here Thursday morning in an Enterprise biplane for an Enterprise school they attended the Wallawa county fair, detour passenger flying. The two pilots visited Portland at Round-bay time.

When at all possible, control the draft by regulating the damper in the ash pit door of the warm air furnace.

TRADING PICKING UP IN PORTLAND

Conditions on Wholesale Markets A Shade More Encouraging Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Condition on local wholesale markets were a shade more encouraging at the opening today with trading considerably more active than last week and prices showing a tendency toward greater stability.

Greenstuffs were plentiful and locally priced than last week's close. Locally grown lettuce of excellent quality was selling at $1.25 to $1.50 per crate while cabbage brought from 2 to 2 1/2 cents per pound, white red cabbage sold at 2 cents to 3 cents per pound. Green onions were not quite so plentiful and brought from 4 to 4 1/2 cents per dozen bunches.

Peaches and grapes showed a tendency toward firmer prices, supplies of both being somewhat restricted from last week. Apples remained cheap at 45 to 50 cents per box but Lovells and Walways at $1.00 and Graven (China from the Snake River district at 75c to 81 1/2c per bushel indicated that the market would be firmer hereafter. Peas were selling at all kinds of prices from $1.00 to $2.75 per box depending on variety, size and condition. Beans and extra fancy Bartlett brought the top price.

Accumulation of country dressed meats carried over the week-end was rather noticeable and an easy undertone prevailed in the market. Hogs were especially slow moving and it was thought prices might recede later in the day as receipts at the North Portland yards were heavy and trading dull.

In the poultry division there were no changes in quotations, supplies of carry-over stock being about normal and trading fairly active with receipts not overly heavy. Butter and egg markets were thin at Saturday's closing prices.
