Dinner Dance Is Given Last Night At the La Grande

One of the most important social events of the fall season was the dinner dance last night when Mrs. Arthur Bowen and Mrs. W. H. Reiter were hostesses to a large group of friends at the La Grande hotel.

The two long tables at which the guests were seated, were arranged in the shape of a crescent overhung by yellow balloons around which crepe paper streamers of orchid and yellow were hung. About the ballroom huge baskets of orchid and yellow flowers were arranged in keeping with the color scheme.

On the tables were yellow chrysanthemums in silver bowls and silver baskets. Yellow and orchid tapers in crystal holders added to the attractiveness of the setting.

The 40 couples danced in the center space between two suites of the crescent.

The P. E. O. met Friday for luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. T. Richardson with Mrs. Hadley Richardson as assistant hostess. The main feature of the program was a review of "Mother India," by Catherine Mayo, by Mrs. F. B. Appleby, who gave the report in a very interesting fashion.

Mrs. Lucy Sigsworth, vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. A. L. Richardson.

About 25 members of the organization were in attendance.

Mrs. R. F. Murphy Is Hostess to Club

An interesting meeting was held yesterday afternoon when the Mothers Self Culture club met at the home of Mrs. R. F. Murphy for a discussion and a talk on the subject of, "True Obedience and Methods of Securing it," by Mrs. R. F. Westenhaver. A letter from Dr. A. A. Berle was read on the subject of, "Happiness as a Twin to Culture."

The next meeting of the club is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. K. O'Brien, Monday, Nov. 5.

The Sacajawea campfire girls and the campfire girls from Greenwood, conducted by Miss Carrol, had an interesting afternoon yesterday when they met in the Sacajawea club room at the Lutheran church. An instructive and interesting talk by Mrs. H. H. Cleaver on art and decor as applied to high school girls was the main feature of the day. Following the talk Mrs. Cleaver and the girls discussed points concerning dress which were brought up by the girls.

Loyal Sisters' Aid Forms Division C

Division C of the Loyal Sisters Aid of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Nolan Skiff on Oak street last night, with Mrs. B. C. Shields assisting as hostess.

The division was organized as a sewing club and handkerchiefs were made for the December bazaar.

During the business meeting officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Shields, president; Miss Antonetta Johnson, vice president, and Miss Beryl Jones, secretary-treasurer. It was decided to meet the second Wednesday of each month.

The decorations were in keeping with the hallowe'en season with the rooms appearing as dimly-lighted dens with ghosts and other hallowe'en symbols. Fortunes and weird games featured the social hour.

Refreshments were served before adjournment.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Earl Hough with Mrs. Roy Cameron assisting.

The fall presbyterial meeting of Union county is scheduled for next Saturday at 10 o'clock. Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Taylor, of Siam, who are on a furlough from missionary service, will be in La Grande at that time and will be the honor guests and will address the group. Mrs. Taylor, formerly Julia Hatch, is well known in La Grande, having visited here many times.

The event will begin with a short business session at 10 o'clock to be followed by the talks. The meeting will be held in the Union Presbyterian church and at noon a luncheon will be held in the Union hotel.

"Indian Trails" as they were followed by early missionaries in the United States, was the topic of an interesting meeting of the Baptist Missionary society held Friday at the home of Mrs. George Harwood on 901 O avenue. Mrs. Edna Hale was leader.

Plans were made for a bazaar and dinner at the I. O. O. F. hall Dec. 7.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST — Grapes, cereal, cream, eggs with cheese, reheated spinach, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Bacon en casserole, baked potatoes, creamed cauliflower, apple sauce, molasses cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER — Corn loaf with tomato sauce, scalloped sweet potatoes, stuffed celery, honey dew melon balls, milk, coffee.

Since an unusually hearty luncheon is served a light dinner without meat is planned. If the corn is grated quite fine, children may be allowed to eat the loaf and they may of course have the sauce, sweet potatoes and celery. Children under six, however, should have their sweet potato baked, their celery unstuffed and the tomato sauce served with toast sticks in place of the corn loaf. A dish of apple sauce left from luncheon could be substituted for the melon balls.

Eggs With Cheese

One tablespoon butter, ½ cup milk, 4 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 4 squares hot buttered toast, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, paprika.

Melt butter in small frying pan, add milk and bring to the scalding point. Carefully add eggs, one at a time, taking pains not to break yolks. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover pan. Keep just below the boiling point and cook until eggs are beginning to set. Sprinkle with cheese and finishing cooking. Place an egg on each square of toast, sprinkle with paprika and parsley and pour milk around. Serve at once.

CHAMBERLAIN IN YOSEMITE

YOSEMITE, Cal., Oct. 23—(AP)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, with his family, arrived here today for a short visit.

OSAGE SOCIETY IS ALL EXCITED

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., Oct. 23 By NEA Service —The noble red man has taken a leaf from the book of the palefaces and has gone into society.

The women of the Osage tribe—richest organization of people on the face of the globe—do not wear the colored blankets of tradition, nor intone ancient tales of Great Chief Pulled-on-both-sides.

They wear clothes that their paleface sisters might envy, and they play bridge and get into gossipy rows.

Now the whole Osage country is excited by criminal charges against the pretty Mrs. Freddie Wheeler, white wife of the rich Morris Wheeler, Indian rancher. The chief complaining witness, Mrs. Edna Plomondon, is an Indian woman of striking beauty.

Last July Mrs. Plomondon and two other Osage women—Mrs. J. B. O'Connor and Mrs. Edna Watts—went for a drive. On their way home a masked bandit stopped the car. The chief article of value that was taken was a $1200 diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Plomondon.

A few days later Mrs. Plomondon charged Mrs. Wheeler's brother, Johnnie Williams, with being the bandit, and charged Mrs. Wheeler with staging it. The two are now free under bond of $1500 apiece, awaiting a hearing next month.

Williams says he has 12 witnesses to an alibi. Mrs. Wheeler tearfully protests:

"I am not guilty. There is not a witness who believes so in her heart. A fair trial will prove my innocence."

Meanwhile the whole Osage country is excited.

Mrs. Edna Plomondon, right . . . an Osage Indian woman . . . . robbed of her diamond, and Mrs. Wheeler, left, whom she accuses of conspiracy to take it.

Raineri Home In Chicago Menaced

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—(AP)—A police guard was dispatched to the home of Alex P. Raineri, contractor, to protect the Raineri family against a threatened bombing, the state's attorney's office announced today. The object of the threat was believed to be to prevent Billy Raineri, ten-year-old boy who was kidnapped six weeks ago and held 13 days for $60,000 ransom, from testifying at the trial of his alleged abductors.

Tong War Takes Another Chinese

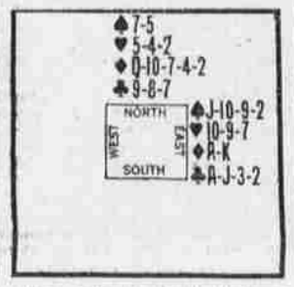
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 23—(AP)—Hugh W. Kay, 30, a Chinese cook, was shot dead last night by a man who escaped.

Kay, police learned, was a member of the On Leong tong, whose difficulties with members of the Hip Sing tong a week ago were marked by slayings in Chicago and eastern cities. The slaying was believed to have some connection with the other tong conflicts.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Continuing the series of Bitty Bridge questions which have been running on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays for the past few weeks, we give today Deal 8 and Question No. 41.



Score, love-all; South Declarer; contract, No Trump. No other bid has been made. The play to the first trick is: West, Trey of Hearts; Dummy (North), Deuce of Hearts; East, Nine of Hearts; South (Closed Hand), Jack of Hearts.

The play to the second trick is: South, Trey of Diamonds; West, Jack of Diamonds; Dummy, Queen of Diamonds; East, King of Diamonds.

Question No. 41. What card should East lead to trick 3

Answer Blank

41. To trick 3, East should lead—

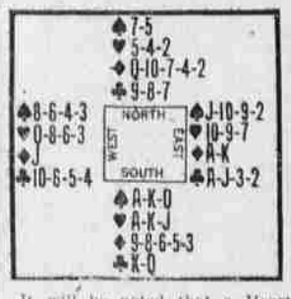
(Fill the blank before you read the answer that follows.)

Answer

41. East should lead the Ace of Clubs.

West's lead (the Trey of Hearts) with the Deuce in Dummy, showed that West opened a four-card suit; and his play of the Jack of Diamonds showed that West has no more Diamonds. West would not have opened a four-card suit if he had held a five, so he must have held three 4-card suits and one Diamond. East with four Clubs, seeing three in Dummy and knowing that West has four, can be sure that South has only two. The Declarer evidently has determined to establish Dummy's Diamonds and East has the Ace; he can save game by leading the Ace and then the Deuce of Clubs. The highest of West's four Clubs must beat North's Nine, so this play must produce five tricks (three Clubs and Two Diamonds) for East and West.

When this hand was actually played, the distribution of the cards among the four players was as follows:



It will be noted that a Heart lead by East at trick 3 would have permitted South to go game.

John Wells Is Chief Speaker At Grange Meet

Mrs. Charles Spencer
(Observer Correspondent)

GRANGE HALL (Special) — John Wells, who has attended every session of the Oregon state legislature since 1911 and plans to attend the next session, was the principal speaker when Blue Mountain grange met Saturday in regular session at the hall. "Study your subject so as to vote intelligently" urged Mr. Wells, when discussing different bills that will be on the ballot at the coming election. The Dunne bills were dwelt upon at some length and quite clearly explained.

County School Superintendent E. A. Sayre spoke briefly on the matter of co-operation between teacher and parents to make good schools. He also explained the benefits of the P.-T. A.

Ralph Hunt, principal of Island City school, made a very interesting talk on the bill that will come before congress in the very near future concerning the revision of the calender.

Mrs. W. F. Gekeler and Mrs. Ed. Eckley each gave a clever reading. The subject of Mrs. Gekeler's article was "Relief for the Farmer" by Will Rogers.

Preceding the lecture hour, L. F. Wright, master of the grange, conducted the usual routine of business. At this time, it was decided that the members of the organization meet with the Ladd Canyon grange Tuesday evening, Oct. 23. Mr. Wright was elected chairman of a committee to arrange for a date with T. K. Bellamy, of the Eastern Oregon Music company for one of his lectures and entertainments.

Mrs. Roy Spencer delightfully entertained the members of the Birthday Dinner club at her home Friday. At 1 o'clock dinner was served at one long table having for its decorations the season's flowers. Places were laid for nine club members and two guests. The afternoon was spent visiting. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. A. McNeil, Nov. 8.
