Degree of Honor Holds Enjoyable Hallowe'en Party

One of the most enjoyable hallowe'en parties held so far this season took place last night when the Degree of Honor members met at their hall.

A Maggie and Jiggs wedding with Mrs. Metcalfe as Maggie and Mrs. Edna Owen as Jiggs, was the cause of much merriment. Lillian Price, as best man, Editha Hermin, as bridesmaid, Mrs. W. D. Warner, as minister, Opal Price as flower girl, Editha Hermin as "daughter," and Mrs. Coleman as ushers, were other participants in the mock ceremony. Mrs. Jack Hatt was the soloist for the wedding and sang an original composition entitled, "Bring Jiggs Home," which was composed by Mrs. Coleman.

Another entertaining stunt was the shopping bureau of information.

Mrs. Minnie Carl, of Baker, the state Degree of Honor president, and Mrs. C. E. Wale, local president, were each presented with a gift in appreciation of their services.

Louise Barnett and Leona Waldron sang two enjoyable solos.

Interesting refreshments were served at tables decorated for the hallowe'en occasion. Hot apples with funny faces in them were served. Mrs. Edna Owen, Mrs. Wale and Mrs. Coleman were members of the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Owen was chairman of the program committee and was largely responsible for the especially interesting evening.

Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Coleman were appointed chairmen of entertainment for the Degree of Honor for the coming year.

The party was attended by a hundred new members that night with 40 present.

Mrs. Owen was invited to give Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hatt at their home on 1306 Washington avenue honoring their son, Harold, on the occasion of his birthday.

The guests who were invited to celebrate the event presented him with a beautiful gift.

Three tables of bridge were in play during the evening with first prize for women going to Mrs.

Doyle Zimmerman and first prize to Mr. Zimmerman.

Following the cards a two-course luncheon was served with refreshments and decorations in keeping with the hallowe'en color scheme of orange and black. Marigolds made attractive bouquets.

The A. O. U. club met last night with Mrs. August Erickson at her May Park home for a very delightful evening. Three tables of bridge were in play during the evening with first prize for high score going to Mrs. Neville Spencer and second to Mrs. Jesse Stiles.

The tables, where a three-course luncheon was served, were covered with white crepe paper table cloths on which had been placed black cards, which on brownists and other hallowe'en decorations.

Farewell Party For MacDowells

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. MacDowell will leave soon for Albany, Ore., where which place they will make their future home. Both have been very active in Presbyterian church affairs in this city for many years and a farewell dinner was given in their honor at the church last evening, by the officers of the church and Sunday school. C. M. Humphreys presided as toast master and after a statement of the reason for calling the meeting called on Dr. E. P. Mossman, who spoke in behalf of the elders of the church of which body Mr. MacDowell was a member for many years. Mrs. Anna Oliver spoke in behalf of the Sunday school of which Mr. MacDowell was superintendent for 15 years, and Mrs. MacDowell a teacher for nearly as long.

E. E. Hurley, accompanied by Mrs. Hurley at the piano, sang two delightful vocal numbers on behalf of the trustees of the church. L. A. Bohnenkamp gave a recital of the great help the two departing friends had been to this department on many occasions. Dr. Mossman in high spoke in behalf of the deacons of the church. For the church at large, the Rev. J. George Wale responded. Answering to the extent of general remarks, Mrs. J. K. Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Today we give Deal T and question 42 in the series of 34 Bridge questions.

Contract No Trump, South Dealer, score love-all. To the first trick West leads the Five of Clubs, Dummy plays the King of Clubs and East the Ace of Clubs. Question No. 42. What card should South play to this trick?

Answer Blank
42. South should play (Make up your mind what the play should be, and fill the blank before you read the answer that follows.)

Answer
42. South should play the King of Clubs.

It matters not whether Dealer plays the King or a small Club on the first trick; he will take only one Club trick as the lead shows that West has the Queen of Clubs. South, with two Heart tricks, one Spade trick and one Club trick, must win five Diamond tricks for no.

His only reasonable chance of running his Diamonds without losing a trick is by starting the lead of the same suit from Dummy with the Ten, and his only chance of getting in Dummy is in the Club suit.

He certainly can make a Club entry in Dummy by playing the King of Clubs on the first trick. The adversaries are almost sure to continue their own suit, but if not, Dealer can do so. He will make one Spade, two Hearts, one Club and two Diamonds if the Diamond suit is not led.

If the King of Diamonds is held by West, Dealer has little chance of making game no matter how he plays; but by the play above given, he catches his game if East has the King of Diamonds, and that of course is an even chance.

MILLINERS MAKE MUFFS UNDER MODERN SYSTEM

PARIS (AP)—Milliners seem to have taken over the furtherance of muffs in modern styles. Muffs are made to match hats trimmed with fur in some of the most exclusive millinery establishments of Paris.

One dressmaking house, which designs millinery also, suggests a new three piece ensemble scheme of muff, hat and fur collar to match.

Modern muffs as a rule are not made entirely of fur, but combine short haired fur and velvet or felt.

The La Grande women. All members are urged to be present.

The Lutheran ladies' Aid will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Arthur Weagle on 2994 Cove avenue. Mrs. Andrew Wright will be assistant pastor.

Hosiery and Hats Are In Style Alliance

By Hazel Reavis (Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS (AP)—Hats, stockings and gloves have struck up a style alliance.

They are combined against the fashionable all-black costume, asserted in terms of beige, approaching sublimity. The beige hats are usually justified by a beige dress under the black coat, or in the case of a black suit by a beige-silk blouse.

Handbags are also included in the combine at times. French women sometimes match hat and handbag, and sometimes gloves and handbag with hats and handbags of bright shades of blue or red. It is the younger French women who are most partial to the sophisticated all black color scheme. Even debutantes sometimes wear plain black ensembles if the line and material is sufficiently youthful.

The beige color scheme for hat, gloves and stockings is used with other colors than black, particularly hunter's green and navy blue.

Reversing the color schemes, a few ultra-fashionable clients of French dressmakers are wearing black hat, gloves and shoes with beige fur coats.

THE GARDEN

PLANT TULIPS IN SUN OR SHADE

Tulips are most accommodating plants as they do equally well planted in sun or shade. There is some advantage to planting the late varieties in the shade as the color is better and does not fade as it often does in full sun. The bloom will be a little later than in full sun but it will last several days longer. An ideal situation is one where the bulbs have morning sun for a little while and are in the shade for the rest of the day.

The delicate pinks and lavender shades are best in shady situations where the full beauty and delicacy of their coloring is best displayed. It applies to considerable extent in full exposure to the sun all day. There are many beautiful tulips in the delicate color tones. One of the finest of these is John Ruskin in rose and cream. In pale blue and yellow is Marie Queen and in fawn pink is the Dawn. The three planted together make a beautiful group in pastel shades.

The lighter-hued tulips make the best display in the garden as the color carries farther than the rich, dark shades which are finer for close inspection. In the dark tulip bulb, Velvet King and Faust are particularly fine. William Pitt is one of the finest of the deep reds. In pinks, Clara Butt and Flamings are two of the fine ones. Clara Butt is one of the latest of the Darwin class to bloom and this fact should be taken account of in arranging color schemes. There is a variation of a week in the season of bloom between the early and the late varieties in full sun and more than that in the shade where they develop more slowly.

Tulip bulbs may be planted as long as the ground can be worked, even as late as Thanksgiving, giving excellent results. Sometimes it is necessary to break the frozen crust of the soil with a pickaxe to put in the bulbs in an unseasonable fall, but the bulbs don't seem to mind in the least and give their full quota of bloom the following spring.

The one cultural requisite is drainage. Tulips stand almost anything but soggy quarters and if water stands on the bed during winter thaws there is likely to be a loss of bulbs from rotting. The best cultural methods call for a raised bed to be certain of drainage but in ordinarily well drained soil it is not necessary.

"A Change of Diet And Scenery"

A La Grande woman expressed appreciation yesterday for the delicious dinner at the Sacajawea. Nothing is quite so pleasant for the woman of the house as to get away occasionally from the monotonous round of meal planning and preparation.

At the Sacajawea she, and the other members of the family, get a happy and most satisfying change. And the good food and pleasant surroundings so appreciated by the individual are also always available for the group, large or small.
