Alpha Club Is Entertained At Reynolds Home

The Alpha club met last night for a delightful dinner bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds on 282 Washington avenue. The ladies were treated to a delicious meal prepared by Mrs. Reynolds. The evening was spent in playing bridge and the club members enjoyed the occasion very much.

delightfully last night at her home on 1616 Sixth street with a party honoring the members of the Triad chorus of the Presbyterian church who have been singing under her direction. Halloween games were played and prizes were given to the winners of the contest. Toasts and refreshments in keeping with the Halloween motif were served. Mrs. Morgan was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Jack Perle.

Farewell Party Given by N. O. W.

The Neighbors of the Woodcraft met last night for a delightful evening held partly in honor of Mrs. O. L. McDonald who will leave soon for Albany, Ore., to make her home, and Mrs. John Parka who will go to Long Beach to live. Both members were presented with farewell gifts in appreciation of their services and of their valued friendship.

Mrs. Arthur Bowen and Mrs. W. H. Reuter entertained yesterday with the third of a series of delightful affairs given this week. At the bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. Reuter on 1504 First street seven tables were in play during the afternoon with first prizes for high score going to Mrs. Clyde Selig, second to Mrs. Howard O'Brien and consolation to Mrs. Chase Holmenkamp.

Mrs. Blanche Prouty, assisted by Mrs. Sarah Young, entertained the So-Se-He club recently at her home on Adams avenue. After the business session the members spent an hour with their needle work and enjoyed games and contests. Refreshments were served. Decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season.

gala event will take place immediately following a short business session. The mother advisor, Mrs. G. N. Tarkington, announces she insists that all members be present for the important event. The committee in charge of the party are hard at work on the arrangements.

Mrs. W. D. McDonald was hostess last night at her home at 1704 Walnut street at a shower commemorating Miss Vera Shaw, of Union, whose marriage to T. C. McDonald will be an event of Nov. 11.

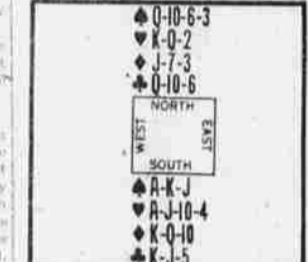

Three tables of bridge were at play during the evening with Miss Bonnie Kusler, of Union, winning the first prize and Mrs. Milton Price winning second prize. The Halloween motif was used in carrying out the decorations, which were very effective. At the close of the games Mrs. McDonald served a lovely three-course luncheon. Miss Shaw received many beautiful and useful gifts.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Continuing our series of Contract Bridge hands in which two partners hold great strength and do all the bidding, we give today and tomorrow powerful No Trump holdings which illustrate the interesting and trying question of whether or not to bid for a slam.

Make up your mind how you would bid the above hands before you read the description which follows.

The Bidding

South should bid three No Trumps. His hand counts a total of 22 (21 is the minimum that justifies an original three No Trump bid) and has the other essential, viz., every suit stopped. The same bid is therefore thoroughly justified.

North, facing a three No Trump holder, with a hand counting 19 and at least one honor in every suit, sees a good chance for a slam. Bidding Aces, North knows that a slam contract will be dangerous unless South has "150 Aces" but a bid of four No Trumps is not apt to be harmful, especially as it will tell South that North has not either the Ace of Diamonds or Ace of Clubs. It gives that message because, with a Minor Ace, North would have started his plan suggestion by bidding four of the Minor, not four No Trumps.

After North's four No Trumps, South passes. He knows that the adversaries have the two Minor Aces and therefore trying for a slam would be fatal. With either of the Minor Aces and North's invitation, South would have been tempted to bid a bit because the remainder of his hand is very strong and he knows that North has great help for a No Trump. It will be noted that North and South can easily make eleven tricks, but must lose the two Aces and consequently cannot make a Small Slam.

YES, SIR, SHE'S A MARVEL!

"Marvel Quivey? That's a good moniker for an actress, but what's the girl's real name?" Folks were always asking that question and they never failed to marvel somewhat skeptically when it was explained that Maryel's real name was Marvel. So when Marvel left the west coast to star in a Broadway production, she determined to change her name to something less "theatrical." So here you see Miss Marceta Manding. Just the same, she's the daughter of Claude E. Quivey, famed miniature painter.

Dr. Hall Speaks At Union On His Way to Baker Co.

By W. V. Connor (Observer Correspondent)

UNION, Ore., (Special)—Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon and vice president, Bart Brown, Barker, were in Union Wednesday and in the afternoon they visited the schools and gave interesting talks to the students of the high school. Miss Mae Stearns, La Grande photographer, was in Union Wednesday securing some pictures of organizations in the high school. Among those included in the group pictures were the football, basketball, student body officers, and the staff officers of the school publication, the "U.H."

A Halloween dance will be sponsored by the commercial club on Friday night of this week.

The Hebrew lodge has secured a comedy entitled "Twelve Old Maids" and with a cast of sixteen members they are preparing to play for the County Association meeting which will be held here on the evening of Nov. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Courtwright and children, including the triplets, left Wednesday for Portland and the coast where they will visit for a short time with Mrs. Courtwright's mother. The family made the trip by auto. They were accompanied as far as Portland by Miss May Gamble, of Union. The Courtwrights live on a ranch northeast of Union.

A motion picture depicting the result of the use of intoxicants was presented Wednesday evening at the Methodist church with the Rev. Mr. Close giving a lecture in connection with the picture. The meeting was well attended.
