Ballots To Be Put Away Soon For Long Sleep

What happens to the ballots which voters put into the ballot boxes at election time? Are they buried, thrown into the waste paper basket, or what? The riddle is answered thus: The ballots after they are counted, are put into the ballot box from which they were taken and are locked securely within the box and are put in the basement of the Union county court house where their only visitors are the rats, mice and dust. They hibernates in that fashion until the next election when they must give way to the new ballots cast by the American citizenry.
By noon 28 ballot boxes had been turned into County Clerk McCormick's office and by evening it is expected that practically all of the 74 boxes will have been received there.
Just because the polls closed at 8 o'clock and the votes were all counted by early afternoon today doesn't mean that the work on the vote tabulation is ended.
It would be nice for those concerned if it were the end, but as long as the present election laws of the state of Oregon are to be honored and obeyed, it is decreed that the officials in the office of the county clerk must check all the tally sheets which in itself a job which will take about two days of hard labor.
They must also make a summary of all the votes cast in each precinct for all offices. One copy of this summary is forwarded to the secretary of state and another is entered in the election records of the county.
At each of the 27 precincts in Union county are two ballot boxes, one for the national election and the other for those who voted merely the local ticket.
When the tally sheets are checked it is done by the county clerk plus one man from the democratic and one from the republican party appointed by Mr. McCormick. This body is known as the canvassing board.
It is possible that the checking process will be started tomorrow at the court house.

Here's Miss Ruth Roth as she trained her entries in a Los Angeles turtle race by setting the pace on her bicycle. An 80-foot circle was laid out for the race, the winner being the first to reach its circumference after starting from the center.

Club Women To Ask Naming Of Woman As Judge

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7 (AP)—A large group of club women and prominent social workers will petition Governor Patterson for the appointment of Mary Jane Spurlin as judge of the court of domestic relations in the event of the recall of Richard Deich, the incumbent.
When the recall of Judge Deich seemed assured by the count of votes completed of noon today, workers in behalf of Miss Spurlin at once gave out the announcement, declaring that they wished to be the first to reach Governor Patterson with petitions for Miss Spurlin's appointment.
Mrs. S. M. Blumhauer is one of the leaders of the movement. Others are Mrs. Elliott Corbett, Mrs. George Gerlinger, Mrs. C. V. Ross, Miss Lena Baxter, Mrs. Fredrick Strong, Miss Emma Debraulle, Mrs. Chas. Carver Jr., Mrs. Elvada B. Hayes, Miss Eleanor Thompson, Mrs. George Perkins and Mrs. Willamette McElroy.
For a short time Miss Spurlin served as a judge of one of the district courts by appointment of Governor Pierce.
Miss Spurlin's candidacy will be emphasized in Governor Patterson through letters, petitions and personal calls, said Mrs. Blumhauer.

NO UPSET IN STATE COUNT OF BALLOTS

turns from 287 precincts out of 487 counted. Huffer had 18,204; Alvord, 12,238; Walter C. Cundell, socialist labor, had 527.
In the third district Franklin E. Karel, republican incumbent, had a substantial lead. With 274 precincts out of 472 reported, the vote stood: Karel 34,419; W. C. Clifton, democrat 13,898; A. H. Berglund, socialist labor, 1762; Albert Bluff, socialist-independent, 1708.
Others Elected.
Increasing totals were registered for the republican candidates for state offices who were elected: Hal R. Ross, secretary of state; I. H. Van Winkle, attorney general; Justice John L. Bond, and George Rossmann, of the supreme court; Thomas H. Kay, state treasurer and John D. Mickle, dairy and food commissioner.
Except for a state income tax measure, which was passing by a narrow margin, all the initiative measures on the ballot were overwhelmingly beaten. Those included a five cent gasoline tax; reduction of motor vehicle license fee; a measure limiting the power of the legislature; and initiative bills passed by the people, and bills giving, however, in the house. They took one of Philadelphia's prize republican districts in defeating James M. Beck, former solicitor general, a republican from the first Pennsylvania district. They beat a Democrat, Harry Baker, to succeed the late Martin Madden, stalwart republican from the first Illinois district. Baker defeated Oscar To Priest, a negro republican candidate. Jeremiah E. O'Connor, a democrat, took the post of Representative Monah, of Rhode Island, and Louis Ludlow, a Washington newspaperman, upset normally republican Indianapolis to defeat his republican opponent, Representative Updike.

Curtis Gratified With Vote Result

CHICAGO, Nov. 7 (AP)—Informed of the republican landslide, which will end in victory about the town which is carrying him to Washington, Vice President Charles Curtis exclaimed: "that's great" as a smile beamed over his face.
"I am gratified with the returns," the senator said. "Mr. Hoover made a wonderful campaign. Personally I am grateful to the American people for the splendid endorsement given the republican ticket."

Raskob Scored By Dan Moody

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 6 (AP)—John J. Raskob, manager of the democratic national campaign was criticized in a statement issued here tonight by Governor Dan Moody, which said that the popular vote given Smith was "a magnificent endorsement of the attitude or ideals prevailing in the south or west. The statements which he persisted in issuing had a tendency to drive votes from the democratic party, which all the regular democrats in the south could not overcome."
