HORNSBY TO BE IN CUB UNIFORM

Rajah Sold for Five Players and Sum That May Have Been $200,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, the transient star of National league baseball, will not be seen in a Chicago Cub uniform.

Five players and a large sum of money, perhaps the largest amount ever involved in a baseball deal, will go to the Boston Braves in exchange for the "Rajah," who has worn the uniforms of three clubs in the past three years.

The long rumored deal, which gave the Cubs the National league's leading hitter, was completed last night in a telephone conversation between President W. L. Veeck of the Chicago club and Judge Emil E. Fuchs, president of the Braves.

May Be $200,000

President Veeck refused to divulge the exact sum of money involved, but intimated it was between $150,000 and $200,000. The highest price previously paid for a player was $127,000, given by the New York Yankees to the Boston Red Sox for Babe Ruth in 1920.

True to President Veeck's statement that the Cub team would not be wrecked to get Hornsby, only two regulars were included in the transaction. One was Freddie Maguire, who was moved to make room for Hornsby at second base, and the other was Percy Jones, veteran southpaw. The other three players were Louis Leggett, rookie catcher recalled from the Cubs' farm at Reading, Pa.; Harry Seibold, a recruit hurler who starred with the Reading club last season, and Bruce Cunningham, a pitcher acquired from Los Angeles.

It is probable the Cubs will take over Hornsby's Boston contract, which calls for an annual salary of approximately $40,000.

Hornsby made his major league debut in 1915, coming up from the Dallas, Tex., club for a reported $500.

In 1922 he set a league home run mark of 42 and in 1924 a major league batting record of .424. He wound up the past season with an average of .387 and only twice since joined the majors has he finished below the .300 mark.

Will He Do?

Here's the young man most baseball critics think will take over Bucky Harris' job as second base man for the Washington Senators next summer. He is Jack Hayes, a product of the University of Alabama and a member of the Senators for the past two years.

Cougars Ready To Face Bruins Next Saturday

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 8 (AP)—Determined to advance their standing in the conference percentage columns at the expense of the University of California at Los Angeles, the Washington State football team is primed to unleash all its fury on the Bruins from the south in their game at the Portland Multnomah stadium Saturday. Coach Babe Hollingbery spent this week tuning the Cougars to full speed and he intends to use everything in his march toward the top of the conference ladder.

While he has not indicated what brand of ball his team will use Saturday, Coach Hollingbery will probably direct his heavy eleven to wear down the lighter Californians in straight football. The Cougars have an abundance of power which forms a destructive weapon. The W. S. C. defense has been polished to ward off the anticipated aerial game of the Uclans and to force them to less open work.

Coach Bill Spaulding with a squad of 25 men left Los Angeles last night for Portland.

California Team En Route Today For Washington

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 8 (AP)—Forty-two members of the University of California football team, headed by Coach "Nibs" Price, were bound for Seattle, the stronghold of Washington's Huskies today, to clash with the northerners Saturday in a conference encounter.

The Bears left here last night and will arrive in Seattle in time for a workout there Friday. All of the Bears are in fairly good condition, but it is doubtful if Benny Lom, sensational halfback, will be able to play.

Lom was badly shaken up in the Oregon game last week and it is likely that Coach Price will keep him out of the Husky encounter to save him for the big game with Stanford University on November 24.

The gridders are accompanied by 63 members of the California band, and a host of Bear supporters.

St. Paul Boxer To Recover, Belief

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Billy Showers, St. Paul boxer, will recover from injuries received in a battle with Shuffle Callahan Monday, but his fighting days in Illinois are ended.

The Illinois state athletic commission yesterday revoked Shower's license, stating that the St. Paul middleweight was not physically fit to continue in the game.

BIG GAMES LOOM NEXT SATURDAY

Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech to Meet; Army to Tackle Notre Dame

By Brian Bell
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK (AP)—In football games Saturday, November 10, the players will go out determined to do better than they did last year. In seven important games on this date last season ties resulted and Saturday will give the battling elevens an opportunity to reach a decision 12 months late.

Johns Hopkins slipped up on Columbia's blind side to score a 7 to 7 draw, and Cornell was rudely shocked by a 6 to 6 tie with St. Bonaventure. Syracuse found no relish in a game with Ohio Wesleyan ending with the same score. This same Ohio Wesleyan team started its 1928 season by defeating Michigan, first of a series of reverses for the Wolverines. Neither Pittsburg nor Washington and Jefferson has scored on the other since 1925 when Pitt won 6 to 0. Two scoreless ties followed.

Minnesota and Indiana fought out a gruelling 14 to 14 game, a verdict that cost the Gophers a share in the 1927 Big Ten championship. In the south a year ago Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt played all afternoon without either mustering enough drive to score and the same day Tulane and Auburn quit with the count 6 to 6.

Army and Notre Dame playing their annual game at New York will find the Cadets a heavy choice, but Army won last year 18 to 0, when Notre Dame entered the game a favorite. Boston should see the fur fly when Boston College plays Fordham, a natural rivalry being intensified by the position of Major F. W. Cavanaugh, Fordham coach, who formerly coached Boston. A sharp engagement should be waged in contrast to an easy victory for Bostonians last year.

Dartmouth defeated Brown 13 to 7 at their last meeting, but may not be able to do it again. Pennsylvania ran roughshod over Harvard in 1927, but the score should be closer than 24 to 0 Saturday.

Michigan and Navy, both off to bad starts, have improved and should have a pretty battle at Baltimore. There was plenty of scoring last November when Michigan won 27 to 12.

Carnegie Tech and Georgetown will give the fans of Albany, N. Y., a treat, playing a game a bit out of the beaten football path.

Two Southern teams engage Eastern opponents when Maryland travels to New Haven to meet Yale and Washington and Lee invades Princeton for a bout with the Tiger. Yale beat Maryland last year 30 to 0, and Princeton won from the Generals 13 to 0.

Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt flushed with success, meet in Atlanta in a game that may have an important bearing on the Southern Conference race. Another great battle in prospect for Dixie is the Georgia-Florida game, won last year by Georgia 28 to 0. The story is different this November. The Alligators are stronger than they were then and the Bulldogs have lost some of their bite.

The annual meeting of the two Carolinas—North and South—will be interesting, for this contest is always close. South Carolina won in 1927, 14 to 6.

Texas will grow excited over the battle of the Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist. The Aggies rode the Mustangs hard last year, winning 28 to 13, but this is another year.

A game to be reckoned with in computing Western Conference title figures will be played between Iowa and Ohio State at Columbus. The Buckeyes were able to win their last encounter with the Hawkeyes 13 to 6. The Minnesota-Indiana game seems certain to be a terrific struggle. Chicago won from Wisconsin 12 to 0 last year, but the followers of A. A. Stagg are having their troubles now and Wisconsin will be the favorite.

Nebraska and Oklahoma, who did not meet last year, should have a hard battle of it, and Missouri and the Kansas Aggies will be busy also.

In the far West California and Washington play with a thought of a 6 to 0 victory for Washington in their last encounter and Stanford has a reverse at the hands of Santa Clara, 13 to 6, to consider. Colorado will be in a state of civil war from a football standpoint with Colorado College playing Colorado Mines and Colorado Aggies meeting the University of Colorado.

Owen J. Roberts Quits Oil Position

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—President Coolidge accepted today the resignation of Owen J. Roberts, special counsel for the United States in the oil cases, effective immediately.

In his letter of accepting the resignation, President Coolidge expressed gratitude on behalf of the government "for the fidelity and energy with which you have prosecuted these cases, which have returned to the United States all the property in question and many millions of dollars in money."

GRID PLAYER WINS ELECTION

GREEN BAY, Wis., Nov. 8 (AP)—The next district attorney of Brown county will be a professional football player. Vernon "V" Lewellyn, halfback of the Green Bay Packers of the National league, was elected on the republican ticket Tuesday.

Cardinals to Play Santa Clara Next

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 8 (AP)—The second and third football teams of the Stanford varsity grid squad, after holding the spotlight yesterday in a scrimmage for the school's student body, prepared to retire to the background today while the first team reviewed practice for the University of Santa Clara game here Saturday.

Hodge Lovidsen, end on the first string who was injured in the Southern California game Saturday, was back in practice yesterday, his injury not having proved nearly as serious as at first supposed. Spud Harder, another end, was still out of a uniform, however, with his bad knee giving him trouble.

The Cardinals clash with Santa Clara in a non-conference engagement.
