MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST — Baked greening apples, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, creamed potatoes, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Macaroni and chicken timbales, stewed tomatoes, brown bread, sliced bananas, ginger cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Casserole of mutton chops and vegetables, head lettuce with Russian dressing, raisin pie, milk, coffee.

The wise housekeeper uses her jellies and jams with discretion. For the dinner of strong flavored meat and vegetables, such as this one is, choose a distinctly tart jelly or jam. Put it on the table for the one meal and then put what is left away, closely covered in a cool place for several days. If too little is left for a second serving use it for garnishing or in jelly sandwiches.

Macaroni and Chicken Timbales

One-half to ¾ cup broken macaroni, ⅔ cup finely chopped cold cooked chicken, 1 egg, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2-3 cup milk, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water. Chop in very small pieces and mix thoroughly with chopped chicken. Beat egg well with salt, paprika and milk. Add to first mixture with parsley and mix well. Turn into buttered individual molds. Place molds in pan, surround with boiling water and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes, or until firm to the touch. Turn out of molds onto a hot platter to serve. AT THE THEATERS

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Is Coming Here

One of the greatest productions in the history of motion pictures, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will have its La Grande premiere at the Arcade theater Wednesday.

Over $2,000,000 was spent in the making of Universal's photo-dramatization of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, taking nineteen months for the actual filming. More than five thousand players appear in the massive production in support of a cast of all-star magnitude.

Harry Pollard, the director of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," fulfilled a life-long ambition when he completed the production. Probably no other picture has had the extensive preparation of this one, Pollard having spent eleven years in research. It was in 1914 that Pollard knew he would some day direct his masterpiece and every waking hour since then, when he was not engaged upon other pictures, was devoted to plans for the making of "Uncle Tom."

Extensive trips by artisans and craftsmen were made throughout the entire South for eight months prior to commencement of filming in order that historical, atmospheric and physical details might be authentic.

The most pretentious sets ever erected were constructed at Universal City, exact replicas of actual homes in the South being made for the Shelby, St. Clare and Legree plantations as well as the many other interesting and unusual settings.

The poignant love story of Eliza and George permeates the massive production, a beautiful contrast to the epic sweep of the powerful story.

The cast is a noted one, headed by such famous artists as Margarita Fischer, Arthur Edmund Carew, George Siegmann, Lucien Littlefield, John Roche, Gertrude Astor, Nelson McDowell, James B. Lowe, and a host of others.

"Law and Man" At Colonial Is Unusual Drama

With a new twist to the eternal triangle, "The Law and the Man", Rayart's new drama from the Octavus Roy Cohen story, "False Fires", has come to the Colonial for Sunday only.

The plot centers about the political situation in a community which is ruled by one Dan Creedon, who is in love with Margaret Grayson, a woman attorney, though she in turn has only a warm friendship for Dan, and has announced her engagement to Ernest Vane, a young architect, member of an aristocratic but poverty stricken family and with a personality which is rather warped in many respects. Dan who lets nothing stand in the way of his desires, sets out to prove to Margaret in his own fashion that she was meant for him. He makes her District Attorney, then through political intrigue he dishonors the name of Vane, who is accused of forgery. Then Margaret has to decide between love and duty, for as District Attorney she has to prosecute her fiance or betray the trust placed in her by the townspeople.

As the case progresses Vane is shown up as the weakling he is, while Margaret comes to realize that she has always loved Dan. But Creedon is caught in the meshes of his own intrigue, and to save Margaret from public dishonor he perjures himself and is indicted. Both Vane and Dan are guilty, but before Dan is put into jail Margaret succeeds in getting a truthful account of the whole procedure and Dan is free to marry Margaret.

Tom Santschi handles the role of Creedon with exceptional ability, while Gladys Brockwell plays Margaret with distinction. Robert Ellis, Florence Turner and Tom Ricketts also do splendid work.

Charlie Murray In Natural Role of Cop

Charlie Murray played cops in Mack Sennett's Keystone comedies for years. But in feature pictures, oddly enough, he has seldom been seen in the role of a blue coated guardian of the peace. However, he is a policeman in "Do Your Duty" his new First National comedy coming to the Star Theatre Sunday.

Murray is one of the veterans of the screen but is still a robust, hearty man, with a wonderful amount of that quality known as personality.

He is regarded as the raconteur par excellence of Hollywood and no great premiere or civic affair is considered perfect without Charlie as the toastmaster.

His fund of stories is unlimited and he has the gift of repartee to the nth degree.

"Do Your Duty" is a funny and at the same time human story. Doris Dawson is leading woman and William Beaudine directed the film.

"Wreck of the Hesperus" Coming To the Arcade

Augmenting what is admitted to be one of the most catchy titles ever given a motion picture, Longfellow's "The Wreck of the Hesperus," is a cast which is unusually strong and well balanced.

Elmor Clifton, who directed the production, as a DeMille special, selected for the romantic leading roles Frank Marion and Virginia Bradford, a duo who first scored conspicuously in "The Country Doctor." Marion and Miss Bradford, virtually "unknowns" until their appearance in that production, by virtue of their performances in this story of the trials of the rural practitioner, have won popular favor.

Assuring comedy for "The Wreck of the Hesperus," which comes to the Arcade theater on Sunday, Alan Hale, erstwhile screen "bad man" essays a role of the Wallace Beery type, Sam DeGrasse, in the role of the "skipper," renders a virile character role, while Ethel Wales, Francis Ford, Josephine Norman and Bud Fine also figure conspicuously in character portrayals. James Aldine and Milton Holmes, in juvenile roles, complete the cast.

Be Careful of the Telephone Cord

Probably you don't know it, but your telephone cord is not merely a wire, but a delicate, stranded tinsel, covered with a protection of silk and cotton. It can't stand much twisting without being so seriously impaired that your connection gets cut off or else it works in a broken, haphazard way.

And yet some people let their telephone cord get so badly twisted up that it looks like a nest of angleworms.

It's an easy matter to keep out the kinks and get better service out of your 'phone.
