Mrs. F. L. Ralston Entertains Art Research Club

Mrs. F. L. Ralston was hostess to the members of the Art Research Club at her home yesterday afternoon at 405 S. Lincoln. Mrs. E. M. Jackson had charge of the program and read an interesting paper on "Painting".

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Marie Dec. 2 with Mrs. H. E. Olson and Mrs. Lloyd Pierce in charge of the program.

A centerpiece which was a large oval-shaped squash hollowed out and filled with a moist and thick with fruit was the main feature of the attractive decorations on the table at the home of Mrs. Marie Dec. 2 on Washington avenue yesterday when she entertained the Wakelind bridge club of cards and bridge.

The decorations were carried out to the harvest season motif with place cards and favors following the same scheme.

Mrs. Chester Koyte was awarded high score prize for bridge. Mrs. W. D. McClure received second and Mrs. H. W. Jolley was awarded guest prize.

A business meeting was held during part of the afternoon. Mrs. Bert Hug and Mrs. J. L. Brandt were appointed to take charge of the filling of a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family of the city.

The next meeting of the club will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. Broomfield at 1512 oak street.

"Oregon Art and Music" was the theme of the program given by the Daughters of Utah Pioneers at a meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Bean at 1501 Washington avenue when Mrs. Mary Bean was hostess.

A poem, "Buckaroo", written by Bert Huffman, of La Grande, was given by Mrs. George Lyman. The poem won the prize at the unveiling of the Klondike monument at Portland a number of years ago.

A book review of "Behind the Ranges", by Abner Shattuck Monroe, given by Mrs. George Chadwick, was another feature of the program.

Mrs. Elwood Guellich conducted a ten-minute parliamentary law drill.

A quartet in which Mrs. W. A. Bean, Mrs. Ross Anderson, Mrs. Cline Clegg and Mrs. Jack Hiatt participated, sang three Oregon songs, including the original song of the Pappleton Round-Up, the original Portland 1820 exposition song and the Oregon state song.

Episcopal Bazaar Very Successful

With more than $1000 net raised during the day the Episcopalian church Christmas bazaar held last Saturday was one of the most successful ever sponsored by the Guild society. Mrs. H. A. Zurbick was chairman of the annual event.

The gift booth in charge of Mrs. L. K. Kinzel took in more than half the total amount raised. The candy booth headed by Mrs. Westenhaver also brought fine results. The "surprise tree" conducted by Mrs. J. H. Slater, was a novel feature of the bazaar.

Forty-eight children, members of the beginning department of the Presbyterian Sunday school, enjoyed a party sponsored by the superintendent, Mrs. J. George Wain, and her staff of teachers, Mrs. McKinstry, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Berta, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Walter Palmer, last Saturday afternoon at the old home of the church.

Games were played including an animal hunt which created a great deal of merriment. Ice cream and mal cookies and candy were served for refreshments.

The members of the Oliver Mortimer Relief Corps, No. 37, met at the K. P. hall on Saturday. Dinner was served to about 50 members after which a program was given which included a piano solo by Valeria Harper and a vocal solo by Miss Myrtle Wilcock accompanied by the philharmonic orchestra. Mrs. Lydia Grandy, who is a member of the Betsy Ross Society, gave an interesting talk on her visit to the home of Betsy Ross, Effie Blanchard, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Hess gave a violin solo.

The daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War presented each member of the G. A. R. with a red carnation, in recognition of "Grand Army Day". Mrs. Laura Braden, president of the Relief Corps, was also presented with a carnation.

The committee in charge of the program included: Mrs. F. Plank, Mrs. Laura Rhodes, Mrs. Julius Kroeger, Mrs. Fride Stines, Mrs. Ella Smith, Mrs. P. E. Rohan, Mrs. Hansen, and Mrs. Ella Rynearson.

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met last night at the Christian church. After the regular business meeting, a program was held in commemoration of Grand Army Day, which is observed every year. Miss Marion Nelson gave Lincoln's address and Ed Brown, commander of the Veterans, and A. P. Nelson, secretary, each talked.

Officers for the coming year were as follows: Mrs. Jesse Nelson, re-elected president. Mrs. Laura Rhodes acting vice. Mrs. Lucy Buhl, junior vice; Mrs. H. M. Bradshaw, treasurer and Mrs. Maryetta Yeck, chairman.

The program ended with the singing of America, after which refreshments were served by a committee.

The Christian Endeavor society members of the First Presbyterian church of La Grande were hosts to a group of 15 members of the society of the Elgin Christian church Sunday night at a special meeting.

The Endeavor meeting and part of the regular church service were merged for the program. The Rev. J. George Wain, pastor of the Presbyterian church, gave an interesting sermon on "Communion with Books".

Miss Margaret Anson talked on "Stewardship". Musical numbers were also featured.

SUFFRAGETTE

A MAN, famous among his friends for his fine cooking, was asked the secret of his delicious boiled ham. He gave this simple recipe: Put a cupful of sugar in the water that boils an average size ham. Also one-half cup of vinegar. Try this and see how much it improves the taste and flavor of the ham.

Every good cook knows that there is no substitute for sugar in improving the enjoyment of other foods. Whether in preparing fresh vegetables, fruits or meats, sugar is the secret of successful cookery.

Sweetness is nature's perfect flavor. It is also the cheapest nutriment that you can buy.

Health comes from eating good foods, flavored to please the taste. Beware of extreme reducing diets. They are dangerous. Eminent medical authorities warn us that permanent injury often results from starvation diets.

Be sure that you and your children are properly nourished. Eat enough of varied foods, sweetened for enjoyment. The Sugar Institute.

Here is a striking portrait of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, the next "first lady," which emphasizes her tastes for simplicity. She cares little for brilliant social events and wears no jewelry, but loves flowers, paintings and books.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Continuing the series of twenty-five Bridge questions which are being given on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week, we give today Deal D and one interesting question concerning it.

Deal D

South led three Spades initially and was not overcalled. The hands of North (Dummy) and East are as follows:

To trick 1, West led the King of Diamonds. North played the Deuce, East the Nine, and South the Four.

To trick 2, West led the Five of Diamonds, North played the Ten, East the Ace, and South the Six.

QUESTION No. 7. What card should East lead to trick 3? (Fill the blank before you read the answer that follows.)

Answer Blank

7. To Trick 3, East should lead

The Answer

7. To trick 3, East should lead the Ace of Clubs.

East knows that his partner has the Queen of Diamonds (West opened with the King) and that if the initial lead was from King-Queen and one other Diamond, a third Diamond trick can be won. It is much more probable, however, that West led from four Diamonds, in which case, if a third Diamond should be led, South trumping it, doubtless would be able to exhaust all the trumps (in view of South's preempting bid he probably has solid trumps), and then obtain discards on Dummy's hearts. To save the game it would seem to be essential for the adversaries to take four tricks before South obtains the lead. If East leads the Ace of Clubs to trick 3, the side

Good Home Life Important, Judge Tells P.-T. Group

"Ninety per cent of delinquent children are the products of broken homes. Such children come from homes which have been broken by divorce, death or illness. With every child problem there is a parent problem." These statements were made by Judge T. M. Schunmeyer of Bend, at the regional convention of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers held at Pendleton Nov. 14, 15 and 16. His talk was one of the many given by well known educators and welfare workers which caused the delegates to the conference to furnish their own knowledge of problems, solutions and trends in the field of child education.

A delegation of La Grande parents and teachers attended the conference and brought back with them many new ideas for "Education for Life and Life's Needs," which was the theme of the three day session.

"People should be as eager to get the best training in the spiritual side of life as they are to receive the best general education," the Rev. W. W. Hamilton, bishop of the Eastern Oregon diocese, said in an address on "The Spiritual Side of Our Lives." People seem slow to realize the need of spiritual development as part of the solution in the problems of training children, he pointed out.

"The aim of education is to produce good citizens," stated H. E. Jones, superintendent of the Pendleton school. "Educational intelligence is a long way in showing the needs of training in schools but they do not pleasure the child's mind and heart, that of good citizenship. Self education itself but the use to which it is put is the final measurement of its success."

The desire for a slim boyish figure is in part responsible for the high death rate of persons between 15 and 24, said Mrs. Sallie Ordway of Portland, secretary of the state tuberculosis association, who reported on the progress made in the United States in lowering the general death rate. Fewer persons die now except in that age period, from illness than a few years ago in proportion to the population, she said, pointing out the fact that the age between 15 and 24 is still the troublesome period in which little improvement is noted.

The cause for the high mortality rate is lack of proper nutrition and many cases of death are traceable to that cause.

The work of the kindergarten teacher was discussed at the convention and a resolution was passed favoring the presentation of a bill at a future session of the state legislature whereby teachers in this pre-school work would be required to have at least two years preparation.

The average person in the United States has an eighth grade training. This level has been raised from the sixth grade level within the last few years, said N. M. Leby, of the Oregon State college, in a talk on "Character Development."

Mrs. E. D. Towler, of La Grande, teacher in the Greenwood school and publicity chairman of the Parent-Teacher association in the city, was the principal speaker Friday afternoon at the publicity discussion session. Mrs. Towler discussed the work of publicity for parent-teacher groups.

The entertainment features of the conference were unusually good. It was stated by the delegates who attended. A journey to the new $2000 cabin built by the Pendleton campfire girls on the Umatilla river 12 miles from Pendleton was made. Interesting trips were also made to the state institutions located in the Round-Up city.

A memorial service was given honoring the late Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, "Congress Mother," who was for many years one of the most active members of the parent-teacher movement. Mrs. C. F. McPherson, of La Grande, and Mrs. M. J. Brown, of Clackamas county, had charge of the service, which included the singing of Mrs. Hawkins' favorite hymn, "He Leadeth Me." Mrs. McPherson gave a eulogy on Mrs. Hawkins' life and work.

The art exhibit arranged by the Pendleton schools and the music demonstration also by them, were very fine, it was reported.

Governor Issues Turkey Day Paper

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 20 (AP)—Governor Patterson yesterday issued the annual Thanksgiving proclamation.

"Let us on this day give thought to man's fellowship with nature in achieving the fruits of the harvest," it concludes. "Let us maintain and strengthen the ties of family life and renew the bond of hearty and home. Let us express our gratitude for peace by expending the spirit of goodwill to all the world, and for prosperity by lending generous and sturdy aid to those in sorrow or need; let us give thanks for manifold material blessings by turning our minds and hearts to the things of the spirit."

LONDON LIKES JACKIE

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The film fame of Jackie Coogan inspired a big audience before his first appearance on the London stage last night but it had to be seen whether he would make good to the satisfaction of his English admirers. Judging from the reception he got, he did.

"We've Enjoyed The Evening So Much!"

But what did they say on their way home? Even the most sympathetic of your friends have a way of comparing notes afterwards. The clothes you wore, the furnishings of the room, the food you served—each comes in for its share of the inevitable post-party conversation.

There is a way of keeping informed in those little things that catalogue your degree of smartness. It is through reading the advertisements, those messengers that bring news of the precise purchase to make. Advertisements lay before you the latest notes in dress. They illustrate the newest decorative treatments for the home. They furnish you with unique and tempting recipes for the table.

They advise you what to buy, how much it will cost, and where you can get it. They point out the pathway to saving pennies. They indicate the correct surroundings of a modern home.
