FOUL GIVES WING WIN IN ROUND 3

Semi-final Ends When Unfair Blow Gives Woodfin Victory

Weldon "Tuffy" Wing, Portland scrapper who fights at 145 pounds, won from Kirby Johnson, of Boise, Idaho, on a foul in the scheduled 16-round headliner last night at the opening of the Jefferson avenue arena. The deciding punch came in the third round, when Johnson hit Wing low in second time, following a warning issued by Referee G. J. Scott earlier in the fight.

Up until then Wing was giving Johnson a boxing lesson, although his left leads to the Gem State man's face were in no way staggering. Johnson's face was red from the many jabs but he kept driving in, attempting to land a solid smash on the elusive Oregonian. Johnson appeared heavier than his opponent.

Another Foul
Proceeding the main event, another bout—the semi-final six-rounder—also wound up in a foul with Bud Woodfin, of Baker, getting the referee's nod after Cliff Parrie, of Walla Walla had tipped a low punch that put Bud down for a ten-count. The result was not announced until Woodfin was examined by a physician, who said he found evidence of a foul.

Up until the fourth round, when the fight ended, both boys were mistaking it up with first ends and then the other holding a slight advantage.

Three Prelims
Three preliminaries left the fans in good humor for the final matches. Brick Anderson, of La Grande, got a draw from Eddie Collins, of Salt Lake City, Collins heavier than his usual fighting weight, was unable to ward off most of Brick's leads and counters. McKim, of Baker, referee this match.

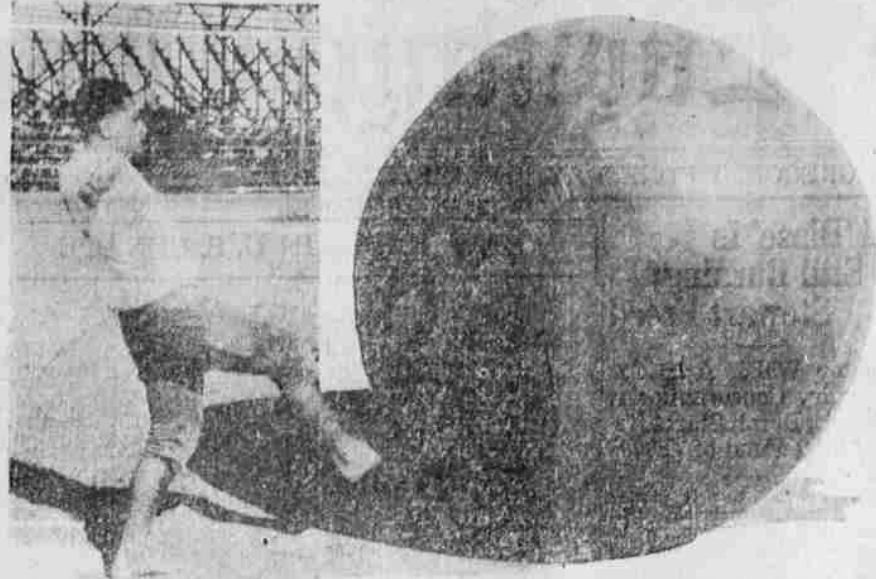

Eck Worden won his scrap with Vernon Coleman just one minute and 55 seconds after they shook hands, when he sank a body punch that doubled Coleman to the canvas for the count. Until then, the boys were fighting an even term.

Orval Anderson won over Leroy Edmunds, a negro, on a technical knockout in the fourth round, after flooring Edmunds numerous times during the last three frames. This was a snappy bout in spite of the superiority shown by Anderson. The boys fought at 118 pounds.

Last night's card was the first of the season to be held in the Jefferson avenue arena. While the house was not filled to capacity, a fair crowd was in attendance.

Henry (Honi) Hughes is by way of being a big football figure at Oregon State college this year—in fact, the Hawaiian is counted as one of the Angles' mainstays, after his great showing as a freshman. He's a triple threat and then some, as he receives, carries the ball, is good interference and a fine defensive back. In addition, he points, too, around 20 yards, now that he's getting more used to playing with shoes on. Photo shows him doing a bit of barefoot work.

New A. A. U. Head
To Hew to Line
On Amateurism

By P. G. Voshburgh
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—A firm hand, one which only a decade ago was being used to bust 56-pound weights and hammer, is to guide the Amateur Athletic Union through the coming year.

Taking office as president shortly before the 48th annual convention came to a close, Avery Brundage of Chicago made it clear at once that the amateur rules are in for strict enforcement.

"It is not the rules that are at fault," he said, "but the administration of them."

Chatting informally, he brought up the cases of athletes who have grown in ability in say tennis or track to such a point that they are wanted in all sections of the country.

His Idea on "Pro"
"Undoubtedly," he said, "Tilden has done the sport of tennis a great deal of good whether he is an amateur or not. About the merits of his case I know little."

"But my personal opinion is that unless a man has some source of income, some regular employment, outside of sport, he is a professional."

Promoters who offer financial rewards to amateur athletes are largely responsible for violations of the code, the new president added, indicating that a tight rein will be kept upon them.

The only move made by the convention during its session here to make the amateur rules more strict was adoption of a rule making a man ineligible as an amateur for exploiting his athletic prowess whether or not he actually receives compensation for so doing.

There is diplomacy as well as iron in the makeup of the new head of the A. A. U. he hopes to break down the antagonism of the western conference colleges and the National Collegiate A. A. which have not allied with the organization, by winning the support and interest of former college athletes from that sector, like himself. His own unanimous election was a triumph for this plan of conciliation which is expected to make the A. A. U. a more unified and effective body.

A 200-inch telescope is to be built on Mt. Wilson. Maybe they are trying to help Tex Rickard to find a new champion who will draw a million-dollar gate.

WALLA WALLA IS EXPECTING WIN

Report from Washington
City Shows Blue Devils to Be Confident

Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock sharp, Walla Walla and La Grande high school elevens will meet in interstate combat on the La Grande high gridiron. This is the only out-of-district game for the Tigers this year and hopeful of a victory the squad is going through some strenuous preparations this week.

The Tigers, with a successful season behind them—marked by only one defeat, will go into the game underdogs—particularly in the eyes of the Blue Devils.

A headline in Monday's Walla Walla Bulletin said: "Hope Says Wa-Hi 56 Points Better."

And the story went as follows: "Were it not for the way that football teams the country over have been booting the dope bucket, even going so far as to stick both feet in the effort, Wa-Hi football fans might look forward to an easy win this Saturday when the Blue Devils travel over the mountains to meet La Grande. Figuring in such wise however, is dangerous and unsound."

"The dopester who is still willing to use comparative scores as the one and only basis for his judgment, will find plenty of thought in looking over the records of the two teams. The only aggregation met by Walla Walla and La Grande is McLoughlin high of Milton, Prosser."

Mac-Hi Beat La Grande

"What did each of these squads do with the Pioneers? La Grande came up to the Twin Cities fired with the possibility of winning the Eastern Oregon championship after its defeat of Enterprise. When the down state boys led for home once more, their hopes had been completely blasted by a stunning 39 to 6 tramping that had been no fluke.

"That game was played on October 15. Just a matter of 17 days later, Wa-Hi had to fight with everything it had to defeat Mac-Hi, 12 to 6. The locals then still going by the reasoning of the comparative score dopester, are at least 51 points better than their next opponents. Not so bad."

"Rolling up those 51 points or more, will be something of a task for the Blue Devils. La Grande, since its drubbing at the hands of Mac-Hi, has found out that it can win over some better than mediocre competition, having downed Baker by a 14 to 0 score. With that much confidence added, and a desire to show that they are a different team than the Pioneers pummeled, the La Grande outfit is very likely to make the going tough for the Blue and White."

Blue Devils in Shape
"One advantage that the Blue Devils will have this week, unless further accidents come up, will be a comparatively full quota of strength. Barring a minor injury of Monk Hetherus, all members of the squad are in good condition. Two, who have been a bit laggard with their studies, were left at home Saturday while the team went to Prosser. Grades will be up this week for the trip, each has declared.

"Light practice with attention to the developing of plays and smoothing out interferences running, which was not of much use against Prosser, will be stressed most of the week. A light scrimmage session may come either Wednesday or Thursday, but with the hard Yakima contest looming for the Thanksgiving spectacle, Coach Dimick is not willing to risk injury to any of his players."

How About Penitence Tie?

What the Walla Walla dopester didn't take into consideration however, was that Penitence defeated Mac-Hi 12 to 7 and then La Grande played the Bucks to a scoreless tie, actually making more yardage than the Unatilla confederates.

A real battle looms and indications already point to the crowd of the year Saturday.

La Grande
People Are Investment
Wise!

A year ago, two years ago, La Grande was looked upon as a good "Sucker Town". Most any kind of investment scheme, regardless of exorbitant fees, fines, bonuses, and penalties that the investor was required to pay, found satisfactory sale here.

But people began to investigate before spending their money. They began to study and analyze building and loan contracts, installment bonds, and stock offerings.

The result is evident in the fact that La Grande now has fewer investment salesmen visiting it than ever before in its history. The La Grande Building & Loan, its home company operating without memberships fees, or fines of any kind, has had remarkable growth. Bank savings accounts have jumped. La Grande people are "investment wise".
