(AP)—Caught in the cab of a light delivery truck, 30 feet below the ice on Sidney Lake in the St. Walburg, Sask., district, Otto Mark, of St. Walburg, is nevertheless alive to tell the tale. The truck crashed through the ice and found bottom.
Mr. Mark, who is a strong swimmer, escaped from the cab, and finally reached the surface of the water and the hole in the ice where the truck went down. He is none the worse for his experience.Famous last words: "I'll just

AVIATOR SUCCUMBS

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 26 (AP)— The death that lurked in a fog and cut down an airplane, killing four men here Friday, claimed another victim last night when D. R.
Mitchell, one of the two who were injured died in a hospital.Mitchell, a mechanic for the Spokane Airways, Inc., owners of the ill-fated Ford monoplane, lost a leg and had several bones broken but physicians believed at first that they might save him.

TOM AND BUCK TO FILE SUIT

PENDINGTON, Ore., Nov. 26 (AP)—Tom Gurdane and Buck Lievalen, captors of William Edward Hickman, indicated today they were considering filing suit against the city of Los Angeles to force payment of reward offered for Hickman's capture. They said they understood the city did not intend to pay, despite an opinion by the city attorney that the city was liable for the reward payment.Notice of School Meeting and Hearing
