THE LEP'S TELLS—Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be just, and whether it is right.—Prov. 20:11.

"Self-Accuser Held Crazy" says a headline. That's not crazy.

EASTSIDE, WESTSIDE—
Unconsciously, and most unexpectedly, the state of Oregon received about a million dollars worth of advertising, front page position, in the newspapers of the country yesterday and today. And the football team of the state college at Corvallis wrote the "copy" in no uncertain terms.

Until yesterday we would have ventured the guess that numerous people along the Atlantic seaboard, and in New York City specifically, labored under the impression that the Pacific Northwest was a wild and uncivilized area where the conditions of the original Thanksgiving were regularly reproduced in 1928. And since advertising is merely one form of education, and education is the spreading of useful knowledge not previously possessed, we think it safe to say that Oregon did some very effective advertising in New York and its environs yesterday.

Of course there are those in that part of the country who still contend, no doubt, that the action of the O. S. C. football team against New York University was thoroughly wild and uncivilized. One can hardly blame strict partisans of the east for such a conclusion, in view of the final score, but we hold to the opinion that such a fact is educational in itself.

Considering the O. S. C.-New York University football game even after many hours of reflection and wonder, one still finds it difficult to express oneself coherently on the subject. O. S. C. alumni who babble on and on, or who sit staring into space with a fixed facial expression that is a cross between a yell leader's plea and a personification of the Christmas Spirit—these can be excused. It's a wonderful malady and they'll recover in subsequent years.

How such an outstanding, overwhelming victory happened can only be explained in the human equation. New York was classed, and still is, as the best team of the east. O. S. C. was listed as a very ordinary eleven from the Pacific coast with two or three decisive defeats to its record. It still has the defeats but it lifted itself far beyond the class of the very ordinary.

It was by that effort, over what had seemed to be insurmountable barriers to gridiron experts, that the team from Corvallis did its effective advertising of Oregon and the Northwest. Regardless of one's interest in or knowledge of the football sport, there can be and is a state-wide enthusiasm for this Thanksgiving day affair between Oregon and New York yesterday. And Union county, with four men taking part, is not without special honor.

FLUCTUATIONS IN STREET ARE WILD

Stock Prices Soar and Plunge And Soar Again; Sales About 6,500,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Stock prices displayed some of the wildest gyrations ever witnessed on the New York stock exchange today, opening with a burst of violent strength, going into a nose-dive around midday and soaring up again toward the close.
Ten per cent call money, making its first appearance since Oct. 1, coupled with a bad break in Canadian Marconi on the New York curb market, forced a sharp reaction in prices on the New York stock exchange this afternoon after the early outburst of bullish enthusiasm had carried more than a score issues to new high records. Early gains which ran from $5 to $15 a share in a number of issues, were cut down, or wiped out, and in several instances replaced by losses which ranged from $5 to nearly $25 a share.
The market rallied somewhat in the late trading. Montgomery was a strong feature, recovering all its 12-point loss and achieving a net gain of nearly 5 points. Wright Aero extended its loss to 12, then cut it to 8, and Allied Chemical sold down 4 points, and came back to 2. After touching 27, Radio came back to 232. The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 6,500,000 shares.

WOOL REPORT
BOSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The commercial bulletin tomorrow says:
"While there has been rather less business this past week than for several previous weeks, owing to the holiday and the higher prices asked for wool, as well as the fact that the mills have bought large quantities of the staple, prices have been firmly maintained, and occasionally a slight advance in medium wool is reported."
"Foreign markets are generally about where they were a week ago, London being steady. Some extreme prices early in the week have not been maintained in South Africa, Australia, the Cape and New Zealand are steady."
"The manufacturing position is very sound and consumption at the mills proceeds at a high rate."
The commercial bulletin will publish the following quotations:
Scoured basis: Oregon, fine and P. M. staple 1.10; fine and P. M.

Market Steady In Portland Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30 (AP)—The local market experienced little change over Thanksgiving day. Produce trading was slow. Cranberries were slightly higher in anticipation of the Christmas rush, quoted today at $6.25 to $6.50 a box.
Supply of local cauliflower is practically exhausted, remaining lots were fetching all the way from 75 cents to $1.50, with California cauliflower expected on the market soon. Sweet potatoes are up to 4 1/2 cents a pound in some instances. Consignment of California cellar sweets are to be offered at 5 1/2 cents a pound.

O. S. C. HUMBLES MIGHTY VIOLETS

firing after that. The Violets were helpless in the third quarter when Strong kicked off-side on the O. A. C. one-yard line only to see the westerners smash to midfield on 32 and 24-yard runs by Maple and Sherwood.
Hughes kicked and recovered the ball when Follet fumbled on his 23-yard line. In a half dozen plays Hughes dived over the Violet goal from the three-yard stripe, and the game was turned into a rout.
The shadows lengthened. N. Y. C. made its final bid and tallied when Mike Jordan ran 62 yards on a tackle sweep to the O. A. C. 28-yard mark. Strong, ending his football career in cooperative glory, shot a 22-yard pass to Nemec and raced the last 6 yards himself for the touchdown.

LARSON ALSO PLAYS

Besides Sherwood, Kerr and Gilmore, all Union county players, Earl "Fige" Larson, of La Grande, played guard during a part of the last of the game, aiding materially in his team's victory.
Sherwood, Kerr and Larson are all sophomores with two more years of varsity competition ahead of them. This is Gilmore's final year at O. S. C.

SLAYER GETS FORTUNE

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP)—A Paris dispatch to the Evening Star says that Mrs. Florence Maybrick, once sentenced to die as her husband's slayer, has been left a fortune of approximately 150,000 lbs. ($750,000) under the will of Walter Thomas Burrell, a British subject who lived in France.
