"Greek Fire" From India

The ancient "Greek fire" was first used in war by the Greeks of the eastern empire in the Eighth century. The process of manufacture was obtained from India. The fire is supposed to have been composed of nitre, sulphur and naphtha.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

The prosecuting attorney had encountered a rather difficult witness. At length exasperated by the man's evasive answers, he asked him whether he was acquainted with any of the jury.
"Yes, sir," replied the witness, "more than half of them."
"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" demanded the man of law.
The other thought quickly.
"If it comes to that," he replied, "I am willing to swear that I know more than all of 'em put together."

JACK-IN-THE-BOX

Some trouble pops up from a dark hiding place.
It may look quite real with its horrible face.
But "keep on your shirt" and also your socks.
It really is only a "Jack-in-the-Box."

When you're "sitting pretty" it springs out at you.
But don't get unnerved by a mere "jolly" "hoop!"
When it comes in decision as at you it nips.
Just say, "Pooh, for you, you're a Jack-in-the-Box."

Just put on the lid of "Go-after-and-fight."
Or "Good-sense-of-humor" and maybe, "Sit tight."
Use "Fright" and "I'll-do-it" as strong double locks.
Our trouble-collapse like a "Jack-in-the-Box."

Here's a secret: Women don't WANT men to understand 'em.

Seems that: Three dollars to take out a front tooth? I should say not! I'll pick a fight on my way home.

Romance And Adventure Film Coming Friday

A beautiful, cultured woman is persuaded against her will by gun runners to ensnare a soldier's love—and thereby starts the romance and adventure depicted in the Tiffany-Stahl picture, "Producers of the Sea," starting Biardo Cortes and Carmel Myers and showing Friday at the Colonial Theater.
Suggested by a Jack London story, "Crews of the Sea" tells a story of Cuba in 1896, when gun running was a favorite and dangerous occupation. Cortes plays the role of the Captain who cannot be bribed but whose soldierly prosecution with his virulence toward the smugglers vanishes beneath the practiced charms of Mercedes. Duty and love get sadly mixed and the Captain one day finds himself facing a charge of treason.

How the adventure ends can best be appreciated by seeing the film, by which George Eastwold, Frank Leigh, Frank Larkston, Gino Corrado and Wesley Palmer play important roles. John G. Adotti directed.

"Patent Leather Kid" Featured At the Arcade

The black hair was slick and shiny like patent leather so they called him "The Patent Leather Kid."
He was an East Side boxer so unpopular that he always drew big crowds—crowds hoping to see him knocked out, or at least that patent leather hair mussed.
Richard Barthelmess has one of the greatest roles of his screen career in "The Patent Leather Kid." First National's mighty epic of the U. S. tank corps now at the Arcade theater.

"The Patent Leather Kid" is the story of a pugilist who is drafted for the war much against his will, but who emerges with a decoration of bravery and ultimately wins the girl he loves. The story gives Barthelmess every chance for a human, convincing portrayal of a man who is redeemed through suffering and a woman's love, and the ever-popular Dick makes the most of the opportunities.
Molly O'Leary, a newcomer to the screen, plays opposite Barthelmess, and her interpretation of the role of the olden dancer marks her as one of the screen finds of the year.
"The Patent Leather Kid" is an Alfred Santell production, under the production management of Al Rockait. It is First National's first big special in several years, and has been acclaimed one of the really big pictures in recent years.
The spectacular war scenes made at Camp Lewis, Washington, are admitted to be the best ever recorded by the camera.
