NATION GAY AS NEW YEAR MAKES DEBUT

whooped the residents of this distinguished seaport fell today they had held their own.

In the words of the old-time society reported a good time was had by all and as police took a look around today they reported that everything considered there were very few unpleasant incidents.

A few holdup men took advantage of the carnival and the low visibility due to confetti to take a few dollars and excitement reached such a pitch at a couple of private parties that gentlemen present settled their differences with dirks.

Now and then an exhilarated celebrant showed signs of alcoholic indulgence, but most of the observances consisted in noise and hurrah. Hotels and cafes were crowded with diners and dancers and "Sweet Adeline" and similar ballads were heard occasionally.

CHICAGO CELEBRATES CHICAGO, Jan. 1 (AP)—The new year, slapping celebrants with a vicious snow fall, got itself tangled up shortly after midnight in one of the worst winter traffic jams the city ever has seen.

Automobile horns that first were sounded only to add to the general bedlam of other noisemakers, took on a peevish, business tone as motorists, bound to or from bright spots in the storm, found themselves stalled in a mad maze of machines.

Streets were soaked with a half-frozen slush. As unusually large number of motor vehicles were caught in the storm, having been regaled from garages by the Lorelei promise of early evening mildness. The snow plastered itself upon windshields, hindering visibility, and lay a thin white coverlet quickly upon the city.

The predicted frigidly did not make itself felt until most of the revelers had gone home.

Considering the weather conditions, the deaths and accidents incident to 1928's wake and 1929's christening were not as numerous as police had feared. Two women were killed when struck down by an automobile, and a hit-and-run motorist fatally injured a patrolman.

Stray bullets from celebrants who preferred guns for noisemaking resulted in several persons being wounded. A woman, standing looking from a third story window, was struck by a bullet fired in the street, and was wounded possibly fatally. A street car conductor was shot in the left eye as he stepped from the platform of his car.

From the standpoint of liquor law violation, George H. Hurlburt, first assistant to the prohibition administrator, called it "the quietest New Year's eve I ever have witnessed." Hour after hour prohibition agents telephoned that there was "nothing doing."

dependent upon cheap fuel and power to this section. It seems safe to predict for this section of the country a continuation of the healthy growth experienced in the last decade.

By Robert Lynch (Manager, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce) SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For the Pacific coast 1928 has been a good year. Gearing of production to consumption in at least two of the region's more important industries, lumbering and copper-mining and smelting, has been an outstanding feature of 1928, and has been accompanied by price advances.

High prices paid for livestock have featured the agricultural industries. Serious problems facing fruit growers at the beginning of the year are now in a fair way of solution, and the outlook for 1929 in that activity is now much improved.

Employment conditions were better than in 1927, and have been mirrored in a maintenance of purchasing power, which in turn has as San Francisco is the financial and distributing center of this area current prosperity in the hinterland and in the Pacific northwest must react favorably upon the San Francisco bay section.
