Violin Students Give Recital On Friday Evening

A very interesting and delightful violin recital was an event of last night at the Presbyterian church when violin pupils of Florence Lynch Miller participated in a musicale which was attended by almost a hundred La Grande persons.

The program was made the more interesting by the fact that with one exception all of the children taking part have studied violin for no more than a year. Excellent training in the beginnings of the technique of what is considered the most difficult of musical instruments was shown by the performance.

The ensemble work participated in by the 19 pupils was especially good. Negro spiritual, Russian dances and chorale were played with richness and harmony. The training for the ensemble work had all been done in class with no individual work.

The opening number, "Quiet, Lovely Night," a characteristic Russian melody, was beautifully played by Genevieve Flexer, Andrea Almsworth, Hazel McPherson and Edna Bishop.

Mrs. Audmer Playle, was accompanist for the recital.

The program is as follows:—Russian melody, Genevieve Flexer, Andrea Almsworth, Hazel McPherson, and Edna Bishop.

"Nocturne" by Kovacs, Bernice Marr.

"Songs My Mother Taught Me," Dvovak, Jean Baum.

"Berceuse" by Kovacs, Bobbie Metcalf.

"March of the Tin Soldiers," by Saenger, Florence Jane Lillie.

"Butterflies" and "Swelling," by Barton, Ruth Byers and Catherine Scully.

"Melody," by Kovacs, Andrea Almsworth.

"Jack and Jill," and "Swinging" by Hoeselmann, Genevieve Flexer.

"Ala Turca," by Schmidt, Ray Wilson.

"The Contented Reaper," and "Toss and the Hungry Mouse," by Hoeselmann, Catherine Scully.

"Tarentelle," by Sitt, Mona Louise Hamstreet.

"Adoration," Borowsky, Norma Hanks.

Violin ensemble—"Let My Children Go," negro spiritual.

"The Jackdaw and the Falcon," Russian dance.

"Chorale," J. S. Bach.

"Robin Hood," English Air (17th century). First violins, Genevieve Flexer, Ray Wilson, Freda Hayes, Walter Dahl, Ruth Byers, Florence Jane Lillie, Mona Louise Hamstreet; second violins, Andrea Almsworth, Bessie Panther, Sylvia Turn, Catherine Scully, Bernice Marr, Sam Southall; third violins, Edna Bishop, Hazel McPherson, Bernice Marr, Otello Thompson; Jean V. Baum, Bobbie Metcalf.

The Women's Relief corps is making plans for a luncheon and meeting to be held next Saturday. The committee in charge of the day includes: Ethel Wilcock, Martha Williamson, Oran Wilson, Marjetta Yeck, Susan Barnett, Laura Braden, Lucy Blystone and Lucy Beck.

At the meeting installation of officers will be held and a program is being arranged to celebrate the birthday of President McKinley which comes on Jan. 29.

P. E. O. Members, Husbands Guests At Dinner Party

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Ingle and Mrs. Stella Ingle entertained members of Chapter I. of P. E. O. and husbands at a very charming 6:30 o'clock dinner last night at their home at 1507 Second street. After the dinner an informal evening was spent singing old familiar songs and the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Robert Eakin and Mrs. Geo. Birnie.

Guests were in attendance. The dinner was served buffet style. The rooms of the Ingle home were attractively decorated with bouquets of lavender chrysanthemums and pink pom poms.

A clever and humorous program was arranged by a committee consisting of George Birnie, Clyde Soltz and P. B. Appleby. During the program several persons were initiated into the P. E. O.

Install Officers Of Westway Club

The Westway club of the W. B. A. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McAnulty for installation of officers and other business. Mrs. Packard, of Pendleton, was installing officer. Several visitors were in attendance.

The reception committee for the afternoon included: Mrs. Ledbetter, Mrs. Ledro, Mrs. Mackey and Mrs. McAnulty.

Mrs. Ostland entertained with a clever reading entitled, "The Back Seat Driver."

The next W. B. A. review will be held Thursday, Jan. 17.

Missionary Society In Enjoyable Meet

A very interesting meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon at the church with Mrs. H. H. Cleaver in charge of the program, the topic for which was "The African Peril."

Mrs. Cleaver illustrated her very complete and interesting talk with African curios which had been sent to Mrs. Ray Murphy by a cousin who is a missionary in Africa.

Mrs. Roy Tyler and Mrs. Claude Cooper accompanied by Miss Gladys Miller sang a vocal duet and the Patsy Jessie entertained with two piano numbers.

The hostess committee for the afternoon included: Mrs. Lynne Bohnenkamp, Dr. Margaret Ingle, Mrs. Cleaver, Mrs. W. B. Pickens and Mrs. Lee Reynolds.

Miss Jeanne Van Coover (above), world-traveler of Washington, has an especially keen interest in Afghanistan's revolt over modern innovations for, she says, she is the first American woman ever to penetrate to this remote kingdom. She met the amir and his queen (below).

Members of the committee in charge of the March program of the Young Women's Educational auxiliary will meet at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Viola Benham at 1909 Second street. The committee chairman is Mrs. Zola Tucker. The subject for the meeting is to be "The Land of the Midnight Sun."

Installation of officers of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges was held last night at Elgin when members of the lodges from Union, La Grande, Cove and Summerville, were guests at Elgin. More than 150 persons attended the most enjoyable occasion. A large group of La Grande people were in attendance.

After the installation of officers of the two host lodges, refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed.

The next district association meeting will be held at Summerville Feb. 11.

A "hardtimes" party is being planned by members of the Parkdale club for next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John A. Rogers at Fruitdale. All members of the club are asked to come dressed to represent hardtimes.

Mrs. Frank Wood will be assistant hostess.

Thelma Webb won the prize for the best costume. She dressed as a negro mammy.

Julia Hatt won first prize for cards and Lucille Price won second.

Election of officers was held with the following named: president, Edna Owens; vice president, Edith Doan; secretary-treasurer, Lucille Price.

The So-Ne-He club met at the home of Mrs. William Koester at 2115 Cedar street Tuesday for election of officers and a social afternoon.

Officers elected were: president, Ella Koester; vice-president, Blanche Prouty; secretary, Velma Vedder.

The afternoon was spent playing games with Teresa Patten winning first prize and Jean Carnes winning second. Mrs. Koester and Mrs. Robert Chandler were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Hahn were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Veal. The evening was most enjoyably spent playing pinocle and listening to a radio program.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dicht entertained the Coterie bridge club last night at their home on Adams avenue.

Three tables were at play during the evening with first prize for women going to Mrs. C. P. Hutchens and consolation to Mrs. G. E. Spencer. Prizes for men went to J. H. Albertson for first and to G. E. Spencer, for consolation.

After the cards a two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Fred Braden entertained the Goodwill club at her home last night. Eleven members were present. Election of officers was held with the following named: president, Mrs. Frances Blank; vice-president, Mrs. Lapher; secretary, Mrs. Laura Rhodes; treasurer, Mrs. P. W. Carr.

The afternoon was spent playing games. Nice refreshments were served with the guests seated at a long table which had for a centerpiece a cyclamen with a red, lighted candle at each end of the table.

The Order of Rainbow for Girls will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers will be held. Members are asked to remember that dues for 1929 are payable this month.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Stewed prunes, cereal, cream, codfish balls with tomato sauce, rice toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked cheese, shredded cabbage and pineapple salad, bean bread and butter sandwiches, fruit cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Ham baked in milk, French fried sweet potatoes, buttered onions, head lettuce with Russian dressing, peach Bavarian cream, milk, coffee.

The rule for fruit cookies makes a large quantity but the cookies will keep indefinitely—if well hidden. However, half the amount of each ingredient can be used if a smaller "batch" is preferred.

Fruit Cookies
 Ten cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 cups brown sugar, 2 tablespoons cloves, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 lemon, 1/2 pound shredded candied orange peel, 1/2 pound shredded citron, 1 pound blanched and shredded almonds, 1 cup butter, 1 cup lard, 1/2 cup cream, 2 1/2 teaspoons soda, 4 tablespoons hot water, 2 eggs.

Mix flour, salt, sugar, spices, grated rind of lemon, fruit and nuts. Melt butter and lard, add cream, soda dissolved in hot water, and eggs well beaten. Add to first mixture and mix thoroughly, using hands if necessary. Make into rolls two or three inches in diameter and let stand on ice overnight. When ready to bake cut in thin slices and bake in a hot oven, place on an oiled and floured pan to bake.

The fruit and nuts should be cut very fine so that they will not interfere with the slicing of the cookies.

The cookies need not all be baked at the same time, as the dough will keep several days.

Don't Take "Home Efficiency" Too Much For Granted!

This is directed to the class of husbands who have pride in their homes, who take joy in providing an adequate and efficiently equipped home for their wives - - but who are so busy with business or lodges, or who are so absent-minded and unobserving that they take their household efficiency too much for granted.

That kind of husband owes his wife an apology. Nine times out of ten she is struggling along with a washboard and tub, or an old, broken-down washing machine without letting him know what a drudgery, an inconvenience, and a time and money-waster it is. She deserves better treatment, less work, more leisure. And she can have it - - with
