WHITE SOX TEAM YOUNG, MIGHTY

Chicago Expected to Crash Into Pennant Race in the American

By Oro L. Robertson
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (AP)—For the first time since the "Black Sox" scandal of a decade ago shattered a mighty baseball team, it appears as though the Chicago White Sox may be something more than just a doormat for other teams of the American league in the 1929 pennant race.

Strengthened by several minor league "Big Berthas" and led by a manager of the old school Russell "Lena" Blackburne, the White Sox will put a young but fast and dangerous outfit in the field.

With an array of rookie material and veterans from last year's fifth place club, Blackburne's problem is who to discard. Only Willie Kamm, leading defensive third baseman of the junior circuit, finds his position uncontested. There are nine candidates for the outfield, four for second base, three for catcher, and two each for shortstop and first base, in addition to a small army of prospective pitchers.

Many Rookies

Of the score of rookie hopefuls, four stand out—"Dutch" Hoffman, an outfielder obtained from Sacramento for $25,000 and Earl Sheely; J. C. Watwood, a hard hitting outfielder from Shreveport; Johnny Kerr, 28-year-old second base sensation of the coast league who is up for his second trial in the majors and Bob Weiland, a southpaw obtained from Moline of the Mississippi Valley league. Weiland pitched the last game of the season for the White Sox last fall and shut out the Athletics 1 to 0.

Second base, a weak spot since the days of Eddie Collins, has four applicants in Kerr, Karl Swanson, a rookie, and Bill Hunnefield and George Redfern, who alternated at the position last season.

Cissell Slated for Short

Bill Cissell, the "$123,000 cavalryman," will be at shortstop again unless Irvine Jeffries, who comes from Dallas, beats him out. Blackburne is figuring on taking the "punch" out of Cissell's hitting, changing him into a free swinger.

For the outfield Blackburne has Carl Reynolds, Johnny Mostil, Bill Barrett, Bib Falk, all veterans, and Randy Moore, George Blackerby, Hoffman and Watwood.

Most of Blackburne's troubles see mto hang about the backstop position. He has but one man of dependability, Moe Berg, who was converted into a catcher after playing about every other position on the team.

Five Veteran Hurlers

The pitching staff will consist of five veterans—"Red" Faber, Ted Lyons, Alphonse Thomas, Ted Blankenship and Grady Adkins—and a group of promising rookies—young Ed Walsh and George Cox, who were with the club last season, Weiland and Leslie Cox, a San Antonio product.

BOSTON GOB AND STRIBLING SIGN

Final Details for Heavyweight Bout in Miami Beach Worked Out

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 16 (AP) — With final details of the heavyweight boxing bout between Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling already settled, plans went forward here today for pre-fight arrangements with Jack Dempsey in charge of operations for the Madison Square corporation.

W. L. Stribling Sr., father-manager of the young Georgia battler, signed articles yesterday for his son's participation in the fracas.

Sharkey, the Boston gob, already has signed for his part, and nothing remains now except what the promoters say is the real work—the perfecting of those hundreds of little odds and ends in plans and arrangements.

The fight will be a posthumous child of the brain of Tex Rickard, who died here recently, and who had planned the fight for his Miami Beach Kennel club. Dempsey is acting in the role of his late pal, Tex.

The Kennel club will be equipped to seat a capacity crowd of 30,000 fight fans, and the tentative scale of prices will range from $5 to $25.

William F. Carey, vice president and treasurer of Madison Square Garden, is to arrive here tomorrow.

TWO RELEASED FROM LEPROSY CONFINEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The release of two women members from the National Leprosarium at Carrville, La., was authorized here by Acting Surgeon General C. C. Pierce, of the public health service. However, both must return for semi-annual examinations during the next 18 months.

One of the women, who will go to her home in Louisiana, has been under treatment for leprosy 24 years. The other, who will return to her home in Mississippi, has been under treatment 14 years. Both, health officials said, are sufficiently cured to be no longer a menace to public health.

Since the leprosarium was opened by the public health service, 40 other sufferers have been released.

Lenglen, Baldwin Drop From Sight

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16 (AP)—The whereabouts of Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, her mother and Baldwin M. Baldwin, all of whom departed suddenly from the Arcadia estate of Baldwin's mother, Mrs. Anita Baldwin last Thursday and from Los Angeles Monday, today was a complete mystery.

W. E. Harrington, representing Mrs. Baldwin, said last night that Mrs. Baldwin "would like very much to know where her son has gone." Mrs. Baldwin, he said, did not have the "least iden where her son or Mlle. Lenglen were at the present time." Harrington declined to discuss reports that a "row" between Mrs. Baldwin and the French star precipitated the sudden departure of her son and her two guests.

Former Champion Quits The Ring After Tech. K. O.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 16 (AP)—"Battling Levinsky," former light-heavyweight champion, has fought his last fight.

He so announced after losing to Herman Weiner, Baltimore heavyweight, on a technical knockout last night. Levinsky was floored three times, twice for the count of "nine" in the first 37 seconds of the first round.

"You can tell the world I'm through" Levinsky said. "A fighter is a bum when he starts and a bum when he finishes. I'm through when defeated by a boy I licked in Baltimore a short time ago. I think I'll go back to Bridgeport, Conn., and help my friend Lou Bogash promote fights. I sure hate to think of calling up the wife and telling her I was licked."

Al Lippe, Levinsky's manager, after Levinsky's announcement, said that he immediately would cancel his fighter's scheduled appearance at Madison Square Garden next Friday night with Jim Braddock, a heavyweight.

Levinsky won the light-heavyweight crown in 1916 from Jack Dillon. He has engaged in 550 fights since he started his ring career in 1906. He was knocked out by Dempsey, by Carpentier, by Otto Von Porat at Grand Rapids last week, and last night by Weiner.

A few seconds after the start of last night's fight Levinsky was knocked down for the count of four. Then he was knocked through the ropes for a count of nine. He attempted to go on but Referee Short stopped the fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Black eyes and split lips forgotten, eight proud boys returned to their homes along the Pacific coast today to be acclaimed champions by virtue of their victories in the finals of the far western amateur boxing championships held here last night.

Helen Wills Will Wed F. S. Moody Jr.

BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 16 (AP)—The engagement of Helen Wills, world's amateur women's tennis champion, and Frederick S. Moody Jr., son of a San Francisco capitalist has been announced formally by Miss Wills' parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Wills, of Berkeley.

The engagement has been rumored persistently since 1926, when Miss Wills was playing tennis on the Riviera and young Moody and his father stopped there while touring Europe. The young folks were much together then.

Smith, Von Elm Leading Field In Tournament

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP)—The last "pot of gold" on the west of Fairway Rainbow which big shots of golfdum have been chasing for several weeks was in sight today.

A final 36-hole drive alone separating the treasure hunters of the links from the $4,000 purse, up for distribution as prizes in the Pasadena tournament. Sixty-five divoteers representing the best scores in 18 holes of qualifying play yesterday won the right to dig with their iron and wood for this last "big money" cache.

MacDonald Smith, the stylist from Carnoustie, Scotland, more recently of Great Neck, Long Island, who plays in very few tournaments but seldom fails to collect, promised to sustain his reputation in the two rounds today over this city's mountain-bordered municipal course. The tall Scott, steady of hand, as was evidenced in his brilliant victory in the recent $16,000 Los Angeles open, yesterday turned in a par-smashing card of 69 over the public course to tie with George Von Elm, Detroit amateur for medal honors in the qualifying play. "Mac" Smith bagged his par on the 18th for a 34-35—69, while the blonde amateur had 35-34—69. Right back of this pair and threatening for money places, were Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., former National open king and Tom Stevens, veteran of Los Angeles. Their cards were identical, each registering 36-34—70.

Dempsey to Test His Ability First

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 16 (AP)—Jack Dempsey may return to the ring, but he will not decide about it until he has had some workouts here.

The manassa mauler is beginning to "feel pretty good down here," but he says he is "the only person who can tell whether or not my body is in trim for a fight, and until I have opportunity to test it, it is impossible to tell what I can do."

Temple of Sport His Monument Now

Madison Square Garden, the fruit of his dreams, became a regal mausoleum for Tex Rickard as the promoter's body lay in state in the center of the vast structure. Pictured above is the impressive setting as the casket lay in state. Framed by palms and lavish floral tributes, it rested in the glare of the some floodlights that have shone down on the super-sporting spectacles which Rickard managed. Above it hung the battery of giant amplifiers that have carried Rickard's voice throughout the hall.

HISTORY repeats itself again

ON January 7, 1926, a new automobile came into existence. It was a six. It had bodies by Fisher. It sold for $825. It introduced real luxury and beauty to buyers in the low-priced field. This new car was the Pontiac Six. During its first 10 months, it more than doubled the full first year's sales of any new make of car. That is still a world's record.

But Pontiac's builders did not rest content with their early triumph. They knew that American people are constantly on the lookout for new and finer things.

So in February, 1927, they introduced the New and Finer Pontiac Six. And it was lower in price than ever, selling for $775. Then, in July, greatly increased production enabled Pontiac's builders to reduce the price again. Now Pontiac sold for $745.

Came 1928, and with it a still finer Pontiac. Even then the price remained only $745. And after six months, during which this car became one of the best sellers in the industry, more improvements were announced. Last July, Pontiac was made faster, more powerful than ever and more attractive in style.

This brief history is significant. It recalls Pontiac's origin and the introduction of true motoring luxury into the low-priced field. It relates how Pontiac's progress has matched strides with the increasing demand for luxury among those hundreds of thousands who form its market.

But most important of all, it gives you an idea of something that is coming. Automobile history is repeating itself again. Soon Oakland will present a brand new Pontiac Six, an even greater advancement over other low-priced cars available today than the original Pontiac represented in 1926. Watch for the
