Butter Slumps All Along Line; Eggs Unchanged

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 16 (AP)—Butter has taken a slump all along the line. Extras dropped 1/2 cent to 4 1/2, standards to 4 1/2, prime first to 4 1/2, while firsts declined one cent to 4 1/2.

Eggs remained unchanged.

Poultry and other meats were marking time at the old figures.

Fruits and vegetables showed little change, but many of them are flirting with a firmness that may betoken higher prices. Potatoes, cabbage and onions in particular.

Bananas, of fair quality and size were in good demand, and may not be so plentiful at the weekend.

Lemons and oranges were sticking around the old levels. Oranges, of all sizes and prices, are on hand in quantity.

TWO BOY PREACHERS IN ADJOINING STATES; ONE IS 13; THE OTHER 14

Thirteen-year-old Delbert Chostner of Delstadt, Mo., and 14-year-old Jack Yancey (inset) of Picher, Okla., are preachers. Both have occupied pulpits in their home towns.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two boys with a combined age of only 27 years already have taken up their life work of preaching the Gospel in the neighboring states of Missouri and Oklahoma.

The oldest is Jack Yancey, 14, who is assistant pastor of the Central Methodist church in Picher, mining town of the Oklahoma lead and zinc field. The other is Delbert Chostner, 13 years old, of Delstadt, Mo., an ordained preacher of the Missionary Baptist church.

Oratorical abilities displayed by Jack Yancey caused the regular minister, Rev. W. O. Bucy, to ask him to fill the pulpit occasionally and to help with the other church's work. Jack gladly consented, and since then has spoken before large congregations.

Jack, who is a Boy Scout with five merit badges, plans to go to a theological seminary after he finishes high school. When he was graduated from the grade school he delivered the commencement address to his own class. He lives with his grandparents, his mother having died five years ago.

Delbert Chostner has preached from a number of pulpits in Missouri and Illinois. He became interested in religion a year ago when Rev. C. W. Holmes, an evangelist, was conducting a meeting at Delstadt, where Delbert lived with his grandfather. Delbert was ordained in October and has received invitations to preach in churches in New York and other distant cities.

By Mrs. Bertha Carper (Observer Correspondent)
PROMISE, Ore. (Special)—French Trump killed a fine lynx and a coyote one day last week and Bill Carper caught a fine large coyote in a trap Friday night.

Charles Kenworthy visited at the home of C. P. Carper from Friday until Monday. Mr. Kenworthy has been in quite poor health all winter.

Chester Gorbett and family visited Sunday with Boyd Carper.

Jim Swearingin, brother of One Swearingin, of Promise, came in on Saturday's stage from Boise, Idaho, and is visiting with his brother and family.

Mrs. Vica Wickan is visiting her mother, Mrs. Julia Souffer, in Maxville. He made a trip Saturday and again Monday.

Frank Carper, a student of Wallawa high school, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carper.

Ord Wortman has purchased some alfalfa hay of Bill Carper and is driving his sheep up from the river and is going to feed out the hay at Bill's barn.

Leo Smith from Wallawa, spent the weekend with his daughter, Mrs. Stella Poulson.

Mrs. Alameda Carper received word from her son, Henry, that his party arrived at Fayetteville, West Va., on Jan. 5. They left here on Dec. 27 and had a fine trip all the way. They encountered some cold weather passing through Wyoming where the thermometer registered 20 below. Henry stated that they expected to start to work the next day.

Don Souffer visited Saturday evening at the C. P. Carper home. Doris Henderson visited Sunday

New York Blaze Is Fatal to Six

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Six members of one family lost their lives in a fire that swept a five-story tenement in East 112th street last night, a few hours after they had moved into the house.

Five other persons, one of them a fireman, suffered from smoke and burns. One hundred families were driven to the street from the burning building and two adjoining dwellings.

British Celebrate Aviation's Birthday

Under the wings of the Wright brothers' original airplane, now in a London museum, members of the Royal Aeronautical Society of Great Britain met to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the first flight. This picture shows the Wright airplane, suspended above the diners, at a luncheon given by the Smithsonian Institution, suspended above the diners. A man is in a line on the plane as Wright did when he first flew.

"Why Doesn't She Sell Those Wonderful Pickles?"

(The Story of the Beginning of a New Industry in the Grande Ronde Valley—and of a Delicious New Sweet Mustard Pickle!)

Two women of the Grande Ronde Valley had gained a great reputation for unusual dishes. Their recipes and their food was much in demand at community dinners and social gatherings.

Special fame attached to a certain sweet mustard pickle that they served on various occasions. Dozens of other women wanted the recipe—no mustard pickle ever received a fraction of the compliments heaped on these delicious home-made pickles.

"Why doesn't she put them up and have them for sale?" was a frequent question, an increasing demand.

That is exactly what has been done—and today you can enjoy the same sweet mustard pickle on your table that was the envy of good cooks throughout the valley for years.

Your grocer has them. Order a jar the next time you buy food. You're in for a real treat!
