The state superintendent of public instruction dedicated the building. A musical program consisting of numbers by the high school orchestra was also given. Mr. Kelly will return to La Grande Thursday.

DEDICATE NEW CHURCH ANNEX IN BOISE, IDA.
An event of interest to La Grande people as well as to those in Boise, Ida., took place on Sunday, Jan. 13, in the Gem State capital. It was learned here today. An addition to the First Presbyterian church, at 1319 North Sixth street, that cost $57,000, was formally dedicated.
Much credit for the securing of the handsome addition is said to belong to the Rev. William Crosby Ross, pastor, who was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of La Grande before accepting a call to Boise. It was during his stay in this city that the present Presbyterian church at Sixth and Washington was constructed.
When the Boise church addition was dedicated, Gov. H. C. Burdick, of Idaho, was one of the chief speakers. The service of dedication was read by Mr. Ross.

HOOVER ON WAY TO BELLE ISLE
the president-elect on his last day in Washington. He and Mrs. Hoover attended the Irving Street Friends church and in the afternoon went for an automobile ride, visiting the nearby Shenandoah National park in Virginia where they toured several spots of scenic beauty in the Blue Ridge Mountains. In the evening a few friends were entertained at dinner at their 8 street home.
Dr. McCall gave high praise to Mr. Hamby, who walked for 12 hours through blinding snow, unable to see ahead of him, and relying only on his sense of direction to bring him to a point where he could tell of the aviator's plight. While Mr. Hamby was bravely struggling through the snow, his partner was setting by Mr. Buckner's bedside.
The trappers, who heard the plane crash, started out to search and fired their rifles. Hearing no answer they were returning to the cabin and Mr. Hamby yelled and a faint cry was heard in answer. They turned into a thicket and found the plane with Mr. Buckner in the cockpit. They carried him to the cabin and Mr. Hamby immediately started for help.
SMITH MAY VISIT HOOVER
NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Cryptic remarks by Alfred E. Smith on his departure for a vacation were interpreted by his friends today as indicating that he would call on Herbert Hoover in Miami.
Mr. Smith did not answer a direct question whether he would call on Mr. Hoover but a friend who saw him off yesterday said there was a probability such a meeting would take place.
Mr. Smith was reminded of Mr. Hoover's trip to Miami today. "Will you call on him down there and congratulate the victor?" a reporter inquired.
"Yes, I will be in Miami, too," said the ex-governor, with a broad smile.
"But will you call on Hoover?" the questioner persisted.
"That will be news when I do," was Mr. Smith's verbal sidestep.
ERUPTIONS INCREASE
BATAVIA, Java, Jan. 21 (AP)—The island volcano Krakatau, which has been in violent eruption recently, is reported showing increasing intensity. The visible eruptions rose from nearly 1000 on Saturday to nearly 7000 during the past 24 hours.

Here and There In Legislature
SALEM, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—All members of the house of representatives had reported for the 35th legislative assembly with the appearance Monday morning of Gov. P. Winslow, of Tillamook county, and Denton G. Burdick, representing Crook, Deschutes, Jefferson, Klamath and Lake counties.
Winslow spent the greater part of last week in Good Samaritan hospital in Portland with a case of mumps. Action on vetoed house bill 521 of the 1927 session, permitting employment of children under 14 years in certain cases, has been awaiting the return of Winslow, who fathered the bill two years ago.
Burdick is appearing in the house with his arm and shoulder in a plaster cast. He was injured last week in an automobile accident near his home at Redmond.
Senator Norblad today introduced a bill providing that cities wishing to transfer the administration of public parks from park boards to the city governing the board can zero. The official reading at Enterprise was 25 below, according to unofficial readings at Union and Imbler were 18 and 22 below, respectively.
The weather report for tonight and Tuesday says "rising temperatures" with local snows in the eastern part of the state.
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Snow was falling in Portland this morning, adding itself to the inch of old snow that remained from Friday night's storm. The snow came in fine, dry flakes. There was little wind.
The weather bureau has today predicted unsettled weather, with rain or snow throughout the day and Tuesday.
Baker was one of the coldest spots in Oregon yesterday, reports to the weather bureau said, with a thermometer reading of 16 degrees below at dawn Sunday morning, and 6 degrees below Sunday night.
COLD WAVE GENERAL
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21 (AP)—A touch of cold weather that spread over the far western states during the weekend lingered today, with the forecast calling for sub-normal temperatures up and down the coast and frost, snow and cold in the interior areas. Untolown, Wash., reported a temperature of 30 below zero last night.
Helena, Mont., registered a minus 16, Kalspell, Mont., and Pocatello, Ida., reported 10 below; Min-tana reported 22 below at one point Saturday.

Southern California fruit growers today were warned to look out for a cold wave. The forecast called for frost in the interior of the southern part of the state and snow in the high mountain ranges.
Two waterspouts appeared at sea off Santa Monica, Cal., yesterday during a storm which played several tricks. Three persons were injured by lightning in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. John Kulot were dazed when lightning struck their radio antenna and flashed through the house. Louise Critcher, 11, was shocked into unconsciousness by a bolt of lightning but was revived by an inhalator. Showers and high wind were reported in several places in the south.
A break in the cold wave at Seattle which took the mercury down to 27 above, the lowest this winter was promised for today. Northern and Central California had temperatures lower than usual. At Sacramento yesterday motorists turned out in great numbers upon learning that snow had fallen 30 miles from the city. Many automobile parties carried sleds, hoping to do some coasting.
PENDLETON BELOW ZERO
PENDLETON, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—The coldest temperature of the year was recorded here Saturday night when the thermometer dropped to one degree below zero.
COLD IN MARSHFIELD
MARSHFIELD, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—The coldest snap in several years was recorded here yesterday morning when the mercury fell to 21 degrees above zero. Many water pipes in the city were frozen.

BRING BODY OF AVIATOR FROM HILLS
After spending the night there, the party started the return trip to Horse Ranch. The body was brought on a toboggan hauled by three horses. Fresh snow during the night made it necessary to use two horses to break trail.
Ralph Puckett and Cecil Richards, of Cove, met the party six miles above the Horse Ranch, with fresh horses and this enabled them to reach the Horse Ranch at 5 o'clock. They left there at noon yesterday, after breakfasting at 10, and at the power station four miles from Cove, the Snodgrass and Zimmerman ambulance took the body, bringing it on to La Grande. After the long trip, the body was partly frozen.
Dr. McCall gave high praise to Mr. Hamby, who walked for 12 hours through blinding snow, unable to see ahead of him, and relying only on his sense of direction to bring him to a point where he could tell of the aviator's plight. While Mr. Hamby was bravely struggling through the snow, his partner was setting by Mr. Buckner's bedside.
The trappers, who heard the plane crash, started out to search and fired their rifles. Hearing no answer they were returning to the cabin and Mr. Hamby yelled and a faint cry was heard in answer. They turned into a thicket and found the plane with Mr. Buckner in the cockpit. They carried him to the cabin and Mr. Hamby immediately started for help.

STATE HOUSE PASSES FIVE BILLS TODAY
Tillamook who introduced the bill in 1927, was tabled until further consideration can be given it.
The governor's veto was sustained on house bills 139, 106, 583, and 525 of the 1927 session.
New bills dropped into the house hopper Monday morning were as follows:
H. B. 152, by Potter—relating to the power of county courts in establishing election precincts.
H. B. 153, by Norvell—providing that an alieu may become a notary public if he has duly declared his intentions of becoming a citizen.
H. B. 154, by Egbert—relating to county road levies.
H. B. 155, by Winslow—creating a separate fish and game district and commission in Tillamook county.
An increase in the salaries of the three members of the Oregon state industrial accident commission from $3600 to $4800 each will be proposed in a bill to be introduced at the present legislative session.
TILLAMOOK BILL IN SENATE
SALEM, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Echoes of the war between commercial fishermen and the sportsmen of the state over the closing of certain streams in the state to commercial fishing reverberated in the senate today as legislative halls this morning heard the introduction by Senator George Winslow of a bill which would so far as fish and game matters are concerned, lift Tillamook county out of the state of Oregon and establish it as an independent governmental unit.
The bill would sever Tillamook county completely from the administration of the state fish and game commissions, except if from the operations of the state fish and game laws and would create the county court of that county as a commission to dictate its fish and game regulations.

EAST OREGON IN SUB-ZERO WAVE SUNDAY
day afternoon took the edge off of the frigid wave and started the mercury on its upward course. This territory had received warnings, as early as Friday, of the coming cold, and was generally prepared. A heavy fall of snow over the valley protected winter wheat from freezing.
Coldest at Meacham
The coldest point reported in Oregon was registered on the government thermometer at Meacham, where the minimum was 26 below
