Dinner Club Is Entertained At Sacajawea Inn

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Clauser entertained their dinner club last night at the Sacajawea Inn. Covers were laid for 24 at the 7:15 o'clock dinner and cards were played during the evening.

The Rambler's Art class met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Margaret Mason. Mrs. Robert Eckhart read an interesting paper on "Bottlefilling."

With the coming of winter snows many social activities in La Grande and throughout the country have taken the form of outdoor sport including coasting and trailing parties, skating, skiing and sleighing.

Miss Grace Ryan, of Boise, was the honor guest at a trailing and coasting party Sunday. The group of eight La Grande persons spent several hours trailing along the Mt. Stien and other roads. After this they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kline where they enjoyed a waffle feed and in the evening attended a show.

The members of the party were: Miss Grace Ryan, Ted Cline, Miss Fern, Floyd Smith, Miss Wilma Gaskill, Jack Hiett and Mr. and Mrs. Kline.

Bridge Club Meets At Ruckman Home

The La Petite Helldo club was entertained last night by Mr. and Mrs. W. Ruckman Jr. at a delightful party at their home on Walnut street. Three tables were at play during the evening. Mrs. Everett Keown was awarded first prize for women and high honors for men was won by T. C. McDonald. Mrs. Everett Rosenbaum and Everett Keown received consolation.

Potted plants made pretty decorations. After the cards a two-course luncheon was served. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wentz.

The Bon Ton club was entertained recently by Mr. and Mrs. Orson Brandt. A delightful evening of cards was enjoyed with high score prize going to Mrs. Ed Hoyten. The hostess served a two-course luncheon late in the evening.

Two tables of bridge were at play.

Announcements

The Degree of Honor will meet next Tuesday. No meeting was held today.

Don't dose a Child's Cold

CONTINUAL dosing upsets children's delicate stomachs. Vicks is applied externally and therefore cannot disturb the digestion. It acts in two ways:

- (1) The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors which are inhaled.
  - (2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like a poultice.

Library Chats

By Mabel E. Doty, Librarian
We are sorry for our patrons who were too busy Saturday evening buying eggs, butter and meat for Sunday dinner to drop in at the library. They just missed it for several new and delightful books were just casually dropped where someone searching for a good book to read over the weekend might find them. They included several new fiction titles which the public has been persistently demanding for the last few weeks. Here are just a few, fiction and otherwise:

"BAMBI", Felix Salten.
This is an exquisite idyll of animal life. Bambl is the name of a male deer and the book is the life story of Bambl in the enchanting wood-land that frames the waters of the Danube. The doe symbolizes the growing and impulsive child to whom the universe is filled with mysterious sights, sounds and scents. No one who loves beautifully written things should miss reading this book.

"THE FATHER", Katherine Holland Brown.
This novel was awarded the $25,000 prize in the Women's Home Companion—John Day Novel Contest, so every one will want to read it. It is for no other reason. It pictures vividly that colorful period in American history before the Civil War. Decidedly readable and worth while.

"The Children", Edith Wharton.
Beneath the gaiety of this story, Mrs. Wharton has posed a question which we may not escape. What of the children in a world of nonchalant divorce?

"Alice Villard", Clarence Silver.
Our State Librarian recommended this as a book for recent minded people. It is the first book of the author to be translated into English, and is the story of a French peasant girl who working on her ancestral farm with the courage and devotion finds happiness in the end. The reader is left with the sense of having known intimately a person of great charm and also of having looked into the very soul of France.

"The New Temple", John Bojer.
Sequel to "The Great Hunger". This is a story of Norwegian life with the author at the height of his power.

There are also titles by Kathleen Norris, a new title by the favorite Margaret Potter, Nabro Bartley, Joseph Hergesheimer, Hugh Walpole and others.

Sigrid Undset has been chosen as the Nobel Prize winner for 1928. The library has four of her books for those who wish to become familiar with her works. She is giving all of the funds to charity.

MENUS

By Sister Mary.
BREAKFAST—California grapes, cereal, cream, creamed beef, beef toast, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of salmon soup, croquettes, hearts of celery, praline tapioca pudding, hot lemonade, cookies.

DINNER—Casseroles of calves' liver, halibut brown rice, winter vegetable salad, steamed fig pudding, milk, coffee.

Cream of salmon soup is very much worth while for the house-keeper who does not live near the markets. The soup is delicious and nourishing and would appear on a restaurant man's menu as a "bisque of salmon."

Cream of Salmon Soup
Two tablespoons butter, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 2 cups rich milk, 1 pound can salmon.

Melt butter and stir in flour. Add parsley, salt, pepper and paprika and cook, stirring constantly until mixture bubbles. Add milk and bring to the boiling point. Pick over salmon, discarding bone and skin. Rub fish through a coarse colander. Add to sauce with enough boiling water to make of the consistency of rather thick gruel. Bring to the boiling point and serve. (Copyright, 1929, NEA Service, Inc.)

Dog and Cat Win Plaudits At Court House

A "thousand dollar" dog and a "thousand dollar" cat is now the boast at the Union county courthouse and the officials make the boast without qualifications.

The dog is Pal, a black shepherd with shaggy fur and a white mark on his chest and a bit of a brown crown on his head to tell that he has a little collie in him. Pal is a bundle of nervous energy which he uses to learn tricks and to help around the courthouse, all of which makes him the pride of the county officials.

"He can learn anything," says T. W. DeBorde, for 14 years courthouse janitor and the owner of Pal. "I've never seen anything like it," exclaimed an official in the sheriff's office. "Tom shows him how to do a trick a couple of times and he has it."

Here is a typical one. Mrs. DeBorde goes down into the basement, calls "How, Pal." Pal bounds in from the next room and almost eats his master up. "Turn off that light, Pal!"

Then Pal eagerly gallops across the room to an electric light cord with a bit of cloth tied on the end (so he can get a hold). One little jerk and the light is off.

The performance is repeated in the next room. Then with orders Pal turns them all on again.

"Pal, go and get the dinner bucket." Pal races to a table, jumps on top, grabs the dinner pail by the handle, jumps down and rushes to the door, waiting for Mr. DeBorde to open it and get into the car to drive home. He takes the pail home, carries it into the kitchen for Mrs. DeBorde to fill and then carefully takes it again in his mouth gets into the car with it and they drive back to the courthouse. Pal then takes it to the basement and delivers it to another dog, there waiting for his supper.

Pal came to Mr. DeBorde in Union when a mere puppy. He was a stray but he turned out to be a Prince Charming.

As to the "thousand dollar" kitchen whose name is Felix:

"Felix is the best mouser the court ever had around," says the sheriff. Felix lives in the sheriff's office on a cushion on top of the radiator. She isn't matured yet.

Felix came to live at the courthouse Nov. 5. "We were all busy in the office and there were lots of people there, when she came and made herself right at home," they say.

"We have to go out now and get

Jackson Barnett Case Again In Limelight

The Indian affairs committee of the senate again has taken up investigation of the curious Jackson Barnett case, in which a mentally incompetent Indian under care of the interior department managed to lose a substantial part of the millions he derived from oil lands. Involved in the case, with Indian Commissioner Charles Burke, were former Secretary Fall and Mrs. Barnett, white wife of Barnett. The Barnett home in Los Angeles and Barnett and his young wife are pictured above.

Note Solves The Kamloops Mystery

SAULTE STE. MARIE, Ont., Jan. 22 (AP)—A veritable note from the dead today threw the first ray of light on the wreck of the Kamloops—one of the mysteries of the Great Lakes.

The Kamloops, with her crew of 21, was lost in a storm that swept the lakes December 6, 1927 and no clue ever was found as to the fate of her crew or the manner and place of her sinking.

Last month, just about a year after the tragedy, a trapper found a note signed "Alice" in a bottle at the mouth of the Agawa river, indicating the ship rounded on the Rock of Isle Royale and that the writer was the sole survivor and was dying of cold and starvation. Louis Coutu, the trapper, after guarding the contents of the note for some time turned it over to Captain H. J. Brian, a brother of the skipper of the lost ship, who made a search of the Isle Royale shore line. He reported finding wreckage piled high on the beach and a case that had contained candy, broken open. He expressed the belief that some members of the crew had reached shore and had died.

It Takes So Little To Make A Home Attractive and Convenient

Every woman thrills at the prospect of new things for her home—nothing gives you so much satisfaction and pleasure that is to be had from knowing that your family and your friends get enjoyment from its charm and comfort.

And usually it takes so little to make your home attractive and convenient. Most of all it takes planning.

If you are considering remodeling or rebuilding your home in the spring or summer—or building a new home—pay particular attention to your electrical plans. They are vital in your desire for an attractive and convenient home.

Be sure that you have enough floor outlets conveniently placed—proper connections for the lamps that add so much to the charm of an interior. Be sure that you have a power circuit conveniently planned so that you can use your Premier cleaner, your floor polisher, your Westinghouse toaster, your Hot Point iron to the best advantage and at the low power rate that is available for all appliances.

Electric outlets, and the lights and modern housekeeping appliances that make them so necessary, are the foundation of the attractive and convenient home.

Barnyard Golf Gets Utah Co-Eds

Horseshoe pitching, often termed barnyard golf, is the game for the co-eds at the University of Utah now. Even tennis, a game which she plays in championship style, has been side-tracked by Ruth Crow, shown above about to toss a ringer for horseshoe pitching. And Ione Dugan, center, and Helen Johnson, right, are but two of the many other co-eds at Utah who are keeping themselves in constant use.
