HEALTH

THE SUNSHINE SCHOOL A HEALTH BUILDER

By Philip S. Doffer, M. D., Berkeley, California

The Sunshine School was established as an integral part of the public school system of Berkeley for the purpose of caring for the tired, sick, nervous and undernourished children for whom the regular school curriculum would be harmful. It was also for those children who at some time or other had been in immediate contact with a tuberculous member of the family, and because of their condition furnished fruitful soil for the development of the germ in their own bodies.

The school is not a separate school, for these children should not be considered "sick" children and segregated. Their quarters are located on the first floor in one wing of a regular school and consist of class rooms and two sleeping rooms furnished with 60 beds for these children must have two sleep periods of an hour each. In addition they have one rest hour on the sun platform in the school yard where the sun bath is graduated to the individual child by the two city nurses detailed to the school. The sun platform is so divided that the boys occupy one side and the girls the other.

Only children of the first six grades are eligible, and the school is attended. Three teachers are

In charge of the school work, while the physician and the two nurses watch over the children's health progress. They send home all contagious disease contacts, for this is no place for a contagious disease to get a foothold.

During the school day, a pint of orange juice is given to each child in the morning previous to going on the sun platform. At noon a properly balanced lunch is furnished, and at three-thirty in the afternoon a glass of milk and two Graham crackers.

Nearly all of the children have averaged a ten pound gain during the school year of ten months. Those who have gained but little in weight have gained otherwise. There have been fewer absences from school and therefore an increased school attendance. The children have become as brown as Indians, their skin as smooth as velvet, their muscles firm and the appetite increased, many calling for "second helpings" at the lunch hour. The pinched look is gone, the eyes are bright and the children are so full of vigor that it is difficult to hold them down in their games at play time.

Another advantage of this school is the opportunity of teaching public health to the parents. Not infrequently do they come to the school to consult with the physician on their health problems. When the child's health chart shows a poor progress, the nurse goes into the home. After her visit, it generally the weight line begins to ascend.

This type of school is a benefit to the children and to the community, and should be in every city where climatic conditions permit it.

FRED STONE STOPS THE SHOW

Fred Stone couldn't go to the show, so the show came to him. The rest of "Homesick" a scene in which the veteran comedian was to have been shared with his daughter, Dorothy, before he was crippled in an airplane crash, came to Stone's home in Forest Hills, N. Y., and did their stuff. But it was Fred himself who held the spotlight when he tossed away his crutches, stood alone and wiggled one ankle in the quick tempo of a tap dance—presenting his early career to the stage. Pictured above, left to right, are WIFE Hilda, bare-footed and top-hatted, Dorothy Stone, Fred, and Mrs. Stone.

She: "Haven't I always been fair to you?"

He: "Yes, but I want you to be fair and warmer."

SOCIAL NOTE

The collector of internal revenue has been mailing a lot of letters to his acquaintances.

"I got locked in a class room once," a college freshman said to a class the other day, "but I crawled out through the transmission."

PROVERBS

He that will steal an egg will steal an ox.

He who buys by the penny keeps his own house and other men's too.

He who has thriven may sleep till eleven.

He who hath lost shame is lost to all virtue.

He who is not handsome at 20, nor strong at 30, nor rich at 40, nor wise at 50, will never be handsome, strong, rich nor wise.

THE CHARITABLE EMPLOYER

The Young Graduate—Will you pay me what I'm worth?

The Manager—I'll do better than that; I'll give you a small salary to start with.

Dorothy: "I believe in early rising. The early bird catches the worm."

Hilda: "How about the early worm—he gets caught, doesn't he?"

Noblist (yawning): "You fellows argue all you want. Me—I'd rather be the cat."

"Hope you liked those queer little Chinese backscratches I sent you, dear."

"Is that what they are? Mercy! I've been making my husband eat his salad with them."

AT THE THEATERS

"Homesick" Is Coming To the Star

A grudge fight which starts in New York City, is continued clear across the continent and ends in California is one of the comedy high lights of "Homesick." Fox Film which is coming to the Star theater Tuesday. It features Sammy Cohen, popular screen comic, and has a supporting company which includes Marjorie Heale, screen star comedienne, and Harry Sweet, who starred in a half-dozen other comedy subjects a few years back.

The comedy incidents in "Homesick" revolve around a transcontinental bicycle race with a prize of $25,000 and Cohen and Sweet as contestants for the cash and Marjorie.

At each stop across country Cohen and Sweet engage in fist fights in an effort to settle an old grudge. There is a stampede of horses in the Nevada section, a forest fire and other calamities.

Del Rio And Farrell Star In "Red Dance"

Trained for the first time in their career, Dolores Del Rio and Charles Farrell give a remarkable performance in the stellar roles of "The Red Dance." Fox features which will have its local premier on the screen of the Arcade theater today. Separately and together these two young people will hold the audience spellbound by their fine characterizations. She as the peasant girl who becomes the fiancée of the Red Baron of the Revolution, whom she tries to save from the vengeance of the people. Another great performance is that of Ivan Linow, the giant Russian who, as a private soldier, won Del Rio but who, when he becomes a "Red" general, saves her lover from the firing squad.

"The Red Dance" is splendid not only as an entertainment, but as a vivid picture of revolutionary Russia. It abounds in thrills such as when the czars are shown sweeping down on a defenseless village, the revolt of the prisoners in the salt mines and many similar episodes. But this is not a gloomy picture. There is much humor, fine costumes and much beauty of scenery in this production, which Raoul Walsh directed with sympathy and taste.

COVE MAN IS RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin (Observer Correspondent)

COVE, Ore., (Special)—Charles Hancock, long recovered from his accident sufficiently to be out again. He was injured while handling wood from the mountains.

A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Duceon at their home west of town on Wednesday evening, Jan. 27. The baby, now six weeks old, weighed 8 1/2 pounds. This is the second baby born in Cove in 1929.

Mrs. Phil Sturges has returned to her home here after spending a week in Pendleton visiting at the home of Bishop and Mrs. Romington. She returns to La Grande Monday and was met there by Mr. Sturges, both returning to Cove Tuesday.

Traffic to and from La Grande is almost impossible at this time, the only way out being by way of Union.

The Rev. P. H. Sturges went to Union on Sunday for the morning service and on the way back, had some car trouble and had to be towed in.

Services at the Ascension Episcopal church were held yesterday morning at the usual hour. There was no service Sunday due to the extremely cold weather.

A number of Cove people are hoping to drive to La Grande next Sunday to hear Dr. Ida Belle Lewis, of Poochou, China, at the Methodist church. Miss Lewis is one of the outstanding women of the Methodist church.

E. E. Coard, of Pruitland, Idaho, came home and spent the weekend with his family here.
