Inflamed Nerves Made Healthful

Nervous inflammation, or neuritis, is inflammation of the nerve. It is usually progressive in character, the process of Nature being to fill the blood vessels of the inflamed area with serum. As the heat of the inflammation continues, this serum dries up and there is degeneration of nerve and cell tissue. At this stage there is a kind of limb paralysis.

The very nature of the disease indicates its source. It is caused by imbalancing of joints of the spine, causing pressure upon the nerves affected at the point of its exit between joints. Spinal adjustments remove the cause. There is repeated evidence that sufferers have found in chiropractic the thing that has freed them of suffering.

Use Alcohol As An Anaesthetic

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29 (AP)—Alcohol, applied by an intravenous injection, has been successfully used as an anaesthetic by Dr. Miguel Garcia. The doctor removed a kidney without the patient showing the least pain during an operation which lasted more than an hour.

Medical authorities said that the advantage of the use of alcohol was that it stimulated the functioning of the heart and that dangers attendant upon the administration of other anaesthetics were removed.

Dr. Garcia refused to sell his formula. He said he was content to place his discovery at the disposal of the medical fraternity for the benefit of mankind.

of preaching and believed that Angelus temple would develop into a great work.

"I felt that I was recognized by the membership and the community as an active participant in church affairs. The disappearance of Mrs. McPherson was a shock to me. When I went to the church, hundreds of people spoke to me about it. Then came her return and the shock took a different aspect, a sense of outrage at the possibility of such a terrible crime having been committed. I advised Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy to discover all the facts and then the scandal started and it was suggested that she had not been kidnapped. I viewed the situation as any other church member might. I felt that I was as much involved as anyone connected with the church."

The white haired jurist gripped the arms of the witness chair and his voice trembled with emotion as he said:

"I believed that if Angelus temple went down and was destroyed I would go with it. I could not separate myself from the church. I wanted to find out the truth."

Judge Hardy told the committee that he did not file an income tax return in 1925 or notify the government of the $2,500 check. He said his salary as Judge was not taxable and he believed the $2,500 was exempt.

County Judge Barnard of Lane county told the commission that the right-of-way problem on the McKeown highway east of Springfield had been arranged and a grading contract could be awarded. Bids on this project will be called at the next meeting on February 26.

The commission assured Judge Barnard that negotiations with the Southern Pacific for right-of-way for the Siuslaw highway were progressing.

Worst Snowfall In State History

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 29 (AP)—The "conversion" blizzard, "we aren't having the winter we used to have," has been frozen stiff and buried under tons of snow in the Wisconsin and Michigan northland.

Today, as word began shivering forth from entire communities that have been winterbound for days and weeks, some idea of the season's severity was realized.

Kewauqua, Wis., was one of the places where the oldest residents were ready to admit that never before, in their memory, had there been such a winter.

roads have been completed. He goes still further and commits himself as being ready to support a proposal to increase the state gasoline tax to 5 cents a gallon and apply the proceeds to speeding up completion of the road program.

Senator Bell represents another fraction in the road battle. His resolution likewise dictates that the roads on the designated program shall be completed before any new ones are given a place on the highway map, but he and his friends advocate that all new construction be financed out of current receipts from automobile licenses and the gasoline tax, and are opposed to any additions to the bond load.

Six new bills were added to the business of the house this morning with three of the six introduced by Anderson, Carlin and Hamilton. Briggs of Jackson county fathered the first, H. B. 286, which is a curative act relating to children and property rights where divorce decrees have been granted.

With the explanation that if some of the cities of the state bear their share of the county road levies, all of the cities should be required to do so, members of the automobile and roads committee of the house unanimously agreed Tuesday evening to recommend that H. B. 154, introduced by Egbert of Wasco, do pass.

The bill, if passed, will affect The Dalles, Mosier, and Dufur in Wasco county, Tillamook in Tillamook county, Jacksonville in Jackson county, and Yoncalla in Douglas county, all exempt at present by legislative charter from sharing in the county road tax burden.

Senator Butt of Yamhill county made a futile attack today on the policy of employing committed clerks at salaries ranging from $5 to $10 a day.

Butt took the floor when a concurrent resolution authorizing the joint committee on insurance to employ a clerk at $6 a day. The Yamhill Senator declared that among others so far employed is one clerk at $1 a day for a committee to which has been referred only one bill, and another at $5 on a committee which has only two bills under consideration and one at $10 on another committee to which has been referred only two bills.

"I know I am considered a crank and that I am accused of playing to the galleries," Butt said, "but it is time a halt to be called in these proceedings."

The public buildings committee reported approval of the Mosier-Corbett bill for a $100,000 appropriation to match a government appropriation for the Champour Memorial building, but recommended that because it carries an appropriation it be referred to the ways and means committee. The report was adopted.

The senate does not believe with the repeal of laws committee that military training should not be authorized in the high schools, and today killed by indefinite postponement a bill to repeal the military training law.

The senate adopted house joint memorial No. 3, calling upon congress to complete construction of the Deschutes reclamation project.

The house passed seven repeal bills and two senate joint memorials memorializing congress to revise and increase tariff rates on Hilbert nuts and to increase tariff rates on poultry and poultry products.

Senator Upton today introduced a bill to exempt from the gasoline tax the use of motor vehicles used in rural mail delivery.

Senator Bell introduced a bill providing for the payment of the cost of improvement of streets in Eugene on which abuts property of the University of Oregon.
