Mrs. Claude Berry Hostess To Club At Oliver Home

Mrs. Claude Berry was hostess to members of the Waukena Bridge club yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jack Oliver. Three tables of bridge were at play with first prize going to Mrs. J. L. Brandt and second to Mrs. James Orndall.

The hostess served a delightful two-course luncheon following the cards. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. James Orndall.

A delightful birthday party was given in honor of Josephine McHugh Saturday afternoon at her home on N. avenue by her mother, Mrs. J. L. McHugh. Decorations were in keeping with the Valentine season. The honor guest received many lovely gifts.

The afternoon was spent playing games after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests were: Helen Ashley, Winifred Scott, Larrille Thompson, Opal Conner, Ruth Nelson, Muriel Gray, On Mae Hough, Estelle Lyell, Ella Ingie, Doris Duncan, Elsie Waldroff, Janet Hingner, and Josephine McHugh.

The next meeting will be in charge of On Mae Hough.

Mrs. A. T. Hill was in charge of the afternoon program of the Art Research club which met at her home yesterday. Corot, the French landscape artist of the early 19th century, was the topic for an interesting talk given by Mrs. Hill.

Mrs. Ray Murphy will be in charge of the next meeting of the club.

Nine Sacalawa camp fire girls enjoyed a sleigh ride Sunday afternoon in a sled driven by E. E. Hughes. After the outdoor party the girls were guests at the home of Juanita and Barbara Stittinger.

Miss Price Will Wed Mr. Eisman Jr.

Of interest to La Grande people is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Hazelmary Price, of Portland, to George Eisman Jr., of Portland. Miss Price is the niece of Mrs. A. T. Hill, of La Grande, and is widely known in this city. She has visited here many times.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Price. Mr. Price is manager and publisher of the Oregonian. Miss Price is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mr. Eisman is a graduate of Stanford university and a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He is engaged in the automobile business in Portland.

Announcement of the date of the wedding has not been made.

The Topknot Camp Fire girls met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Hough on East Adams avenue. The girls made plans for a camp fire ceremonial to be held Feb. 18 and for a sleigh ride next Saturday.

Miss Sarah Williamson, grand-daughter, was present at the meeting as were the following girls: On Mae Hough, Lorraine Lohrman, Dorothy Hooper, Eve Kuhn, Wanda Kautford and Gorgemina Lockwood.

The next meeting will be in charge of On Mae Hough.

Oliver P. Morton Relief Corps met Saturday for the regular monthly luncheon and program. A feature of the luncheon was a birthday cake for E. M. Murphy in honor of his 84th birthday. The figure 84 was baked on the cake with birthday candles.

Community singing was enjoyed. Mrs. Braden read a poem, "The Dark Candidate," and Nedra Bradshaw read "The Speeches of Lincoln." Mrs. A. P. Nelson read "Washington and the Negro Man."

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War pinned a red carnation on each of the G. A. R. members and on their mother, Mrs. Braden.

Mrs. Braden presided at a business meeting. Forty-seven were in

Brazilian Women Cast Away Old Restraints

By CHARLES S. SMITH (Chief of Foreign Service, Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—Women in the commercial cities of Brazil have escaped completely from their cloistered past. There are no more barred windows in Brazil suggestive of Portugal or Spain and no swains chant their love songs from the street.

Brazil is the New World. Its women do not wear black gowns and black veils, and there are no women with face shawls over their heads.

The ancestors of Brazilian women from the Mediterranean countries and central Europe may have come to European customs when they first came to South America. But, this generation has shaken off all old World trimmings and seized the freedom of a new era.

Everything Modern. Bobbed hair, short skirts, ankle-length slippers and small felt hats—in spite of the brilliant sun—are seen everywhere. Smart girls drive their own sport cars. Women ride across saddles on the bridge paths along the beautiful beaches.

There is mixed bathing everywhere along Rio's miles of ocean front and the costumes are just the same as one sees at the Lido or Atlantic City.

Women may go through the streets of Brazilian cities unaccompanied day or night, without being stared at by men after the fashion of Madrid and many other cities in Southern Europe.

Women Employes. In shops and offices there are women employes everywhere. They are in the banks, export houses and travel agencies.

Brazilian women clearly do not live in the past. They are tending and doing just as women are in the United States, and their makeup suggests a Fifth Avenue beauty

Parisian imitation diamonds are just as numerous in Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro as they are in Manhattan. The young men of Santos take their sweethearts to the movies without any chaperons. Most of the films are Hollywood productions.

Beggars are not encountered. Loufers are scarce. Men and women alike have caught the spirit of modern trade which has invaded Brazil. Everyone steps with a lively pace that is general in many parts of Latin America. One must step lively in Rio de Janeiro to

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 5 (AP)—Failure of Crystal May Wagonblast to identify any of the policemen she said she saw take money from a rooming house proprietor where she was employed, she declared, in an illicit occupation, caused the county grand jury to take no action in the matter. It became known here. The girl had testified that policemen had been taking protection money from operators of houses of ill repute. Several rooming house proprie-
