Lecture On Art In Gardens Given By Mrs. Mossman

An illustrated lecture on "Art in Oregon Gardens," by Mrs. E. J. Mossman, was given yesterday afternoon as the very interesting feature of the meeting of the La Grande Neighborhood Club.

Mrs. Mossman explained the characteristics of an artistic flower garden and yard. She stressed the need for contrast of "background" in coloring and arrangement, for trees to give a background and "skyline".

The 50 colored slides showed pictures of some of Portland's finest residence gardens, particularly rockeries.

The first quality which a successful rockery must possess, said Mrs. Mossman, is "naturalness." A rock garden can't be placed just anywhere. It must have a foundation of natural location, so that it appears to belong there. For that reason most of the Portland rockeries shown are located on steep inclines.

In keeping with the flower garden afternoon Mrs. Sherwood accompanied Mrs. Mossman. A rock garden can't be placed just anywhere. It must have a foundation of natural location, so that it appears to belong there. For that reason most of the Portland rockeries shown are located on steep inclines.

After the garden program Miss Janet McKellar, of New York, national associated field secretary of the Camp Fire Girls association, spoke briefly to the women, telling of the work of the members of her organization.

The flower garden program was directly in keeping with this year's "birthday project" for the national Camp Fire organization, said Miss McKellar. Combining two of the tenets of the organization to "seek beauty," and to "give service," Camp Fire girls all over the country will engage in a flower garden and yard beautifying program for 1929.

Mrs. Frank Conner, of Union, attended the meeting and gave a report of the clubhouse in her city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Webb entertained the La Grande club at their apartment in the Pennycuik building last night at a bridge party, which was followed by a two-course luncheon.

Mr. T. J. McEwen and Mrs. Sherwood entertained last night at a dinner at the clubhouse. The dinner was a two-course affair and conversation afterwards went on until late in the evening.

Wisteria Bridge Club Entertained

The Wisteria Bridge club met last night with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farnum. Three tables were at play with first prize for high club going to Mr. and Mrs. Sherold Ewin. Guest prize went to Mrs. D. B. Mosby.

The hostess served a two-course luncheon following the cards. Decorations were in keeping with the Valentine motif. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Ewin Feb. 19.

The painters of the middle renaissance, Philip Lippi and Ferno Gino, were discussed by Mrs. W. H. Miller at the meeting of the Ramblers Art class Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. S. Robinson.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Carl on the occasion of her birthday, Mrs. Louise Barnett entertained with a surprise dinner party last night at the Kacajawa Inn.

Covers were laid for 15 at the 7:30 o'clock dinner. Cards were played during the evening with first prize going to Elva Moss and consolation to Nell Swan.

Mrs. Carl received a lovely gift, Louise Barnett was chairman of the committee in charge.

Camp Fire Leader Guardians' Guest

Ways to bring variety into the programs of Camp Fire meetings and bits of advice as to the best way to help Camp Fire girls were discussed last night by Miss Janet McKellar, of New York, at the meeting of the Camp Fire guardians of La Grande held at the home of Mrs. Leif H. Aves. Miss McKellar is associate national field secretary of the association.

The following are a few bits of advice to guardians which Miss McKellar finds apply best to the leadership of girls:

1. Don't spend all your time finding things for the girls to do.
2. Help them to think for themselves. It is occasionally wise to

Men to Be Slim, Women Plump This Spring

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Men are running away from the women instead of following in their fashion footsteps. Women will be plump this spring, but men will be slim. The girl who is chic will accentuate her "curves" in dress, while man will assume the sylphlike form which has been the feminine role for a number of years. Wider and looser skirts for women, but narrower trouser bottoms and snugger waistlines will be the spring vogue for the well dressed male.

Just how the correctly attired man will be garbed this spring and summer will be revealed in detail at the convention and exposition of the national Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers to be held at Atlantic City, March 3 to 8, when hundreds of stylists and designers from all sections of the United States will gather at the Ambassador Hotel to talk over the style situation.

The above glimpse of how man will appear, if he adheres to fashion's dictates, in comparison to the woman who abides by the style degree of the fashionable fashionist, was given today by Joseph L. Pinto, president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers.

And as for color, woman is expected to run rampant this year, but man will hold himself in restraint along the color line, if he takes the advice of the clothing stylists, who while they admonish against a hint of sombreness, urge the man who would be well dressed to keep aloof from the vivid stripes and daring, modernistic designs which have been so conspicuous for the past few seasons in men's attire.

"The tendency of men's clothes this spring seems to be toward a snuggier waistline in coats and narrower bottomed trousers," said Mr. Pinto. "The 19-inch bottom trouser is giving away to the 18-inch, and 17 inches may be the vogue before long."

Styles are constantly changing, but correct dress never does, according to Mr. Pinto.

Capital Beauty

One of the most prominent Washington debutantes this season is Miss Peggy Tyler, who was presented recently at a ball given in her honor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alanzo Tyler and spends much of her time traveling abroad with her parents.

The other boys who were with Rex, pulled him home upon the toboggan.

The 61 inches of snow which fell during the month of January, is 19 inches more than the entire snowfall of the winter of 1927-28, according to the readings at the government station. The precipitation for January was 2.06 inches. The last day of the month, 39 inches of snow still lay on the ground.

The Baptist Young People's union are having a party Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Dong. The young folk will meet at the church and proceed to the Van Dong home by sleigh.

Robert Laird spent several days at the J. C. Miller ranch while Mr. Miller was called to jury duty at La Grande. Owing to the heavy snow, Mr. Miller and John Richards, who also was on the jury, returned to Union by train and from there to Cove horse back.

The Baptists are holding prayer meeting at the home of Melvin Loree Thursday evening.

Mrs. Jim Houston has been ill of the flu, but is much improved at this time.

It is reported that the engagement of Miss Margaret Creasey, a student at Whitman college, to John Bradner, of La Grande, was announced Monday. Both the young people are well known in Cove. Miss Creasey is the daughter of the Venerable S. W. Creasey, of Pendleton.

Elmer Wheeler, who has been snow bound in the Cove for some time, left Tuesday morning for Weiser, Idaho, where he expects to spend the remainder of the winter.

REPORT REAL ESTATE CODE LAST EVENING

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 6 (AP)—The new real estate code, known as H. R. 243, was reported out favorably by the real estate committee of the house Tuesday night following a hearing attended by representatives of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate association who endorsed the bill in the midst with only a few minor changes in the present law. The bill, it was stated, was practically the same as that passed by the senate, and the clause which abolished the office of real estate commissioner. The new bill, it is estimated, will increase the revenues of the state department about $5000 a year.

Major changes in the code increase the broker's bond from $1000 to $2000 and provides for a straight broker license fee of $7.50 instead of $5 if sought within ten days. The new bill, if it becomes a law, is effective January 1, 1929.
