Miss Mabel Doty, Miss Stearns Give Valentine Party

Miss Mabel Doty and Miss Mae Stearns entertained with a charming valentine party last night at 10 Oak street.

Refreshments for the evening were served in the studio which was colorfully decorated. Bouquets of red carnations were used. Refreshments all the guests had to take an "intelligence" test and to open of valentine gifts each of the guests caused much merriment.

Four tables of bridge were at play during the evening. Dr. W. H. White was awarded first prize for high score and Cora Scott second consolation.

The guests were: Ruth Herzberg, Ann Arnold, Mable Herzinger, Marie Tiggelbeck, Mima Cooper, Florence Williams, Cora Scott, Martha Walsinger, Arta Verly, Adya Miller, Dr. Wilkes, Alice Arquardt and Ethel Bickford.

One of the most interesting affairs of the year was held by P. E. O. Thursday when Mrs. George Hirtle delivered the book, "Luther," by Grazia Deledda as the program for the Thursday meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Richardson.

The author of the book was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1927. She is Italian. Mrs. Hirtle's report was highly enjoyed.

Mrs. F. A. Epling assisted Mrs. Richardson as hostess.

Dr. Margaret Ingie entertained members of Clio club with a charming bridge luncheon Wednesday at the Sacajawea Inn. Three tables of bridge were at play with first prize for high score going to Mrs. Fred Lanzar.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson was hostess at a delightful bridge luncheon at her home Thursday when members of the Alpha club were guests.

Bouquets of daffodils and orchid sweet peas were used in keeping with the color scheme of orchid and yellow.

Card honors for the afternoon went to Mrs. H. M. Bay.

The Coterie Bridge club was entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Maxam. Three tables of bridge were played. High scores went to C. P. Hutchens and Mrs. J. H. Robertson. Consolation went to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thomas. The hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. Denver Charlton entertained members of the Helonah club yesterday afternoon at bridge. Mrs. James Oneal received first prize for high score and second went to Mrs. Clyde Charlton.

A three-course luncheon was served with the guests seated at one long table which was very attractive with a valentine centerpiece consisting of a vase of red carnations with lighted tapers on either side. Valentine paper cards were used.

Missionary Group Elects Officers

Election of officers for the year was held yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church. The following were named: president, Mrs. Lynne Bohnenkamp, vice president, Mrs. L. B. Moe, secretary, Mrs. H. P. Lewis; treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Baker; secretary of literature, Mrs. Jennie Thompson; chairman of program committee, Mrs. Ray Murphy; chairman of over-sewing, Dr. Margaret Ingie.

The program on "Stewardship" was in charge of Dr. Ingie, who was assisted by Mrs. E. P. Mossman, Mrs. A. T. Hill and Mrs. I. C. Bower.

Mrs. Claude Willcock entertained with two very enjoyable readings. Hostesses for the afternoon who served refreshments were: chairman, Mrs. J. K. Wright; Mrs. H. P. Lewis, Miss Kuhl, Mrs. Dudge and Mrs. Eva Wisler.

Honoring Mrs. Doris Alspaugh, of Los Angeles, Cal., who is visiting in La Grande, her former home, Mrs. E. Hollister entertained Wednesday afternoon with a bridge party.

Mrs. Recklin was awarded first prize for bridge and guest prize went to Mrs. Alspaugh.

Mrs. Alspaugh and her children, Marie and Robert, are visiting her father and her brother, Chas. Van Fleet, in this city.

She has many friends here and has been the inspiration for many informal social affairs during her visit.

THEIR WEDDING IS EVENT OF SEASON

Society leaders from several cities were present and nearby traffic was tied up for hours by the curious crowds, when Henry Huddleston Rogers, Jr., of New York and Miss Virginia Lincoln of Cleveland were married at the First Unitarian church in Cleveland. Among the guests were Millicent Rogers, the former Countess Sand, sister of the bridegroom. The bride is the daughter of a Cleveland physician.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Grape fruit juice, cereal cooked with chopped figs, cream, raised buckwheat pancakes, sirup, milk, coffee, crisp toast for "juniors."

LUNCHEON—"Pigs in blankets," whole wheat bread and lettuce sandwiches, apple tapioca pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Scallops poached in milk, candied sweet potatoes, asparagus and lettuce salad, raisin pie, milk, coffee.

One cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup granulated sugar and 1/4 cup water are boiled five minutes to make an excellent substitute for maple sirup.

To make "pigs in blankets," wrap one large oyster or two small ones in a thin slice of bacon and fasten securely with wooden toothpicks. Broil in a hot frying pan until bacon is crisp on all sides and serve at once with slices of lemon.

Raisin Pie
 Two cups seeded raisins, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Cook raisins in boiling water for five minutes. Add grated rind of lemon and sugar, cornstarch and salt mixed and sifted. Cook, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and stir in lemon juice. Let cool and bake between two crusts. Serve cold.

One cup of chopped walnut meats can be added to the raisin mixture just before filling pie for baking. (Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

PATIENTS RESCUED
 CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Twenty patients were carried to safety by nurses and two patients were overcome by smoke and later revived today after fire had broken out in the south wing of the Chicago sanitarium for nervous and insane patients in South Prairie avenue. Special alarms were sounded to bring extra fire apparatus to fight the flames.

TOKYO (AP)—A compulsory course in archery has been added to the curriculum of a Tokyo high school for girls. "Archery," said the principal, "is an introduction to etiquette."

Nicholas Murray Butler says that no law which has to do with human thought, speech or conduct can be enforced. And if that isn't taking in a lot of territory, it will have to be left out.

Mardi Gras, In New Orleans, Will Reach Its Peak Feb. 12--Rex' Day

By Marguerite Young (Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Hundreds of Rex, supreme monarch of merriment, already have tinged this Crescent City with the Mardi Gras air—the world famed carnival atmosphere which will reach its height Feb. 12.

Good roads, made better by improvements last year, will invite thousands of motorists. Additional thousands will come by train and boat.

Since Twelfth night—a dozen days after Christmas—the fashionable of the city have been whirling in a series of lavish entertainments. Albanians, Atlantians—dozens of secret clans—have gathered, their members masked, at balls displaying increasing pomp, pageantry and revelry.

In the old section, the Vieux Carre, Madame Beauchaire and the other vendors of costumes and masks have filled their windows with the habiliments of Pleurost, Galkhoids, Indians, mammoths, gypsies, Spanish cavaliers, and a hundred fabulous characters.

On Rex' day—the Mardi Gras—these garbs and thousands palm-takenly prepared in private homes will parade in the streets. The city will give itself over to the business of making merry.

Meanwhile, Rex' harbingers—tangible messages appearing in the local press, as well as intangible signals in the city's streets and homes—are heralding the approach of the monarch.

Chamber of commerce officials and other practical souls are preparing hotel space and arranging to suspend traffic that the streets may become one seething, myriad-colored caterpillar made of thousands of human beings.

Rex will emerge from his secret den—the whereabouts of which is supposedly unknown—to ride through the adoring crowds. Lesser potentates will precede him, the day before and on the eve of Mardi Gras. Each will have his own parade, his own acclaim in confetti-filled streets, and his own exclusive ball.

But the climax will be reached when Rex comes forth in satin and jewels, with his queen beside him on a fairy-like chariot, just before noon on Mardi Gras.

Then, all business forgotten, all ears barred, the city will proclaim its mystic ruler.

At dusk, as magically as it came, the safety and color will be snuffed out. The city will rest.

As masks are removed, the population will turn toward home and make haste to fill their windows with the habiliments of Pleurost, Galkhoids, Indians, mammoths, gypsies, Spanish cavaliers, and a hundred fabulous characters.

The Passing Show of 1929

It's a show that changes every day. Keeps abreast of the times. Always up to date—ever in step with the mode, or a little ahead—turning the spotlight for you on the things that are new, smart, stylish, convenient—desirable.

The Passing Show of current times—the advertisements in your newspaper. Packed with interest—alive with the vitality and surging change of this modern day.

The advertisements are more than reliable buying guides. Indications of quality they are, surely—for today no manufacturer can win lasting success by buying publicity for a cheap or shoddy product. Advertising weeds out the unfit. But more than that—advertisements are the fascinating daily record of progress in industry—of advances in the world of goods and services. And of such things you need to be fully informed—for you are the one who buys them.

Buy intelligently—with open eyes. Read the advertisements every day. Compare values... know what's new, what's better, and why. When you start out to spend money—be informed!

Make it a habit to follow the advertisements. Every day there's a new edition of The Passing Show!
