MADISON SQUARE MAKES COMEBACK

Big Bill Carey, Jack Dempsey and John S. Hammond Successors

By Edward J. Neil (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—From Florida, land of the waving palm, and from the more prosaic confines of Madison Square Garden, comes the answer to the question that only a few short weeks ago confronted the finest minds of the stock market.

They wanted to know who ever could replace Tex Rickard and what would become of the Garden when the tall Texan passed away just as he was embarking on the most ambitious schedule of his fantastic career. And with the passing of each day, the answers of three of the men who helped Tex to his greatest successes became louder.

May Get Profit Splitting the tasks left them by death, the Bill Carey, the man who actually built the Garden and still owns most of it, and Jack Dempsey, whose thudding fists paid off the mortgage, are nursing into life and health the orphan infant Rickard left in Miami Beach.

With little hope of financial success, caring only to maintain the prestige of Rickard and the Garden with as little loss as possible, Carey and Dempsey seem well on the way to bringing home a profit from the battle of the Everglades.

While the right wing gradually is turning Young Stripling's scrap with Jack Sharkey into something more than a benefit for the Boston sailor man, the Garden is steaming along under the management of the tall West Pointer, Col. John S. Hammond, toward bigger dividends than the corporation has ever known before.

New Records Aided by the shrewd match-making of Tom McArdle, Hammond has promoted seven fight cards in the past eight weeks that have packed the Garden to capacity, turned away and created new attendance records with each successive show.

The silver-haired colonel has turned the trick by replacing the showmanship that once saturated the Garden with hard-earned business. He has cut salary and other expenses an average of $100,000 a year. Boxers are battling for him for six per cent less than ever before in the Garden's history.

Flat expenses for running the building are almost five per cent less than they were a year ago.

AL CORNSWEET

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The outstanding athlete is not always without scholastic honors. Take "Al" Cornsweet, for instance. He was captain of the Brown University football team last season. He has won letters in three sports.

And when the Rhodes Scholars were chosen this winter, Albert U. Cornsweet's name was one of the two picked in the state of Rhode Island, for with his interest in outdoor sports and his qualities of leadership he also combined scholastic attainments.

colander's outfit. One year ago, the price range under Rickard ran between $5 to $25 for the best seats. Several shows played to $15 tops. Then a federal tax of 25 per cent was imposed on all tickets over $5 and prices came tumbling down. The colonel now charges $5, sometimes $2.50, for his best seats and despite the reduction, the Garden profits increased 54 per cent in December and were somewhat higher in January than during the corresponding periods last year.

And that isn't all the good news in store for Garden stockholders. Since the start of the season, the two New York representatives in the national hockey league have played to 29 per cent larger houses than last season. With the Americans fighting for lead in the Canadian division and Col. Hammond's Rangers in first place in the American section, bigger and better profits seem to be in order straight through March with both teams in the Stanley cup playoff series.

Stagg Opposed To Grid Fumble Rule

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, dean of American football coaches, is opposed to the proposed change in the rules making all fumbles dead at the point of recovery by the defensive team.

"I have never opposed changes in the rules when I thought they were added to the game," Mr. Stagg said today. "But I am opposed to the change in the fumble rule, because I cannot see that it helps the game, or will be attractive to the spectators."

Had been finished today in the huge Flamingo Park arena where Jack Sharkey and Young Stripling will engage in fistcliffs February 27. Contractors have informed Promoter Jack Drummond that finishing touches will be put on the stadium within a few days.

Promoter Jack has been drawing up the preliminary card during the last few days, and has announced that eight or nine hours will precede the main go.

Johnny Grossio and Marty Gallagher will meet in the semi windup, while Stripling's younger brother, "Baby," will appear in another number against Andy Callahan.

Eliminate One Tonight Either Matsuyama or Schaefer will be eliminated from the title hunt today.

The Japanese's reverse at Cochran's hands was a heart-breaking affair accomplished in 19 innings of tense play. Cochran started off consistently running up a lead of 163 to 26 in the first four innings. At this point Matsuyama, with characteristic courage put together runs of 81, 16 and 122 to lead 255 to 210 at the close of the seventh inning. From then on it was an up-hill battle for Cochran. Leading by 211 to 263 at the end of the 14th inning, Matsuyama strung together 52 errors to boost his total to 253.

California And Washington Are Almost Certain

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12 (AP)—The basketball title chance in the northern and southern divisions of the Pacific Coast conference are just about over. The University of Washington five has definitely clinched its section championship while in the southern division the University of California quietest is far in front, and assured of a title as long as they can win.

The championship series between the Bears and the Huskies will probably be played in Seattle, February 28, March 1 and 2.

Only one conference game was played on the Pacific Coast last night, and in that Washington walked over the University of Montana team by the overwhelming 15 to 27 score.

Football officials of the Big Ten went on strike for higher pay recently. Maybe they figure they haven't been getting a run for their money.

Matsuyama Goes Down In Match With Cochran

By Herbert W. Barker (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Kindred Matsuyama's bold bid for the world's 18.2 blunkline billiards crown has been checked by Welker Cochran who calls Hollywood, Cal., his home.

Cochran, winner of the last tournament in Washington in 1927, trailed in the closing innings of his struggle with the little Japanese last night and won 400 to 272.

The Californian's victory put him in a tie with Matsuyama for the lead. Each has three victories and one defeat. A step behind is Young Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, perhaps the outstanding favorite for the title. Schaefer has won two matches out of three. The other three contestants, Edouard Heremans, of Belgium; Eric Haggenmacher, of Germany; and Felix Grange, of France, all passed from the picture during the first week of play in the round robin tournament.

Although obviously off his game, Cochran, by dint of great effort, ran 192 to take the lead by two points. Safety play was to order thereafter, the Californian finally running out with an unbroken string of twenty-five in the 19th inning.

Schulmerich Signs Angel Contract

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP)—Wes Schulmerich, young outfielder who played an outstanding game last year in his first complete season in the Pacific Coast baseball league has quietly retired that he is a holdout by signing his 1929 Los Angeles club contract.

It is true that Schulmerich for a short time was a holdout, sending one contract back to the Angel club, but since that time he has come to terms.

Club officials also revealed today that Carl Holling, pitcher, who was purchased from the Mission club, has accepted terms and would sign his contract sometime during the day. Holling worked out with the other pitchers yesterday, when they and the catchers opened spring training.

First Contingent Of Cubs Nearly Set

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—If Clyde Day, a rookie hurler from Omaha, was signed up, the first contingent of the Chicago Cubs would be ready to leave for Catalina Island, their spring training camp. The pitchers and catchers along with several other players leave Thursday.

Day, who won 17 and lost 13 games with Omaha, has returned his contract with no signature and called to answer letters, according to President W. L. Veck.

Paavo Nurmi Turns To Daily Sun Baths

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Paavo Nurmi is going to try a little sunshine to take the stiffness out of his muscles. After one defeat and a lot of hard work in his running, he has decided he needs to get his muscles loosened up a bit before he can resume his record breaking. He has received permission to use the solarium of the New York A. C. for daily sun baths to absorb a few ultra-violet rays through its special glass.

Despite of Hill and were interested in the cash he would bring, but they also wanted Taylor. The Cubs preferred to hang on to their promising rookie.

Be proud of your Home in 1929

A PROMINENT psychologist tells us that people who live in comfortably furnished homes sleep better, live happier, and that their minds are better attuned to battle with the world. Naturally, they make more money and everyone has more respect for them. It behooves all of us, therefore, to furnish our homes so well to proud of them in 1929.

"I smoke a Lucky instead of eating sweets."

Grace M. Hay Drummond Hay
Lady Grace Drummond Hay, only woman passenger on the Graf Zeppelin.

"The fact that we were not permitted to smoke from the time the Graf Zeppelin left Friedrichshafen until we landed at Lakehurst only increased my appetite for a Lucky Strike. Oh, how good that first one tasted! I'm really keen for Lucky Strike—the toasted flavor is delightful. I smoke a Lucky instead of eating sweets—that's what many men have been doing for years. I think it high time we women smoked Luckies and kept our figures trim."

GRACE M. HAY DRUMMOND HAY

The modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skillfully blended, then roasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.
