Mr. Cochran, past grand master and associate grand patron of the Order of Eastern Star, was one of the main speakers of the evening.

Four Hours From Cove—It took a party of Cove persons four hours to drive to La Grande yesterday due to the snow which still lies deep on the roads in that section of the valley. Two passenger cars and a truck were in the caravan which left Cove at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. O'Connell, riding a saddle horse, assisted in pulling the truck driven by M. R. Witte through some of the difficult parts of the road. Other members of the party were: Mrs. J. B. Breshers, Ed Vlack and Royal Conley.

FAMOUS ACTRESS IS DEAD TODAY

Lily Langtry, One-time Friend of King Edward, Passes in Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Lily Langtry, famous actress and long known as "the Jersey Lily," died here today after an attack of bronchitis.

The famous beauty and one-time friend of King Edward VII, had been ill for the past three weeks. Her condition grew worse with the cold weather which has been sweeping all parts of Europe during the last few days.

King Her Friend

"The Jersey Lily," as she was known to thousands of her admirers, was one of the loveliest women of her day and had a wide circle of friends, including King Edward and other members of royal families in Europe.

She conquered America as well as the rest of the English-speaking theater-going world in her numerous tours a generation and more ago and remained a great public favorite to the time of her retirement about fifteen years ago.

Lady De la Roche, who was almost 77, was stricken ill in London early this winter and left for the Riviera, apparently having reached convalescence last month. The report of her death came as a shock to London and England generally where memories of her triumphs, her beauty and histrionic art were warmly cherished by the older generation of play goers and members of high British society.

Biographical

Lily Langtry retired from the stage in 1915, although occasionally she appeared in vaudeville, going to the United States in 1916 for a vaudeville tour. Previously she had appeared many times in America and Canada and it was said that she had accumulated more than $500,000 on her trip.

From 1916 to 1927, her name did not appear often in dispatches, but in that year she was mentioned in connection with a libel case brought by Captain Peter Wright against Lord Gladstone, son of the late William E. Gladstone, England's "grand old man." Captain Wright had linked the prime minister's name with that of Lily Langtry in a biography. Lord Gladstone, 75-year-old son of the older Gladstone, publicly referred to Captain Wright as a "liar, coward and fool," and the libel suit resulted.

Repeats Testimony

In February, 1927, Lily Langtry, then at Monte Carlo, sent a telegram repudiating testimony of Captain Wright that he had been told the famous actress at one time was intimate with the older Gladstone. The telegram read: "I strongly repudiate the slanderous accusation of Peter Wright."

Previously Captain Wright had expressed regret for bringing the actress' name into the case.

passed completely out for a minute or so. We allowed him to take his spots so far. He has given us a general outline. We will question him again and pick up the threads of this remarkable confession."

A Series of Cases

Getzoff, who had been in the jail hospital, was back there today following a physical examination after his conference with the district attorney. He was said to have acted as "receiver" and "pay-off" man between defendants in criminal cases and the districts attorney's office under the Keyes regime, with politicians taking a "cut" of the asserted contributions.

In his cell in the county jail Keyes remained unmoved in the face of reports of disclosures by Getzoff. "Getzoff can't hurt me by anything he says," said the former district attorney. "I know of no instance in which he can name me. Of course I don't know everything that went on in his tailor shop any more than I would know what happened in any other tailor's office. My position is just the same as it was the day I first went to court. This is a fight and I have lost the first round and the fight is just well under way. I will see it through to the finish."

Sentence Postponed

Sentence of Keyes, Getzoff and Rosenberg who appeared for a hearing before Superior Judge Hartley Shaw yesterday was postponed until Thursday, when Superior Judge Edwin L. Butler of Marin county, before whom the men were tried, is expected to return to pass sentence.

er today while everywhere heavy snows disorganized railroad service, telephone and telegraph communications.

Reports of famished wolves invading streets in villages and towns continued to pour into Vienna, the dispatches relating that fifteen persons had been attacked, most of them fatally.

The famine situation in Besarabia was steadily growing more serious because of the exhaustion of food supplies and the failure of relief trains to arrive from Bucharest, having stalled in the snow. All high schools, universities and public schools in Yugoslavia were closed. The Sava and Danube rivers were frozen solidly.

PENDLETON FRIGID

PENDLETON, Ore., Feb. 12 (AP)—The temperature dropped to ten degrees below zero here last night. The weather was clear but cold today.

Cove High Wins From Powder By Score of 24-19

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin (Observer Correspondent)

COVE, Ore. (Special)—Cove high school basketball team won from North Powder last Saturday evening by a score of 24 to 19. The game was played at North Powder. Due to the storm, this is the first game Cove has played for three weeks. The next game scheduled is to be Friday evening, Feb. 15, with Imbler, here. The Cove line-up is Dell Puckett and Eugene Tivy; Robinson, guards; Dean Puckett, center; and David Welmer and Jim Ogilvy, forwards.

Hans Selford, the Union county cream tester, made his monthly visit Thursday, Feb. 7. He was due here Jan. 27, but was unable to make the trip until last week, when he came in on skis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Vlack and children, of Preston, Ida., are guests at the home of Mrs. Van Vlack's aunt, Mrs. John Allen. They may decide to locate here.

Miss Heryl Conley, who is studying music at St. Paul's school, Walla Walla, visited at the home of her father, L. N. Conley, Saturday. This is the first time she has been at home since last fall. She returned to Walla Walla Sunday morning.

Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. L. J. Chadwick entertained the Ladies Guild Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Miller. As this was the last party of the season, plans were made for the activities of the Guild during Lent. They decided to make their box work at that time and will have all day meetings with pot luck dinners. The first meeting, Saturday, Feb. 23, will be at the home of Mrs. P. F. Sturges when the ladies will begin their sewing. Their box this year will be sent to the Window school, Arkansas. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent playing bridge, with three tables at play. Mrs. J. E. Mills won high score. Lunch was served after the games. The ladies present were: Mrs. L. E. Anderson, Mrs. R. I. Barker, Mrs. G. E. Barker, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. F. H. Conklin, Mrs. Royal Conley, Mrs. L. M. Laird, Mrs. T. C. Henry, Mrs. J. E. Mills, Mrs. L. Presto, Mrs. Harriet Thomas and Mrs. P. F. Sturges. Mrs. Thomas was elected secretary for the unexpired term. Mrs. G. E. Barker, Mrs. L. M. Laird and Mrs. C. E. Bertsch were appointed a committee to take charge of the box work. J. E. Mills took the ladies to the party in his sleigh.

Apple packing is still in progress here at both the Mt. Fanny and the Stackland packing plants. George Golyar and R. I. Barker's apples are all packed and work is beginning on A. A. Antles' fruit at the Mt. Fanny plant.

Miss Thelma Anderson, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. L. E. Anderson, who is attending the Normal school at Monmouth, has

GOLD FISH THAW OUT

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Feb. 12 (AP)—Only temporary suspension of the activities of a bowl of gold fish at McKinley school near here, resulted when the temperature dropped to 14 degrees above zero and the fish were encased in a solid cake of ice. They resumed their activity when the ice cake was thawed.

The temperature was the lowest in Marshfield at any time during the past 25 years.

Balks at Old Cap

Accompanied by his guards, under-sheriff C. F. Rayburn and Deputy Jack Brown, Northcott alighted from the train at Richmond, calling for the "best taxi in town" to take him to the ferry. An old cab drew up for them and Northcott balked at getting into it, saying "I'll last longer than that machine."

Northcott said he believed Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott, who he says is his grandmother, was insane and that his 15-year-old accuser, Sanford Clark, is a psychopathic case.

ROADS IN FINE CONDITION

The highway from Portland to La Grande is in wonderful condition, says Chase Hohenkamp, who returned Sunday with Mrs. Hohenkamp and Craig Carroll. In Western Oregon the men attended a hand-down and implement dealers' convention. They made the trip from Portland in seven and a half hours. There is little traffic on the high-ways now which facilitates speed, Mr. Hohenkamp says. The convention was attended by dealers
