ABE MARTIN

HERE IS A CHANCE TO SEE WHAT THE LATE SALMON P. CHASE LOOKED LIKE. HIS MEASURE IS TO GO ON THE NEW $10,000 BILLS.

It is estimated that the traffic across the new bridge over the Detroit river will be speeded up to 980,000 quarts an hour. Somebody is after knockin' the coffee," but I can't recall that I ever heard any complaint about tea.

Here and There In Legislature

SALISBURY, Wis., Feb. 12 (AP)—House bill 374, proposing to repeal the measured service or millage tax on buses and trucks based on the "per passenger and per ton per mile" principal will today be withdrawn by the roads and highway committee. This was voted at a joint meeting of the house and senate committees Tuesday. Instead the committee will rely on the famous house bill 413 of the 1925 session in amended form.

Expected opposition to three of the property tax relief commission bills failed to materialize when the bills came up for third reading Tuesday afternoon. House members approved H. B. 129, which creates a three-man paid tax commission to replace the present commission of Governor and secretary of state, serving as ex-officio members.

and the one commissioner; they voted unanimously for H. B. 129 which gives the state tax commission general supervision of administration of assessment and tax laws for the state and power to equalize assessments between and within counties; they offered no opposition to H. B. 289, the assessor's bill which provides for additional compensation for clerical assistants and special assessors when so ordered by the tax commission.

The house passed H. B. 248, Bronaugh's bill which repeals the old real estate code and substitutes a new code.

The following bills were also passed by the house Tuesday afternoon: H. B. 306—by Collier and Chinneck—relating to the collection of irrigation and drainage district assessments and taxation.

H. B. 325—by McCourt—extending the absent voter privilege to all citizens of the state.

H. B. 431—by the Marion county delegation—relating to costs allowed in a suit or action.

H. B. 465—by the Marion county delegation—to do away with double commitment fee for insane and feeble-minded persons brought back to this state from other states.

H. B. 154—by Egbert—making all cities in counties of less than 40,000 population share in the general county road levy.

H. B. 228—by Anderson, Carlin and Hamilton—prescribing a standard and uniform system of accountability for all municipal corporations.

H. B. 291—by Childs—providing for a compulsory state audit by the secretary of state of all state institutions, commissions, boards and departments at least once a year.

H. B. 436—by Jackson county delegation—authorizing construction of a court house in Jackson county by the U. S. government.

House bills 78 and 479, companion bills introduced Tuesday afternoon make the steelhead, regardless of size, a game fish in all waters of the state, including the Columbia. The bill prohibits the commercial taking of steelhead in any of the waters and gives the game commission authority to designate the portions of streams of the state above tide-water where steelhead 15 inches or more in length may be taken by anglers.

Peter's third bill, H. B. 480, excludes steelhead and trout from the classification of salmon and prohibits the taking of small salmon and trout in any of the waters of the state of Oregon or in waters over which the state has concurrent jurisdiction by means other than by hook and line, excepting Dolly Varden trout.

Seek New Record

They hope to kill two records with one flight. If Lieut. Eric Major, above, and Squadron Leader Arthur Jones-Williams, below, British army aviators, successfully fly between London and Capetown, Africa, without stopping, they'll set new marks for sustained flight without refueling and for distance. They'll fly a huge plane with a wing span of 82 feet and a capacity of 1000 gallons of gasoline.

Aboard the Navy's Sea-Going Airports

This remarkable photo gives an idea of the size of the "landing field" aboard the U. S. S. Lexington, one of Uncle Sam's gigantic airplane carriers. It was taken just before the ship left for maneuvers off Central America. This deck is almost 100 feet wide and 900 feet long, and the ship's hangars carry 15 planes of three different types—scouting, fighting and bombing. The inset shows the wings of a bombing plane being folded back preparatory to stowing it below.

When The Alarm Clock Rings

When the alarm clock rings it's bad enough to have to turn out of a warm, comfortable bed these frosty mornings, but it's still worse if your liver is bad.

A lazy liver is the alarm clock's natural enemy. It saps the energy necessary to the pursuit of ambition. It renders you less than fifty per cent efficient and more than fifty per cent miserable. Drugging doesn't reach the cause. The cause is in the spine, displacement of the vertebrae at liver place is reducing the normal supply of nerve impulse.
