

School Resumes In Hilgard; Halt Caused by Fire

By Verma Weimer (Observer Correspondent)
HILGARD, Ore., (Special)—School has started again in Hilgard after an enforced vacation caused by the fire which destroyed the school building. Another building was remodeled, windows put in and everything is in running order. Much credit is due Mr. Sulling, chairman of the board, it is said. Joe Young, Dan Sanford and John Price worked on the building. Miss Martin went to love to visit with her mother, returning Monday morning in time to take up her work again as teacher.

Mr. Sanford, who is at the hospital at La Grande, is reported to be much improved and expects to be able to come home soon.

John Thornbush and Carl Sailing are home from the Mt. Emily camp for a few days.

Mrs. Staroff, Eva Thornbush, Verma Weimer and Arthur Cantrell were shopping in La Grande Wednesday.

Holland Thomas, of Starkey, was in town Tuesday.

There has been a number of men shoveling their way out from camp, bringing their cars out, and leaving them here. Nine are stored at the Five Point service station in charge of J. R. Weimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Staret and daughter, Doris and Virginia were visiting in La Grande Monday evening.

Little Jean Able, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Able, is confined to her bed with scarlet fever. The family is under quarantine. Mrs. Able is operator for the O-W here.

Mrs. Wagner, of Elgin, spent Thursday at Hilgard, going on to Mt. Emily camp in the evening to visit her daughters, Mrs. Melosell and Mrs. Morrison for a few days.

Mr. Wyley, who has been working in La Grande at the state shops, was called to Pendleton Wednesday, where he will take charge of a gravel shovel. Mr. Wyley has been living at the Five Point camp ground for the last three months.

Baking Powder
 Schilling

There is no substitute
 for cream of tartar
 for fine baking

There are substitutes -- but none that will produce fine baking. Ask any domestic science teacher which she prefers -- a cream of tartar baking powder or one that contains a substitute. Ask any doctor. Ask any pure food department. Any good baking powder will do an acceptable job -- but if it contains cream of tartar, you are on the safe side -- that's all. But that's enough for millions of housewives.

All cream of tartar baking powders are about the same, and sell at about the same price. But Western women have known for many years that one of them -- Schilling -- contains a full pound for their pound price. They know it means 10c in the purse every time they buy Schilling full-weight baking powder.

Read the Schilling label -- it means just what it says. That's another Schilling way of keeping faith with you.
