Groceries And Meat

The beginning of each month brings resolutions to cut down expenses and to save money. The first thing to do is to budget the income. Find out how much is to be allowed for clothing, recreation, home buying, rent, groceries and the any other items that are necessary. More money is spent for food than anything else, therefore it should be watched carefully. Start right by opening an account at Joel's. We help you in your budget in this way—that the total your account is on your slip with each day's purchase and that our low overhead and quick turnover enables us to sell at a much lower rate than other stores.
