. Burnett, one of the pro- of the Burnett Shoe com- this city and Miss Esther en of Parma, Idaho, were in marriage at a quiet but autiful ceremony perform- day in Boise. In the pre- of Mr. Burnett's sister, Mrs. Magruder and Mr. Magru- er, and his brother, F. T. Burnett and Mrs. Burnett, the service was read at high noon in the study of the Lutheran church at Boise, the pastor of that church being the officiating clergyman. A brief honeymoon was spent in Boise, and Mr. and Mrs. Burnett came to La Grande Thursday evening to make their home at 1609 Oak street.

Mr. Burnett came to La Grande in May of last year and, with his brother, opened the Burnett Shoe store. During that time he has established himself in the community and has made many friends among the business men of the city. His bride has been, until recently, a teller in the First National bank at Parma, a position which she had held for ten years. She was very active in different circles in that city, especially in the Order of the Eastern Star having been worthy matron of Mt. Olive chapter, No. 52 last year.

Last evening about 70 members of the Methodist church gathered at the church for the monthly church night, whose sole purpose is to provide an evening of entertainment and fun and to give the members a better opportunity to become real well acquainted. Those who attended last evening report that that purpose was accomplished last evening. Rev. and Mrs. Hall had arranged a program which allowed no one, apparently, to leave, when the company dispersed rather late in the evening, without knowing every other person there. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Sting and Mrs. Piper.

Willow P.-T. A. In Enjoyable Meeting

Mrs. George Lockwood and Mrs. Evelyn Bennett were the committee in charge of an enjoyable program given yesterday afternoon when the Willow Parent-Teacher association met at the school house at 2:30 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by the repeating of the Lord's Prayer. Two songs were sung by the fourth grade pupils of Miss Beryl Jones. Miss Pidcock entertained with piano numbers and Mrs. Stella Ingle gave a talk on "Women of the Old Testament." A book review was given by Mrs. Clark.

The prize picture for the month went to Miss Jones' room for the largest attendance of parents at the meeting. Mrs. John Bates, president, presided at a short business meeting.

The members of the Lucky Dozen club met Friday for a delightful afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. Kinzie at 1906 Third street. The rooms of the Kinzie home were cleverly decorated following a green and yellow color scheme. Daffodils were used for flowers.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served to the members, all of whom were present.

The next meeting of the club will be held Mar. 15 at the home of Mrs. B. G. Fritts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johansen entertained members of the Hoot Owl Bridge club last night at their home. Three tables of bridge were at play.

First prizes were awarded to Mrs. Roy Cameron and Blake Shields. Mrs. Louis Larson and Roy Cameron received consolations.

The hostess served a two-course luncheon at the close of the evening.

Observe Birthday Of Cradle Roll

An enjoyable afternoon was spent by mothers, babies and friends, who were guests of Mrs. T. A. McKinstry, cradle roll superintendent of the Presbyterian church, Friday afternoon to celebrate the "Two Year Old Birthday" of the cradle roll department.

The community room of the church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and other decorations, gold was the color scheme. An artistic cradle had attached to it a string of cards bearing the names of the babies on the roll. Tea tables were set with burning candles. More than 80 persons were present for the program.

Miss Gladys Miller entertained with two organ numbers; a pianologue was given by Mildred Spencer and Mrs. Clyde Webb entertained with piano solos. Readings from James Whitcomb Riley by Mrs. Harry McClay were enjoyed as was a solo by Mrs. Ray Fuller, accompanied by Mrs. George Birnie. Delta and Christina Hurley read two nursery rhymes.

The Rev. J. George Walz addressed the group and lead in prayer.

Thirty-eight names were placed on the roll the first year of the organization of the department and of that number 15 were promoted to the beginners' department and 18 were added the second year so the roll now numbers 41 babies.

It was announced that none of the children has been called by death since Mrs. McKinstry took charge of the cradle roll two years ago.

Mrs. McKinstry, assisted by Mrs. Cleaver and Mrs. Jenkins, served refreshments.

Mrs. J. L. Hedden entertained the Baptist Woman's society yesterday afternoon at her home at 1604 First street. The afternoon was spent working on White Cross material.

Election of officers was held with the following named: president, Mrs. William Shade; vice president, Mrs. Harward; missionary vice president, Mrs. Lillie; recording secretary, Mrs. Sidney Happersett; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. L. Hedden; treasurer, Mrs. Chester.

Twenty-two members were present and Mrs. Hedden served refreshments.

BEAUTY APPEARS ON RADIO CHAIN

ANNETTE HASTINGS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Beauty in more ways than one is the asset of Annette Hastings. A voice that is eagerly listened to when she sings over the radio is augmented by personal attributes that have brought her victories in several California beauty contests. She has been described as "the most beautiful radio artist on the Pacific coast." Miss Hastings, 18, sings in many of the concerts broadcast on the six-station coast network of the NBC. The stations are KGO, KPO, KHQ, KOMO, KGW and KFI.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—Grape juice, cereal, cream, creamed dried beef, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of spinach soup with spinach balls, popovers honey, rice custard pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER — Veal potpie, beet greens, prune and cheese salad, butterscotch pie, milk, coffee.

Veal potpie uses a cheap cut of meat to advantage. A potpie was a favorite dish with our grandmothers and if served with a succulent vegetable and a salad makes an excellent meal according to modern standards.

Veal Potpie

Two pounds veal, 1 cup mashed potato, 2 tablespoons butter, ¼ cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt, flour, 5 potatoes.

Choose meat from knuckle or neck. Cook in water to cover until tender. Remove meat from bone and cut in neat dice. Strain stock and reserve. Make a dough of mashed potatoes, butter, milk, salt and enough flour to make stiff enough to roll. Pare and slice potatoes and parboil in a little water for ten minutes. Roll dough into a sheet about ½ inch thick. Use half of it to line the bottom of a deep casserole. Add meat and potatoes with water in which they were parboiled. Season with salt and pepper and cover with remaining crust. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Increase heat and brown crust quickly. Make a gravy of the stock and serve in a separate sauce boat.

Bringing New Money To La Grande

Since the opening of the Sacajawea Inn, the volume of hotel business in La Grande has more than tripled. Formerly a city that was avoided, it has become a city sought for because of its hotel accommodations.

This new business gained for La Grande has come because of the Sacajawea's wide reputation as one of the finest hotels in the entire Northwest with the best service and most luxurious facilities east of Portland. We value such a leadership in this great inland area—value it as a business and a community asset of real importance.

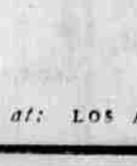
We are not changing our name . . . . We are not changing our personnel . . . . We are not changing our products or our methods of doing business.

I make this statement because of various rumors that have reached me that the Sperry Flour Co. may in some degree lose its identity through its recent amalgamation with the General Mills, Inc.

Quite the contrary is true. The new alignment has strengthened the position of the Sperry Flour Co. and insures in increasing degree the upholding of high standards in the quality of its products. Those who use Sperry products—the bakers, farmers and housewives—will profit by such economies as are possible through the augmented strength of new capital resources and increased buying power.

The Sperry Flour Co. will stand by its old trade whose loyalty it has enjoyed for three-quarters of a century. Today, with its broadened facilities, the Sperry Flour Co. will be able to offer old friends and new friends a still finer Sperry Service.



The Sperry Flour Co. has recently become a unit of the General Mills, Inc. The only change involved is that of corporate ownership. The Sperry Flour Co. remains, in every way, a Pacific Coast organization. Under the terms of the amalgamation Sperry preferred stock is being redeemed and Sperry bonds retired. Sperry common stock is being exchanged for dividend-paying stock of the General Mills, Inc. With the acquisition of the Sperry plants the daily capacity of the General Mills will be increased to 87,000 barrels. The new alignment will give all units (including Sperry Flour Co.) the benefit of nation-wide warehousing and distributing facilities.
