The Blooms are on the way to California. Weather in Portland is very springlike and pleasant and there is no snow. Mr. Hess says.

Tells of Island — On the Isle of Man, between England and Ireland, is the most fascinating and completely enjoyable pleasure resort in the world, says Charles Webb, who is in La Grande visiting his sister, Mrs. C. H. Devine at the La Grande hotel. Mr. Webb comes to La Grande with ardent praises of England because of its sports and athletics and "jolly" good times. Not that American isn't wonderful too. It is, Mr. Webb says. He loves its hills and mountains and freedom. Until two years ago he had lived in England, his native country. The people on the island make their living from tourists who come to the island to bathe along its beaches and engage in the sports it offers. Mr. Webb's hobby is athletics. In England every big store and big institution has its own athletic club and swimming pools. "We enjoy life there so much, but we don't live so fast as Americans do. Even our national game of cricket is a slower type of sport than you like. It requires steadiness and skill. We have championship tournaments in cricket between countries, much the same as you do between states," Mr. Webb says.

will go into the finals necessitating an extra game Monday. The game tonight will start at 8 o'clock.

The crowds have been record breakers throughout the tournament and another capacity crowd is expected for this afternoon.

La Grande and Baker were closely matched in their contest last night. The Tigers took an early lead but Fauss was elected because of personals and Baker showed the way for awhile.

The third quarter found the score even at 15 and each team scored five points in the last period. Toe was the outstanding La Grande player although V. Newlin was Tiger high scorer with nine. McKim of Baker, scored 11 points.

Captain E. Huffman accounted for 13 in the Ontario-Enterprise game, with the southerners leading the Wallowa county scoters scoreless in the opening period.

Sarrett Saves Cougars — Sarrett's basket shooting and floor work gave Wallowa the victory over Union. Crawford, although playing a strong brand of ball, was often hindered by the Hobcats. Delap, Union forward, furnished an excellent exhibition, scoring 15 points and going through the Wallowa defense fairly consistently.

Teddy Boy Rubs One Ear When He Is Scolded

Teddy Boy is lost, kidnaped, abducted or stolen, and his owners mourn because Teddy Boy is young and very unappreciated and tears are held for his well-being.

Teddy Boy's dimensions are one and three quarters by one foot (high). He is a black cocker spaniel. His accomplishments are many. He loves the radio, for one thing, and can be identified by his musical talent. If that fails, if the person finding a small, black dog, will look a cockle into small pieces and feed it to him, he will eat it with a relish. If not broken, he will scorn the cockle. Teddy Boy often sneezes instead of talking, although his vocabulary, says his mistress, is very good. He says, "woof" very plainly. If by chance, the person finding him will scold him, then if he immediately begins rubbing his ear, that person may be sure. None of the above carries with certainty return the doggie to Mildred Onslow and Eileen Morlock. Teddy Boy was missed from home two days ago and no clues have been found as yet. He wears a collar which was purchased last September.

License Reduction Near — All that remains to make the motor vehicle license reduction bill is the signature of Governor Patterson. The bill, which was introduced in the house, passed the senate Friday afternoon.

The automobile license reduction is approximately 25 per cent. The schedule is a result of the deliberations of a special committee appointed from the members of the 1927 senate, of which Senator Kiddle was chairman. The bill is effective in 1929.

restored in the welfare of the farm. Addressing the Missouri legislature in 1923, he said:

"In its fundamental character, and in the character of the people engaged in it, agriculture is the most intensely American industry. The greatest problem in the development of Missouri today is the development of agriculture and the rural population. Two things are primarily necessary for agriculture, greater profits and better schools."

Mr. Hyde is 51 years old. He was born in Princeton, a little town in Mercer county, Missouri. His father, Judge Ira B. Hyde, formerly was representative in congress from the second Missouri district, who later established a record of long and efficient service on the circuit bench.

Since retiring from public office, Mr. Hyde has spent most of his time in Kansas City directing the affairs of the Sentinel Life Insurance company of which he is president. He refused to become a candidate for the senatorial nomination last year and also declined to allow his name to be put forward for the vice presidency.

and the snow melted as fast as it came down. Weather predictions for Monday morning were "probably rain" although hope was held that the rain would cease before noon when Mr. Hoover will be inducted into office.

The storm by no means washed out the enthusiasm or activity of the crowds. Downtown sidewalks were alive with sightseers, and a continuous traffic jam of motors kept policemen busy all along Lower Pennsylvania avenue.

FOR LADIES ONLY — The most beautiful-like of Imported Costume Jewelry ever shown in La Grande has just been received, and is now on display at Richardson's Art & Gift Shop. All of the lovely new shades to match every color of dress will be found in this selection.

STATE CLUB LEADER HERE FOR MEETING

much on account of the size of the prize, but because it was a recognition of work done in a certain project, and that it was the work, the development derived from having an actual purpose that made club work worth while. To this statement all present agreed, for, they said, it was not so much the size of the certain project at the given time, but it was the encouraging of a smaller project which might become larger.

Monthly meetings of local club leaders was mentioned as a great help in the carrying on of the club work through the year. Considerable discussion was had on the question of a county club leader, a matter which has often had the attention of those who are enthusiastic in his discussion cited instances of the successful work done in counties where the services of a full time club leader were available. Lane county was one outstanding instance. There during the year 1928, 140 clubs were reported, having a total membership of 1395 boys and girls. This fact in itself was not so outstanding as the following statement which showed that each of those 1395 boys and girls carried his or her project through to a finish and all of the 140 clubs were 100 per cent clubs.

The further study of the poultry industry under the direction of Prof. Scudder of the college and a review of the home market survey as it had to do with the egg situation here in this county was given by L. R. Breithaupt.

In continuing his talk on the business side of poultry raising, Prof. Scudder showed by charts that a hen to be profitable, at all, must produce a minimum of 180 eggs per year. Below that figure she was a distinct loss. And also,

(1) The yield.

(2) Volume of business. Mr. Scudder stated that unless the gross annual business amounted to $3000 or more, it was decidedly unprofitable and should have immediate and constant consideration. He suggested an increase in the number of birds, 600 being the minimum, ordinarily. When the producer gets his cost below 28 cents per dozen eggs, he is war-

Some of the major factors given by Professor Scudder having been derived from the survey and from observation which figure in the successful poultry business were given as:

(3) Layout of buildings. Traveling in doing chores is the hardest work a man can do, according to Mr. Scudder.

(4) Feed. He suggested a pooling of the purchase of feed where ever possible.

(5) Keeping a record. One cannot analyze weakness in a business unless he knows the cost of production, and that is impossible unless a record of egg production and feed purchase is strictly kept.

(6) Cooperative marketing association.

Mr. Breithaupt in discussing the home market survey, stated that last year 90 per cent of the eggs consumed in Union county were produced here, also leaving only 10 per cent as having been shipped in. These came in during the fall and winter months. It was also shown that during the preceding years five times as many eggs were brought in. Also some few were shipped out during the season of high production. 228,000 dozen eggs were sold through the retail stores during 1928.

In considering the outlook for this industry this year so far as prices were concerned, Mr. Breithaupt reported that it was felt by those who know the situation that in the United States, the egg price generally speaking, for 1929 would be lower.
