In a short talk, Mrs. Helen E. Eberhart thanked the members and officers of the organization for their splendid co-operation with her during her administration.

Mrs. Hearnshaw, the new president, said she appreciated the honor of her election and expressed the wish that during the coming year she and the officers and members will co-operate in their work.

City Council Of P.-T. A. In Meeting

The La Grande City Council of Parent-Teacher associations met Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, the Willow school acting as hostess.

County Superintendent E. A. Sayre opened the meeting with prayer, which was followed by assembly singing of parent-teacher songs led by Mrs. C. E. McPherson.

The first number on the program was a talk by Mrs. J. K. Charlton on "Friction in the Home." Mrs. Charlton said that she doubted if there ever would be a home without some friction—but to minimize the amount is the aim. "There is a five year period of a child's life is mostly a training time for good habits, she continued. The most difficult period in the rearing of children is the adolescent stage with its three major problems, companions, clothes, and money for children, as well as grown-ups late to beg for money.

The second speaker, Mrs. Beatrice Young, president of the La Grande Classroom Teachers' organization, and a primary teacher in the Willow school, spoke on "What the Parent-Teacher Association Means to a Teacher." The mother is the medium through which the school and the home cooperate.

By helping the mother to the school and acquainting her with schoolroom facts and revealing from her the information about her child, a great many unpleasant situations can be eliminated for the child and his progress in school aided materially. In summary Mrs. Young said that the parent-teacher association aids teachers to understand the home and thus the child. This knowledge in turn increases the efficiency of the teacher.

Mrs. Andrews, representing a parent member of the council, spoke on "What the Parent-Teacher Association Means to a Mother," stressing the importance of bringing together the mother and teacher.

A question box for members of the council will be a part of the next meeting. It was announced. All parent-teacher members are asked to be present and any question which they wish answered they may put in the question box for answer during the meeting.

Several have been asking questions lately and the officers are taking this opportunity of giving the more timid members a chance to have anonymous questions answered.

Mrs. George Lyman, parliamentarian, gave a brief drill on motions.

The Parkdale club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Victor Eckley with Mrs. B. E. Gwaley assistant hostess.

Pretty potted plants were arranged about the rooms of the Eckley home. After the business session a social afternoon was enjoyed the hostesses serving refreshments. Twenty members were in attendance.

Covers were placed for 17 at the tables attractively decorated following a green and white color scheme with a small centerpiece of white sweet peas and ferns.

After dinner was over, the dishes washed, which is part of the preparation for the rank, a program of music and stunts was given and was followed by games which concluded the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. V. E. Hall acted as grandmistress in the absence of Mrs. R. P. Tyler.

HOLAHOUSER SHOWS STUFF ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 7. (AP)—Holahouser, a big North Carolina mountain school teacher, has shown the braves management here that he can pitch a fast ball with a hook.

He was on the mound for the yesterday's game between the ever nine and the gowdy second string outfit and during that time he held the Yankigans hitless and errorless. He appears likely to stick with the team this season instead of being sent out on option as he was last year.

"By Joe! it's good to smoke Luckies."

Felix Count Luckner

"Lucky Strikes? By Joe, yes. Let me tell you, I was cruising in my raider in the South Pacific. It had been damp, rainy weather and every bit of tobacco we had on the ship was mouldy and could not be smoked. We began to be desperate. The men were—that you call—grouchy. Along came an American ship. We captured her and after taking the captain, officers and crew aboard my raider and finding comfortable places for them to stay, I and my officers went over to the captured ship to see if there was anything aboard her that we wanted. We searched her. And what do you think? Under the cushions of a seat in the captain's cabin we found 500 packages of Lucky Strikes! I tore off the end of one and lit it and filled my lungs with it, and By Joe, I was a man again. We had enough for all the crew and we were all cheered up and we all became friends once more. By Joe, I was sorry to sink that American ship that had brought us those smokes. Lucky Strikes, they are wonderful, and my Countess, of course, wishes a fashionable, slender figure. She smokes Lucky Strikes when she is offered fattening sweets. And my life has always been an active one and I must be trim and fit. I love to feel what you Americans call 'peppy.' So no sweets for me. Give me a Lucky Strike instead. By Joe, it's good for us to smoke Luckies."

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.
