BOHNENKAMP CO. REMODELS STORE, PLANS WAREHOUSE

(Continued from Page 1) which is the Monarch line, will be featured on the balcony in addition to luggage, camp goods, and several reasonable items such as refrigerators, washing machines, etc. To Replace Shelving—Work is now going on tearing out the shelving and this will be replaced with all new shelving of the latest type for hardware stores. This shelving is of the kind recommended by the National Hardware Retailers' association and is manufactured by Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett of Chicago. This firm purchased an entire factory last fall and devoted it exclusively to manufacture of this type of fixtures. Despite the fact that the local company's order was placed just after the first of the year, it was not until Monday that word was received that the fixtures had been shipped. So tremendous has been the demand for them that the factory is being operated 24 hours a day and reports orders on hand to keep it going until fall on the same basis. Mr. Bohnenkamp says, "Mr. Bohnenkamp is very enthusiastic over the results of the changes that have been made thus far and states that every effort will be made to make the new arrangement not only most attractive in appearance but convenient in arrangement. New Store Front—Just as soon as the interior arrangements are completed a new store front will be installed of the latest type for this kind of store. The work is under the charge of H. P. Nelson, of La Grande. Mr. Bohnenkamp further states that it is the intention of his firm to build a warehouse on track and for this purpose the company has purchased three lots on Jefferson avenue just east of the Pacific Fruit company warehouse. This property is 90x110 and on it a brick warehouse will be constructed 60x110 with a full concrete basement. A flight of way across an adjoining lot is also included in the purchase which will make it possible to drive directly into the basement with trucks for loading or unloading. This warehouse will be used principally for the storage of implements, crated furniture, equipment as well as carload shipments of the heavier hardware such as fencing, pipe, iron bars, nails, etc., which the company handles. Several huge concrete tanks are to be built on the open lot for the storage of fuel oils which the company also handles. This lot will also be used for the outside storage and display of large machinery. Additional Floor Space—By providing the warehouse storage for furniture and implements the fourth floor of the building will be released from this purpose and it will be improved for displaying and selling furniture. This, with the new balcony will give the company about 5000 additional square feet of furniture display space and will make it possible for the company to dispense with part of the space now occupied in the Masonic building, the room which was formerly occupied by G. D. Putman will be partitioned off and re-rented. The present warehouse, which is used for storage and display of implements, mostly will be utilized for the displaying of implements only and will allow their showing to a much better advantage. Mr. Bohnenkamp states that the implement department is fast getting to be one of their best departments and that it is the intention of the company to give it considerable more attention in the future. With this thought in mind Walter Carpenter was recently engaged to look after the outside work of selling and servicing for the company. Mr. Carpenter has had 20 years of experience in the implement line and is thoroughly familiar with the needs and requirements for machinery of the farmers of this community. Jay Hagan has charge of the warehouse and parts service. Completion Expected April 1—Mr. Bohnenkamp states that he hopes to see all the improvements completed by April first, excepting the warehouse, and that a special store-wide event of some kind will be held at that time to properly introduce the new and better conditions that will prevail. Scarcely a year has gone by during all the long time that the W. H. Bohnenkamp Co. has been in business that some program of improvement or building has not been undertaken by this company and Mr. Bohnenkamp states that it still is and he hopes always will be the policy of his company to expand and improve the stock and services so that it will be in keeping with the city and community of which they are a part.

On the return trip Mr. Longfellow stopped at Greeley, Colo., to visit the Colorado State Teachers' college, of which Dr. Geo. W. Frazier, is president. At the convention Dr. Frazier stated in his speech, "Most city school systems do not give enough time and thought to the employment of beginning teachers, and to the supervision of them when they come into the school system. I have several suggestions to make. The school officers should know the college from which the teacher comes. When a teacher applies for a position in the public school system, and seems to have the personality and bearing and training that the job demands, the next question should be, 'What type of college and what type of instructor trained this teacher, and how well are they equipped to do that job.' I believe it is very necessary for the employing officer that trained the applicant."
