AT THE THEATERS

Tom Mix In Western Picture At Colonial

Presenting the outstanding Western star of the screen, Tom Mix, in the picture "The Cowboy," his second special production under the PLO banner, on Friday for a stay of 2 days.

While the famous "Tom" does not exactly play a "sheik" in his new offering, he is seen in the role of an address of an Arab in one scene of the picture, which he discusses almost to get the Russian enemies. And without the big white hat Mix is said to be just as dashing and successful an actor as he is in scenes laid in the great open spaces of our own country.

The fast-moving story concerns the adventures of a party of American cowboys who journey to the Mediterranean country, pursuing big game and all seeking to rescue the owner of their Nevada ranch, who has been made captive by the thieftaken, Dashing Baby Face has the leading feminine role as the daughter of the illustrious American and leader of the expedition, while Mix portrays the hard-riding, danger-seeking ranch foreman who has "the boss" in charge. And "Tom" his swiftness, does more stunts than ever in his novel environment.

Richard Dix is back in uniform in "Moran of the Marines," his latest Paramount offering which opened at the Star theatre last night to an appreciative audience. In his new picture, Dix essays the role of a marine big private and gives an admirable characterization typical of the kind which has brought him to the pinnacle of screen fame.

In this picture also does Ruth Elder, the pretty, trans-Atlantic aviatrix make her bid for motion picture prominence. Although it is her first professional appearance on the screen, her acting is none the less convincing and she goes through her paces like a veteran.

"Moran of the Marines" is the story of a youth who gets into trouble and takes a few Chinese bandits and a thrilling fight to get him back in good graces. Meanwhile he attempts to win the general's daughter and succeeds, but only after many hair-raising, humorous and dramatic incidents have come to pass.

An admirable cast contributes to the success of the film. Rossie Kazan gives his characteristic humorous portrayal; Capt. E. H. Call, yet impresses with his marine general's role and Duke Martin convinces one that there are really hard-boiled sergeants in the Marine Corps. Brooks Bandel, the villain, gets over with leading and menacing, not to mention his attempts to cause Dix trouble and embarrassment.

The story is from Linton Wells, a war correspondent who, according to address, has "been everywhere and seen everything." His attempt at film writing is a complete success.

Frank Strayer direct.

Clean Comedy In "Give And Take" at Arcade

"Clean comedy" is the keynote of the Universal Special, "Give and Take," which opens tonight at the Arcade Theatre. Not only is comedy the keynote, but the picture has a cast which is a guarantee of the last word in characterization.

From the first reel to the last, George Sidney, who co-stars with Joan Herriott in this production, has paid strict attention to the technique of producing spontaneous laughter. He does not depend upon either gags or slapstick for his effects, but seems to get them by some innate power within himself which may not be described by saying "he knows people."

The story of "Give and Take" is not far-fetched. It has to do with a self-made father, played by Joan Herriott, who has dreamed of passing along his fruit canning business to his son. For this purpose he has sent him away to college to be educated.

The son's return is one of the great events of the small factory town and when George Lewis, who plays the role with much distinction, arrives, the father feels confident that his trust has not been misplaced.

The new generation, however, has much opportunity to learn things about business at college which a man at a desk cannot learn. It is an attempt to install a new business principle, young Bauer is disowned by his father and except for the sympathy, without understanding, which he receives from Kruger—George Sidney—he could never have succeeded at all.

There is much which might be written on the subject of young Bauer's "Give and Take" plan of business but this story has to do with the skill with which George Sidney maintains the comedy throughout all situations. Joan Herriott, as always, gives a perfect performance as the father of Jack and as owner of the factory.

In the supporting cast are George Lewis, Sharon Lynn, Sam Hardy, Nancy M. Cross, Charles Hill, Maltes, William Beaudine is the director.

GALES CAUSE DELAYS
CHEROKEE, March 7 (AP)—Heavy gales along the French Atlantic seaboard during the past few days have caused serious delays to incoming liners from America. The Republic of the United States lines was two days late, while the Leviathan which was scheduled to call at Cherokee this morning was delayed but she would be 24 hours behind schedule.

REALIZATION
Before I married Annabelle I was her pumpkin pie. Her precious peach, her honey lamb. The apple of her eye.

But after years of wedded life, "This thought I pause to utter, 'I find I am none of these things I'm just her bread and butter!'"

Teacher was giving a lesson on the filiofenerance of March. "What is it," she asked, "that comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb?" "Father," replied the smallest pupil.

According to our public moanings, all feminine have one thing in common: I. e., baggy knees.

"She's rich now—her father struck oil." "And she now does nothing but gush."

Paul: "Do you know who that sweet little girl is that I've been dancing with all evening?" Gwendoline: "Oh, yes, that's mother."

I crept upstairs, my shoes in hand. Just as the night took wing— And I saw my wife four steps above. Doing the same darn thing.

Dorothy: "But, surely, you didn't tell him straight out that you loved him?" Jane: "Goodness, no! He simply had to squeeze it out of me."

"So you met Alice today?" "Yes, I hadn't seen her for ten years." "Has she kept her girlish figure?" "Kept it? She's doubled it!"

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
