Orange Meringue Pudding
Two oranges, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract.

Peel oranges and cut across in very thin slices. Sprinkle with 3 tablespoons sugar. Separate whites and yolks of eggs. Scald milk. Beat remaining sugar and salt into yolks of eggs. Slowly beat in scalded milk. Dissolve cornstarch in a little cold water and stir into mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon. Let cool and add grated rind and juice drained from oranges. Pour over oranges and chill. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk. Beat in powdered sugar and almond extract. Pile over top of custard and put in a moderate cool oven for eight minutes to set and color the meringue.

Various Suit Forms Advanced For Spring

By Diana Merwin
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS (AP).—Materials and forms of spring suits will be widely varied. Tailored tweed ensembles of last season will continue to be worn.

More elaborate versions of the suit form are also being shown, ranging from satin two-piece to printed crepe de chine two and three piece ensembles.

Tweed suits are partial to brown and white and blue and white mixtures. The newest of them have tuck-in, or stimulated tuck-in blouses of white crepe de chine or natural silks like shantung and tussore.

Sometimes the blouses are sleeveless. Most of them have some form of collar, with the round turn-over, which fits the base of the neck closely, favored above others. Pleated waists and collars and cuffs are shown by many designers both for wear on suits and tailored dresses of light or dark colors.

Afternoon suits, which include the satin and printed crepe de chine models favor black and white combinations. Jackets of such suits are short and usually of cardigan form over one piece dresses, which may simulate skirt and tuck-in blouse. Printed designs are small and tend toward the Japanese.

Long coats over afternoon dresses are the formal ensemble favored by many stylists, but they carry out the suit idea almost as meticulously as the short jacketed costumes. Some of the newest ensemble coats have elaborate appliques of broadcloth on chiffon base. The broadcloth pattern is so carefully carried out that chiffon underneath shows like delicate incrustations no wider than an eighth of an inch.

Suit colorings are varied, running the gamut of yellows, light reds and greens through blues, blacks and browns. Silk suits nearly always appear in black or dark blue, although one or two important designers show vivid purple ensembles for normal afternoon wear.

Saturday afternoon at the Knights of Pythias hall.

The Order of Rainbow for Girls will meet tomorrow night at the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock. Initiation will be held.
