SALEM, Ore., March 8 (AP)—The banking code bill, the Cottage Grove armory bill and the Upton measure providing for the organization of rural fire protection districts were among the bills signed by Governor Patterson yesterday.

The Cottage Grove armory bill appropriates $10,000 for the construction of an armory that will be matched by an equal amount contributed by the city of Cottage Grove and Lane county.

Associated Press Seeks Radio Band

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8 (AP)—The reservation of adequate short wave channels for the use of the Associated Press has been asked for the federal radio commission in its allocation of 48 wave bands for the press of the country.

In setting forth the position of the Associated Press in regard to the radio allocations, Kent Cooper, its general manager, through Milton Garzer, his executive assistant, has presented a statement to the commission in which he cited 125 newspapers of the country as associated Press members and said "we confidently believe the commission will find that it can consistently take care of the needs of such an important press association effort."

The commission today planned the conclusion of its hearings on the press radio allocations and William C. Cannon, counsel for the Associated Press, prepared an argument to show the Associated Press could not operate radio facilities as a public utility.

today in the Christian world. There is need of good spirit, the speaker asserted, but more is required than wisdom, knowledge and experience are essential. These may be acquired but only through individual effort and hard labor.

Mr. Brown referred in laudatory terms to the inaugural address of President Herbert Hoover who used the words from Sacred Writ "Where there is no vision, the people perish." Mr. Brown's plan was for a vision of real Christian endeavor, not the local society in the smaller church which meets once each week, but the world-wide organization, which operates in every country and has members of 82 different denominations enrolled. He gave as an example of the world's convention in 1920 when young people met together from the four quarters of the globe, seeking a larger vision and hearing such prominent men as David Lloyd George as he insisted that in the crusade for world peace, the Christian young people of the world were the only hope.

Mr. Brown left last night for Portland where he will attend the Portland union convention which opens this evening.

GENERAL LOPEZ EXECUTED MEXICO CITY, Mar. 8 (AP)

The execution of General Jesus Palomera Lopez, former chief of the military police of Mexico City, removed one of the most picturesque figures this country has ever known. He was accused of attempting to turn his regiment over to the rebels.

He was credited with having killed from 200 to 500 men and it was said he had in his pistol almost covered the handle.

Lassiter, commander of that area, has not received any special instructions, it was said. From centers of activity in Mexico other than Juarez, no startling developments had been reported over night to the state department. Advice was that Mexico City was quiet and conditions normal.

Embargo Replaced—Replacement of the embargo on shipment of commercial airplanes from the United States to Mexico was announced today by Secretary Kellogg. The embargo, which was lifted a year ago, is effective at once.

EL PASO BOY SHOT—EL PASO, Tex., Mar. 8 (AP)—A stray shot from Juarez today wounded an American boy in El Paso. His name is Louis Chavez, 6. American forces, both civil and military, were prepared for any eventuality here this morning as the battle between federal and revolutionists opened in Juarez. The entire El Paso police force patrolled the south section of the town and United States troops lined the border with machine guns and field artillery trained upon the Mexican side.

Bullets from embattled Juarez fell on American soil early today. Rebel cavalry charged down the streets of Juarez in what appeared to be their most powerful offensive of the siege for control of the important northern railroad center.

Machine Guns Bark—The milkman approached the house from his wagon, which he left parked in the street. As he approached closer the women residents of the house started to the door to take the delivery. At the same time machine gunners got the range of the house and "let 'em have it."

The milk man started to flee, dropping the cream meant for Sutcliffe's coffee. The horses took their cue from the action of the milkman and started down the street in a direction opposite to that of their owner's.

"Oh, oh," said Sutcliffe over the phone, "there goes the cream for my coffee; I guess I'll have to take it black today. Sure has been a long night and how I wanted my coffee. Darn these revolutions anyway!"
