WEDDED LIFE IS RESUMED AFTER TEST

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Mar. 12 (AP).—Resuming their wedded life today after proving the truth of the half forgotten song of other days, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder," George (Big Boy) Gillespie, singing cowboy of an Arizona "Dude" ranch, and his wife, formerly Katherine Thorne, wealthy heiress of Chicago, are being showered with congratulations.

A two weeks' "Love Test" which was prescribed by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Thorne, ended yesterday when the third daughter of the former president of the Montgomery Ward company declared that "for two weeks I listened to my parents' arguments, but found that my love had increased during the separation."

"There is nothing to add to the fact that my wife and I are very happy and expect to make our home here while I am completing a picture," commented the groom, as the couple settled down in their apartment at 1723 Cherokee street and began real housekeeping today.

"The perfect romance" says Hollywood. "Youth victorious over poverty," and the perplexed parents of the bride are on their way to Chicago, while a new automobile left by them for the use of the couple, stands in the garage of the apartment on Cherokee street.

Whether he is a prospective investor in land, manufacturing plant, business, home, or what-not, he is favorably impressed with La Grande when he sees and experiences the fine facilities and experienced service of the Sacajawea Inn.
