

Load South of Imbler Patched By Using Gravel

By Mrs. C. M. Hale (Observer Correspondent)

IMBLER, Ore., (Special)—The water from the melting snow caused the gravel in the highway south of town to break through making a large mud hole. Two trucks were busy hauling gravel for several days before it was solid enough to hold up the weight of cars. For some time a caterpillar was kept at the mud hole night and day to pull the cars through.

GEN. BOOTH REGAINING HEALTH

General Bramwell Booth has shunned the light of publicity since being displaced as world commander of the Salvation Army. This rare and recent picture shows the deposed leader reading official documents at his home at Hadley Wood, Middlesex, England, in the presence of his daughter, Catherine Booth. He is reported to be rapidly regaining his health after a prolonged illness.

Two New Clubs Are Organized At Cove, Oregon

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin (Observer Correspondent)

COVE, Ore., (Special)—Wray Lawrence, county agent, came over to Cove Monday evening in the interest of the 4-H club work. Two clubs were formed, a Holstein dairy club and a baby beef club, with eight members in each club. A Jersey dairy club is assured, although the Jersey children were not all in attendance at the meeting. There are also some children asking for a sheep club and others for a pig club. These clubs will probably be formed a little later. A sewing club has been formed with the following officers: president, Ruth White; vice president, Velma Flehards; secretary, Bertha Nelker; treasurer, Ada Hiveshears. Other members are Phyllis Hancock, Nellie Meroney, Velma Richardson, Helen Lloyd, Maxine Towle, Jean Baum, Lona Neida Price, Pave De Vore and Mildred Millard. Mrs. H. C. Hancock is the leader.

Mrs. J. R. Price has been elected leader of the cooking club in place of Mrs. Helen Conklin who did not accept the leadership.

The sixth grade pupils are now studying the geography of the United States and the walls of their rooms are decorated with maps of the various sections of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rand and family have moved into Cove, coming here from Indian Creek. Three children have entered the Cove school. There are two other children under school age.

M. Whistler, who has been a patient at the Hot Lake sanatorium for the last two weeks, was brought home in an ambulance this week. He is reported to be somewhat improved. Mrs. Whistler has been staying at the lake with him most of the time. The small since her husband's accident, came home Sunday afternoon but has an attack of tonsillitis and is confined to the house.

A Dictator and a King Go Into Conference

A rare picture is this of a dictator and a king in conference. The dictator is General Primo de Rivera, militant head of the Spanish government, and the king is the quiet-mannered Alfonso. The subject of their meeting is a grim one—they're discussing what punishment should be meted out to the chiefs of the recent revolt which was squelched by authorities.

Rhymes to Royalty

There seems to be no authentic record of the origin of "Poet Laureate of England" but it is recorded that Richard Coeur de Lion had a "versifier" with him, a development of the practice of earlier times when minstrels and troubadours were part of the retinue of the king.
