Man may now be able to fly much faster than a bird, but he is still unable to alight safely on the limb of a dead cottonwood tree or balance himself on a telephone wire.

He—"I come to bring warmth and light into the bleakness of your home?"

Romantic Spinster—"Oh, you dear—"

He—"Nix on the love stuff, old lady. I'm the installation man for the gas company."

Rap: You made a bad break last night when you asked the hostess her age?

Rapper: Yes, and you made a worse one when you grinned when she told it.

A clerk at a main office interviews the manager on the subject of an increase, and the following conversation ensues:

Clerk—"I have been here ten years doing three men's work for one man's pay. Now I want a raise."

Manager—"I'm sorry. I can't give you a raise just now, but if you'll tell me who the other two men are I'll discharge them."

Practical Joking Cashier: "Have you heard the latest story about the clerk in the Chinaware department who poured a pitcher of water into the big boss' derby?"

Bookkeeper, eagerly: "No, I haven't."

Cashier, chuckling: "Neither have I. It hasn't leaked out yet."

AT THE THEATERS

"Flying Fleet" With Novarro Coming Thursday

"Saddles" for airplanes were the strange devices which the sensational air scenes in "The Flying Fleet," Ramon Novarro's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle coming Thursday to the Arcade theater, made necessary.

The "saddles" were great steel trucks fitted over the fuselages of camera planes, and by these trucks the cameras could be turned in any direction while the pilots followed gyrating naval airplanes in their sensational loops, Immelman turns and other evolutions.

Novarro plays a young naval aviator in the new picture, a romance of love and friendship of young Annapolis men, set in a graphic background of battle practice and sensations in the clouds. Most of the picture was photographed in the air.

George Hill, director of "Tell It to the Marines" and "The Cosacs," directed the new production. Anita Page is the heroine, and Gardner James, Carroll Nye, Eddie Nugent, Ralph Graves, Sumner Getchell and others of note are among the players.

"Case of Lena Smith" Showing At The Star

Beautiful Esther Halston appears as a woman of forty in two sequences in "The Case of Lena Smith," the latest Josef von Sternberg production which will show at the Star theater starting tonight for two days. "The Case of Lena Smith" is a story showing the brightness and glamor of Vienna.

As the spirited Hungarian peasant girl who falls in love with a young army officer, fights to keep her child and sees him grow to manhood only to march off as a soldier, the lovely star of "Fashions for Women" and "The Spotlight" has the most interesting and difficult role of her film career.

Arrived in the vivid costumes of the Viennese nineties, Miss Halston has turned from a woman of wealth and luxury into a Hungarian peasant girl fighting her way through life. It is in this interesting background that twenty years are added to her character.

As a woman of forty, Miss Halston changes her walk, dress and hair. Her face is not lined but it has a sadder and more experienced look. Research proved that Hungarian women are very careful in protecting their appearance against the approaching years.

JELLIES AND JAMS FROM THE STORE

Make the Whole Meal More Enjoyable

Jams, jellies and preserves are marvelous energy foods for children, athletes, and all physically active people. In addition to that, they make the whole meal more delicious. They are appetizing spreads for bread, accompaniments for meats, and tasteful additions to toast, muffins and hot breads.

Another good thing about jams, jellies and preserves, all grocers today carry them. These bought foods are delicious. Their purity can be depended on. They contain appetizing fruit acids, and beneficial minerals and vitamins.

Thousands of women and girls today are permanently injuring their health by dangerous weight reduction. All children should be a little overweight, if anything, as a protection against disease.

It is almost a rule of health that those foods that are made more delicious by sugar are the best for us to eat. Eat daily plenty of cereals, fruits, vegetables and milk, sweetened for perfect enjoyment.

See that growing children eat enough regularly. Eat for nutrition and enjoyment. Good food promotes good health.
