AT THE THEATERS

Greta Nissen In Picture At the Star

Butter and eggs may be dairy products, but the term "butter and egg man" belongs to the theatrical profession by prior and discovery rights. It replaced the old term of similar meaning, "angel."

That is the basis of the title given one of the biggest comedy-drama hits the speaking stage has ever presented.

A film version of "The Butter and Egg Man," equally entertaining and a bit more dramatic than the play, is now giving the patrons of the Star theater a glimpse behind the scenes of play-producing. Jack Mulhall is featured in the title role of this First National picture.

Greta Nissen is leading lady in the pictures and in the play within the picture. Garthra Aster, Sam Hardy, William Demarest and other notable film players enact roles of actresses, actors, stage directors, stage producers and other attaches of Broadway play production. Richard Wallace directed the picture.

Reginald Denny At The Arcade Theater Today.

Reginald Denny's newest, and finest comedy, "Clear the Decks," is to be the attractive offering of the Arcade theater starting today.

Denny enacts the role of a wealthy young engineer, just returned from an extensive trip to Africa, who falls in love with a beautiful girl. He is unable to learn her name but ascertains that she is embarking that afternoon on the S. S. Kee Wee. Unable to secure accommodations upon the boat, he agrees to exchange places with a friend of his, who is supposed to be slightly unbalanced, and is being compelled to take the voyage for his health.

While on board ship, Denny is forced to submit to various trials and tribulations to preserve his incognito. These hilarious situations, combined with the machinations of a gang of jewel thieves aboard the same ship, who mistake Denny for a detective, provide Denny with one of the most uproarious comedy stories of his career.

Olive Hasbrouck portrays the part of the girl and Lucien Littlefield that of the male nurse. Otto Harlan and Colette Merton enact the roles of "Pussyfoot" and "Blondie." The picture was directed by Joseph Henabery.
