Grunion Fishermen Quit Reluctantly

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 2 (AP)—Hundreds of Grunion fishermen, reluctant to end the last night of the four-day season of a rare sport, early this morning were leaving their moonlit beaches with buckets, sacks, and cans full of the strange little fish.

At certain times of the year and of the moon—and last night was one of the times—these poor fish climb right out onto the beaches along the Ventura county coast line and flop around in the moonlight.

Little talent or skill is required to catch Grunion. No rod or reel is used. The bare hands, a net, a hat, a can, an old shoe, or, in fact anything that can be used to scoop them up will do. The fishermen reported an exceptionally large haul last night.

A dispatch from Buffalo says, "For the third time in as many weeks a Buffalo resident committed suicide today at Niagara Falls." Probably just practicing a stunt for the summer tourist trade.

A NEW novelty in spring undies is a combination garter belt and crepe de chine panties.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

Every woman who buys and handles food should realize the importance of sanitary food protection and the danger of health risks through food contamination. She may not be able to personally supervise all the operations in her household before the food reaches the table, but she can insist on certain methods of doing things as well as specific precautions regarding foods which will protect her family against those diseases which are known to be transmitted through the careless handling of food and utensils used in its preparation.

It seems to be an accepted procedure these days that any person suffering from a cold shall isolate himself from his fellow workers, but too little attention is paid to this measure in the home kitchen. Of course it's often impossible for the woman who does her own work and has "just a cold" to keep out of the kitchen, but if she will take the precaution of covering her nose and mouth with several thicknesses of cheesecloth, mask fashion, while she's baking and cooking, she will do much to protect her family. The silver and dishes used by any member of a family who has a cold should be covered with boiling water and allowed to stand five minutes before washing with the rest of the dishes. This is particularly true of the service which comes in contact with the person's mouth.

A well ventilated kitchen with a sunny exposure some time during the day is essential. Dark corners and little "joys" are ideal dust-catchers and hard to keep clean. Plenty of sunlight and fresh air is necessary in the kitchen as much as in any other room in the house. Food prepared in a dark, dusty kitchen can't be at its best.

The refrigerator in which food is stored must of course receive careful and frequent cleaning. Milk, cream and butter usually have a special place provided for them in many refrigerators, but they should be kept covered in any event. Left-over foods should be cooled as rapidly as possible before putting into the icebox.

One cup maple sirup, whites of 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups whipping cream. Beat whites of eggs until stiff, cooking sirup while beating eggs. Add sirup gradually to egg whites, cooking sirup while beating in each addition. Fold in cream whipped until firm. Turn into mold and freeze without stirring. Pack in eight parts ice to one part ice cream salt.

Flood Of Tears Halts Taking Of Ma's Testimony

PORTLAND, Apr. 2 (AP)—A flood of tears interrupted the hearing last night at which Mrs. Minnie Kennedy was giving her deposition to California legislators for use in the forthcoming impeachment trial of Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Kennedy, whose published intimations that the whole of truth of the disappearance of her daughter, Almee Semple McPherson had not been publicly told, led to the Hardy investigation, burst into tears and retired to her hotel.

Walter Little and William Hornblower, members of the assembly impeachment board, together with Tex Hardy, son and attorney for the judge, went to Mrs. Kennedy's hotel when she failed to reappear. Mrs. Kennedy afterward called newspaper men to tell them how her tears had interrupted the hearing.

Intimate facts about the disappearance of Mrs. McPherson caused her mother to break into tears.

POPE CELEBRATES MASS

VATICAN CITY, April 2 (AP)—The pope this morning celebrated mass at St. Peter's Cathedral for about 10,000 pilgrims of France and other nations who are here. He was given an ovation as he entered on the Sedia Gestatoria from the chapel of the Sacrament.

A train in Iowa was brought to a standstill by striking a snowdrift. A farmer, carrying a long pole, showed up on the scene. He would walk a few steps and stick the pole down in the snow. Finally he came close to the train and a passenger opened the window and asked the farmer, "How deep is the snow out there?" To which he replied, "I'll be darned if I know, I'm hunting for my barn."
