AT THE THEATERS

Reginald Denny Now Showing At Arcade

The trials and tribulations of a young assistant district attorney who is conducting a campaign against speeders, only to fall in love with a chronic offender, a beautiful and wealthy girl, is the plot of "Red Hot Speed," the hilariously funny Universal comedy now showing at the Arcade theater.

Reginald Denny, star of the production portrays the role of the harassed district attorney while beautiful Alice Day, one of the 1929 Wampas Stars, appears as the chronic girl speeder.

The picture is one of the best the popular star has made in some time. Moving rapidly and with dozens of screamingly funny situations, "Red Hot Speed" provokes continuous gales of laughter from the audience during its showing.

Directed by Joseph Hanabery, who is considered one of the screen's ablest comedy directors, "Red Hot Speed" has an excellent cast, including Charles Byer, Thomas Hicketts, Fritz Ittidge, Hector V. Sarno and DeWitt Jennings.

Clayds Lehman, a screen writer of note, concocted the plot.

Realistic Turf Scenes In "Silks And Saddles"

"Silks and Saddles" the Universal picture starring Marian Nixon, which will open at the Star theater Tuesday is a story of horse racing at its most thrilling pitch.

When watching some of the exciting scenes in "Silks and Saddles," one can easily understand why horse racing has been named "the sport of kings." The thrill and pleasure derived from watching a group of speeded horses straining for the best position at the turn or using every ounce of strength to pull up on the leader just before the finish cannot be surpassed by any other diversion.

But Gerald Beaumont, the famous sports writer, from whose story, "The Frog," this picture was made, knew both sides of horse racing. He knew that gambling rings existed that attempted to influence the outcome of a race for their own ends. This phase is also shown in the picture.

New Murder Mystery In "The Ware Case"

Crime has always held a fascination for the public at large. The unraveling of a murder mystery holds an even deeper fascination; perhaps due to a deep-seated desire to see justice achieved and the guilty punished.

At any rate crime, detective and mystery novels have long sold more copies than any other kind. And plays and motion pictures of crime and its detection win the same popularity as the novel. The more puzzling the crime and its solution, the more the public likes it.

Lovers of such screen fare have found a picture exactly to their liking in "The Ware Case," the first National picture now at the Star theater, judging from the big attendance at every performance. The intricacy of the plot, the withholding of the solution till the sensational climax make it an
