MARIAN TALLEY, OPERA STAR, TO QUIT THE STAGE

Retirement Unprecedented The retirement of a singer so early in a stellar career is unprecedented. Gertrude Farrar left the Metropolitan after attaining success comparatively young, but she was then older than Miss Talley is now, and she has continued in concert since then. Other noted singers have made public appearances well into middle life.

The New York World said today in regard to Miss Talley: "Numerous rumors became current as to possible causes of her decision. One report had it she was to appear in the talkies. Another was that the singer, despite the continued enthusiasm of her public, was herself dissatisfied with the progress she had made in her singing—an explanation that would conform with opinions of her voice often expressed by some of the critics, who asserted her voice was cold and inflexible. Still another report was that the announcement was a publicity stunt, designed to obtain for Miss Talley more and fatter contracts."

JUDGE HARDY IS ACCUSED BY MADAME X

Discussed "Proposition" The witness testified that at-arrangements to produce the "Miss X" were made with Judge Hardy, who is charged in one of the four articles of impeachment with obstruction of justice. She said she went to his home, discussed the "proposition" and that when she questioned the safety of going ahead with it, Judge Hardy assured her "I am a respected judge on the superior bench in Los Angeles and have a great deal of influence."

GIVES VIEWS ON AIMEE

SACRAMENTO, Apr. 12—(AP)

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sleaff, wanted as a witness by the assembly board of managers prosecuting the impeachment trial of Judge Carlos S. Hardy, was in Sacramento today. She was being questioned by members of the board of managers behind locked doors. Mrs. Wiseman-Sleaff arrived from Seattle to testify at the trial and tell, if she will, of her knowledge of Judge Hardy's activities in the investigation of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson's kidnaping story of 1924.

The woman appeared nervous and unwilling to discuss the ordeal before her beyond saying that she intended taking the witness stand and telling all she knows about the evangelist's kidnaping story. She declared there was no doubt in her mind that Mrs. McPherson was in Carmel during her disappearance more than two years ago; that Mrs. McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, told her so and that nothing could convince her to the contrary.

Mrs. Wiseman-Sleaff was at one time named as the mysterious "Madame X" companion of Kenneth Ormiston, radio operator, in Carmel during the period of Mrs. McPherson's disappearance. Her name was later cleared of any connection with the case. Mrs. McPherson probably will not be called to testify today, although her appearance previously was so scheduled by the prosecution board of assembly managers according to Assemblyman Walter J. Little. He declared that other witnesses would be called in her stead and in all possibility the Angelus temple leader will not be required until Monday or Tuesday next week, if at all.

LOST PLANE FOUND; SHIP TO GET CREW

has been that of the plane just found. Anderson had a companion with him, Robert Hiteboeck. They have not been heard from since they left Newcastle waters, northern territory, about 400 miles from Wyndham. They left here Sunday in a Westland Widgeon monoplane.

A Dramatic Story

The brief messages of the Canberra told a dramatic story of the culmination of the days of searching.

At 11:31 a. m. came the message that the plane had been sighted and food dropped to the crew. That there might be no doubt as to the good news the message was repeated.

At 11:38 a. m. the Canberra radioed to the Southern Cross, "If you can hear us walk into open ground." Five minutes later the Canberra told the Darwin station, "They must be hearing but haven't seen them."

Sights Crew

At 12:26 the Canberra radioed: "The Southern Cross is approximately 30 miles from the Port George mission. Can see whole other message setting the direction as south from Port George and describing its resting place as a mud flat."

Captain Kingsford Smith, his pilot Charles T. Ulm, who shared the honors with him in the flight from California to Hawaii and thence to Australia, a navigator named Litchfield, and a radio operator named McWilliam set out Saturday, March 30, from Sydney for Wyndham, intending the flight to be the first lap of an attempt to beat Bert Hinkler's record of 15 days between Australia and England.

SHIP TO RESCUE FLIERS

BROOME, Western Australia, April 12 (AP)—A steamer will leave here this afternoon for the mouth of the Glenelg river to pick up the stranded Southern Cross fliers, sighted there by the airplane Canberra today. It is about 200 miles distant by sea.

PENDLETON TEAM HERE ON SUNDAY

one run in the third and Dalley, of Whitman, evened the count in the fifth with a homer.

Jake Myers pitched for the Bucks, yielding only five hits in the nine innings.

In fact, the Pendleton team this year is the same as the one that took the field during the 1928 season.

With Cecil Duff doing the twirling, although he is not yet in mid-season form, La Grande expects not only to give the Bucks a run for their money, but also to try out practically all of the aspirants for first team places. Murchison, of Cove, seems to be about the only man outside of Duff, who is absolutely sure of a place. He is the only catcher available at present. It is said. There is a world of material for every other position.

Both Pendleton and La Grande are entering the season with only one outside player on the payroll. Baker has hired a battery and little has been heard from Enterprise, although it is known that the Chiffains are working tooth and nail to put a strong team into the field.

The Schedule

The season proper will open on April 21 with Baker at La Grande and Enterprise at Pendleton.

The remaining games on the schedule follow: April 24—La Grande at Baker; Pendleton at Enterprise; May 5—Baker at Enterprise; Pendleton at La Grande; May 12—La Grande at Pendleton; Enterprise at Baker; May 19—Baker at Pendleton; Enterprise at La Grande; May 26—La Grande at Enterprise; Pendleton at Baker; June 2—Enterprise at Pendleton; Baker at La Grande; June 9—La Grande at Baker; Pendleton at Enterprise; June 16—Enterprise at La Grande; Baker at Pendleton; June 23—Baker at Enterprise; La Grande at Pendleton; June 30—Enterprise at Baker; Pendleton at La Grande; July 7—La Grande at Enterprise; Pendleton at Baker.
