Wedding Allen Home During Morning

A pretty wedding ceremony took place at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. M. H. Allen at 1193 1/2 1/2 avenue, Miss Grace Rohland, of Malad, Idaho, the bride, took place in the presence of the bride's intimate friends. The Rev. Noy officiated. Miss Granger was bridesmaid and Miss Rohland was best woman.

Large baskets of flowers were placed in the rooms of the Allen. The bride and bridesmaid had corsage bouquets. The breakfast was given to the young couple at 11 o'clock. They then left by auto for a week's honeymoon in Washington and other places.

The wedding will be at home in Malad, where Mr. Rohland is manager of the Overland Lumber Co. Miss Rohland is one of La Grande's young women. For many years she has been a bookkeeper at the N. K. I. company store. She is an Oregon State college member of Delta Zeta society. Mr. Rohland is also widely known in this city. For a year or so he was assistant manager of the Van Pelton Lumber Co. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rohland, of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. E. J. Johnson, of Jerome, Idaho, was out-of-town guest at the wedding. He is the brother of Mrs. Rohland, of Malad, Idaho.

Miss Heavener, of Joseph, Oregon, of Enterprise, was the bridesmaid. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heavener, of Enterprise, Oregon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heavener, of Enterprise, Oregon.

Jest think, Cal gave away several rather lengthy speeches before he knew he could get a dollar a word. I don't know how much German owes us, but if I had the account I'd turn it over to the agent who sold me a set of Washington Irving a few years ago.

AT THE THEATERS

Al Jolson Generous To Less Fortunate

Al Jolson, now at the Arcade Theater in the spectacular Warner Bros. success "The Jazz Singer," his first picture and his supreme success, is known to be among the most generous to the less fortunate Broadwayites, whose talents have proved unequal to the critical demands of New York, or those who have fallen on hard days through illness or bad fortune. His charity is of the unvaunted kind and the recipients themselves are the ones who have made known his sympathy which finds expression in a thousand material ways.

Laura La Plante At Star On Wednesday

"The Last Warning," Universal's mystery special starring Laura La Plante, will open at the Star Theater on Wednesday. It is hailed as an unusual and spectacular production.

story through every phase of the work of production. Carl Laemmle's orders that this be made into a special were adhered to on a grand scale.

A big price was paid for the screen rights of Thomas F. Fallon's stage play of the same name, adapted from a novel by Wadsworth Camp. It was turned over to Al Cohn to dramatize. Cohn is considered one of the finest scenarists in Hollywood, being particularly noted for his scenario on "The Cat and the Canary" last year.

Remembering what a tremendous success Paul Leni had made in directing Laura La Plante in "The Cat and the Canary," Laemmle decided to give the director a chance to do outdo their spectacular work in this other mystery story. He put every facility of Universal studio at their command and gave them a free rein. The result is that critics the world over are acclaiming "The Last Warning" more terrifying and mysterious than anything ever seen before on the screen.

The supporting cast of "The Last Warning" has unusual strength. It contains artists of such prominence that many of them could carry a picture on their own shoulders.

On the roster of this production

Little Yellow Tomatoes (skinned), chopped Dates, Cream cheese balls, Crisp dry lettuce... and, of course, French Dressing made with Wesson Oil.

The smartest and most piquant French Dressings are those which you create yourself, out of your own imagination. Two parts Wesson Oil, one part lemon juice or vinegar, salt and pepper—then whatever your fancy dictates: for instance, tomato ketchup, a little strained honey, chopped pimientos and a dash of Worcestershire. Paprika, of course, for color. You can get as much variety as you please.

There's a Wesson Oil recipe book which contains fifteen different varieties of French Dressing. If you would like us to send you a copy, just address the Wesson Oil and Sawdust People, 112 Market St., San Francisco, California.

Miss Guggenheim Weds T. M. Gorman

NEW YORK, Apr. 14—(AP)—The New York World said today that Natalie Guggenheim, 18, and only daughter of Edmond A. Guggenheim, wealthy copper magnate, was married last Friday to Thomas M. Gorman, 27-year-old real estate broker and son of a railroad freight agent.

The ceremony took place at All Saints Protestant Episcopal church at Great Neck, Long Island, and was performed by the Rev. Mr. Kirkland Huske.
