

Over the Valley

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Turner of Twin Falls, Idaho, drove in the valley a few days ago for a visit with their friends and was accompanied by their daughter, Miss Helen Turner, together with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Frye, who have stopped off here on their way to their home in Pennsylvania from California, where they have been spending the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Frye were here last fall on their way south and had three weeks in this section of the state. They were accompanied by their daughter, who they carried their California visit a few weeks in order to make this stop on their way west.

MRS. WADE BROOKS WRITES FROM HOME IN BAYAMO, CUBA

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Brooks both formerly of this valley and both having many relatives and friends here, have been living in Bayamo, Cuba for some time. Their letters have been full of interest to those who have had letters from them, describing their surroundings, customs of the people among whom they have been living and unusual events which have come under their notice. We have been given a letter from Mrs. Brooks for publication and are very glad to pass it on to their friends. Mr. Brooks is a son of W. J. Brooks, of La Grande, and a brother of Mrs. Hugh Haron of north of Lipper. Mrs. Brooks is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williamson of Cove and a sister of several residents of the valley. The letter will be given in two installments. It was written during our winter time here.

It is so hot today, I'm almost roasted and it is only 10 o'clock. Do hope it rains this afternoon. We always look forward to the evening rains as it is the only relief we have from the terrible heat. From the 15th of October to midnight on November 15th is the time all the spirits weep. If you have ever seen the picture "Rain" you can get some idea of how it rains here. The rainy part of it is that the rains cease at midnight on November 15th. Now maybe you don't believe that—well, just try to tell some of these people that you saw it by the time I get home. I will be carrying an umbrella on moonlight nights, too. They try to tell me that the wind causes hives, but they cannot stuff me with that after having lived in the Grande Ronde valley. I tell them I came from the country where the wind is made. (If I happen to run out of ink, you will have to excuse me as the washwoman's boy walked off with my new bottle of ink, and the hammer. They surely do have taking ways with them.)

We have a big fat Jamnian rook now and her name is Berta. She is about a size or two smaller than an elephant. Every time I say a word to her she runs outside and cries. We cannot make out whether she is a spoiled baby or just plain cockoo. Then when she is pleased about something we say to her, she twists about halfway around and back again in a swinging motion and sticks one foot out behind.

The other evening I was getting ready to go to the show with Mrs. Haines and I suddenly discovered my ring was gone. So after searching my bed-room, I called Berta and showed her my finger, and said, Berta, I have lost my ring, have you seen anything of it? Her eyes looked out for food, sunlight, and space.

and four or five inches when he is riding on a very fast horse. The color is not quite the same as the one on the floor. The floor is rough, having some small pits in some places. Mrs. Wade Brooks came to a deep crater, where a gigantic door, supported by heavy chains, bridged the gap between the two tunnels. At night the door was closed, shutting off the only and only possible way of entering the cavern.

The second crater was much like the same as the first, but shorter. This led us down into the living quarters. From here, it seemed there were as many more steps and craters and passages, that we would have been lost only for the guide. We had the level of the tunnel underneath with only one opening, a sort of shaft-like door and window combination. No man ever hoped to come out of this place alive and I doubt if they were ever taken out after death. The men were usually beaten half to death, then hurled down this stone shaft, where it was damp and dark.

There were many funny-looking small music-making machines, and doubtfully hand-made, which were of course very effective in their way. This fortress was built in 1847, by Philip II, of Spain. (To be continued.)

Turkish historians say that the sea was the worst in Constantinople since 1453.

I told you I would write you about our trip to visit in Havana, which it seems I have never done. We were treated royally by the Warren people; had two cars with chauffeurs at our disposal; they by us were able to take in the city and the surrounding country as well. First, we called Mrs. Canale, a fortune teller who lives in the city and entrance to the bay. Mrs. Canale is built of solid stone and the long underground passages that lead to the fortress were all chiseled out by hand. The first one is about 100 feet, or more, long with portholes every three feet. These portholes are long narrow slits in the wall, about a foot long

BAKER MAN TO BE PRINCIPAL AT SALEM, ORE.

SALEM, Ore., May 3 (AP)—Fred D. Wolf, 22, was elected principal of Salem High school at a salary of $2,000 a year at a meeting of the Salem school board. Wolf succeeded J. G. Nelson, principal for the last 12 years, who resigned recently.

Wolf is principal at Baker, Oregon, high school this year. He was formerly principal at Yavette, Idaho, and at Kalama, Wash. He was at one time a football coach and during the war was an army officer. He is more than six feet tall and weighs 210 pounds. He was graduated from Pacific university at Forest Grove.

Wolf said last week while in Salem that he would accept the position of principal if it was offered him. The new principal is a married man and has two children.

Advertisement for Farm with Farmalls tractor. The Square-Turn FARMALL Fits Your Farm. THE big point about this tractor is that it fits the average farmer's needs to a "T". No matter how small or irregular your fields, no matter what your crops or your heavy work, Farmall has got it on the entire tractor field for many good reasons. The McCormick-Deering Farmall is the first real ALL-purpose tractor. It handles row-crop planting and cultivating along with everything else. It easily pulls two 14-inch plow bottoms. It has liberal power and every advantage for operating belt machines. With the 7-foot Farmall mower and a 7-foot trailer you can mow a 14-foot swath. And it is ideal on all haying jobs. Its equipment includes 4-row planters and cultivators, middle busters, sweep rakes, beet and potato tools, and others. It takes fast, timely mechanical efficiency and a cutting down of labor and other costs to run a farm profitably nowadays. The Farmall has displaced horses and extra men by many thousands. You never saw such a useful and economical tractor, and you can't see one except the Farmall. Even if you're not buying now, keep yourself posted on the latest in all-purpose power farming. Watch us operate the Farmall and its working tools on one-fiftieth of an acre—on a patch of ground smaller than the cellar under your house. We will be glad to have you drive it. We Also Have the McCormick-Deering 15-30 and McCormick-Deering 10-20.
