Miss Edith Bragg Of Salem, Oregon To Wed Mr. Carson

The many friends in La Grande will be exceedingly interested in the recent announcement made in Salem of the betrothal of Miss Edith Bragg of that city and Mr. Wallace Carson. The announcement was made last week at a very elaborate social affair in the capital city and has been followed by numerous social events there, at which Miss Bragg was honored guest.

Miss Bragg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bragg, residents of La Grande during the years when Mr. Bragg served as superintendent of the city schools. They moved to Salem a few years ago, Mr. Bragg having been made a member of the state industrial commission. Miss Bragg, who attended the local schools, and later was graduated from the University of Oregon is a member of the faculty of the Salem high school.

There were a number of outstanding features connected with the regular meeting of the Oliver P. Morton Relief Corps No. 27, held at their customary meeting place Saturday. Being the first Saturday of the month, it was the time for the regular dinner and 50 people were seated for that event. The dinner was served by a committee, consisting of Mrs. Laura Rhodes, chairman, Mrs. Edna Roban, Mrs. Anna Roscoe, Mrs. Ora Wilson, Mrs. Ella Peterson, Mrs. Ella Smith. During the dinner, the women presented a J. J. Martin, commander of the post, with a beautiful birthday cake, in honor of his 55th anniversary. The cake was decorated with flags and red, white and blue candles. E. J. Murphy, another veteran, who is leaving tomorrow for Roseburg where he will enter the Soldiers' Home was also especially honored.

The dinner was followed by the regular meeting of the relief corps, at which time plans for Memorial Day were discussed. Among other things it was decided to return to the plan of holding the patriotic program in the afternoon. Further plans will be announced from time to time as Memorial Day approaches.

Tomorrow evening, members of the Young Women's Educational auxiliary will close their year's work with the annual banquet to be served at 8:45 o'clock at the Scaevava Inn. This affair is one eagerly looked forward to by auxiliary members as it is invariably an event of extraordinary interest and enjoyment. This group has been taking a trip around the world

Mrs. Siegrist Is Hostess Saturday To Luncheon Club

Mrs. A. J. Stange and Mrs. Chas. Bohnekamp, who have recently returned from their extended trip east, were the special guests Saturday when Mrs. William Siegrist entertained the members of the Luncheon Club at her home, 1919 First street. The twelve club members present were seated at a table, beautifully appointed, with the centerpiece of mixed flowers, artistically arranged, and enjoyed Mrs. Siegrist's lovely luncheon. The afternoon was devoted to bridge with honors for high score going to Mrs. Kinzel.

Epworth League Host to Visitors

The Epworth League of the Methodist church was the host last evening to the young people from Elgin and Union and a group of about 75 young people attended the affair. A recreational hour at five o'clock, under the direction of Ben Hicks opened the program. The orchestra played several selections and a skit was put on by the Misses Mary Lee and Evelyn Peterson, and Hoyd Jackson. Lunch followed, served by Mary Lou Peiper and her committee. The last feature was the regular devotional meeting held in the league room. Dorothy Rhine and Anna Gather were the leaders and the discussion of the evening centered about the Epworth League Institute at Wallowa lake next month. Miss Joan Bouvy will not soon forget her seventh birthday. Neither will the other twelve little folks who were guests at a lovely luncheon given at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lee Bouvy, Saturday. The hours were from ten until one, and Mrs. Bouvy had arranged a number of things to entertain Joan's guests, the kind which delighted them all, and in which, some time or other, each one present won honors and was suitably rewarded. At twelve o'clock, the group was seated at one table, very pretty with its decorations of tulips, carrying out a color arrangement where yellow predominated. There was also a dainty place favor for each of the little folks. The birthday cake attracted the attention and admiration of them all. Miss Joan received from her guests many beautiful gifts, which will remind her of this particular birthday anniversary.

The Westway club, a group of women organized for social purposes, were guests Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. H. R. Ostland, 2004 Adams street, the attendance of the members being very large. There were games and contests of a most enjoyable character which combined to make up a pleasant evening, concluded with some refreshments served by Mrs. Ostland.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
Maybe "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," but by the same token a salad a day keeps us youthful and gay and the wise housewife serves a green salad at least once a day.

Every salad is just that much clear gain on the vitamin side of the ledger. It's the fresh, uncooked vegetables that make the profit and everyone ought to have a good "balance on hand."

Too often salads are put down as just a fussy extra and their merits as a valuable food are overlooked. Vegetable, fruit, fish and meat salads all have their places in well chosen menus and supply necessary nutrients in an attractive fashion.

Of course there's a fine art in combining salad materials and often a clever and artistic cook makes her salad a veritable picture. But every woman no matter how busy she may be can make her salad inviting and good to look at by following a few simple rules.

FIRST—Remember that a salad made of uncooked materials must be absolutely clean and free from any suspicion of sand. The "green" whether it be lettuce, endive, cress or some other plant, must be clean. Radishes, celery, onions and green peppers must be carefully washed and prepared.

INTERESTING crystal forms are combined with onyx roundels in this necklace to be worn with black or black and white.

CAPTAIN RECEIVES DIVORCE

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—A divorce was granted today to Captain Ian Howard Potter McEwen from Gwendoline Mackenzie on grounds of her misconduct with a correspondent cited as Count Leo Zeppelein Parous, otherwise known as Count Zeppelein. The misconduct was said to have occurred at a London address and also at Mentone, where the couple was found living as Count and Countess Zeppelein.

SECOND—A salad must be crisp. The greens must be tender and dry. Water clinging to the leaves ruins any salad dressing and detracts from the flavor of the other materials.

THIRD—A salad should be cool. This is one of the reasons for a salad. The contrast in temperature with other foods tends to whet the appetite.

FOURTH—A salad should be neat and clean cut. Too many materials should not be used and these should be carefully handled to prevent crushing. If extra ingredients are added to the dressing, these should be minced, but if the salad mixture itself is a so-called "combination" salad the materials should be cut in definite pieces.

FIFTH—The dressing must be suitable to the salad and the salad suitable to the meal.

Most men will eat a lettuce salad with a piquant dressing. Russian, Thousand Island, Roquefort cheese and chiffonade dressings are all good with head lettuce and offer variety. A lighter dressing is made by adding bits of cut fruit such as strawberries, pineapple, cherries or whatever is at hand to a well seasoned French dressing.

ASPARAGUS SALAD
One bunch fresh asparagus, 1 canned pimiento, French dressing, lettuce, mayonnaise.
Scrape and trim asparagus and tie in small bunches. Cook standing upright with heads out of water for 15 minutes. Lay flat and cook 10 minutes longer. Remove from water and place in French dressing to chill. Cut pimiento in narrow strips. Arrange five or six stalks of asparagus on crisp lettuce and place a strip of pimiento across below the heads. Put mayonnaise in band across the asparagus as far from the ends of the pimiento as from the heads. Serve very cold.

Backache Bother You?

Too Often This Warns of Sluggish Kidneys.

DOES every day find you lame and aching—suffering nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells?

Are kidney excretions too frequent, scanty or burning in passage? These are often signs of sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected.

To promote normal kidney action and assist your kidneys in cleansing your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's: Mrs. Frances Wittman, 623 Belmont Ave., Kansas City, Kan., says "After a severe cold my kidneys acted irregularly. It often was necessary to get up at night. I tried easily and a little later across my back bothered me a lot. Doan's Pills had helped my mother so I began using these and now I feel as well as ever."

GOLD BULLETS

by CHARLES G. BOOTH

A MOMENT before the millionaire Ogden was killed, he cried out the startling words, "Gold Bullets!" Peebles, his neighbor, had just bought an old revolver, once the property of Alex Peterson, a swaggering, reckless figure of those glamorous days of California mining towns. In one of its golden bullets was found a scrap of yellowed paper, revealing another mysterious murder, committed years ago.
