It is going to be safer to fly when trees, telegram poles and high buildings are taken down.

Billy had been told that a tradition is something handed down from parents to children. So the next day at school he explained to his teacher that he was late because "Mother had to mend my traditions."

A certain English literary celebrity came to the United States on a lecture tour. Unfortunately he was no sailor, and during the voyage he suffered acutely from sea sickness.

On arrival at New York he was met by a member of the staff of the "Atlantic Monthly" who asked him to contribute to the distinguished journal during his stay in America.

"No, thank you," replied the other, gravely. "I have already contributed to the Atlantic daily."

It is a case of true love if he presents the fact that her knees show.

There is an old saying: "It takes money to make money." Well, it takes money to lose it, so that's that.

It is said that an inventor has perfected a paper that will not burn. The new currency should be printed on it. The only hardship would be on the fellow who has money to burn and they can stand it.

Jimmy: "We're going to have an awful gay time at our party next week."

Johnny: "How d'ye know?" Jimmy: "All the women that mother's invited have said they were coming and everyone of 'em says she hasn't a thing to wear."

Old Lady to Pilot: "Why so nervous and pale, my boy?" Pilot: "We have lost both wings."

Old Lady: "Well, don't worry. We will get new ones when we land."

One great trouble about dieting is that the food you are permitted to eat is the kind you don't like.

"When did Moses live?" asked the teacher.

The class was silent, so she continued: "Open your books and read the page about Moses. What does it say there?"

After a pause a boy replied: "It says 'Moses, 4000 B. C.'"

"Then why didn't you know when Moses lived?" demanded the teacher.

"Well," said the boy, "I thought that was his telephone number."

AT THE THEATERS

Many Celebrities In Picture Coming to Star

A harmonious medley of romance and rousing dramatic action is struck in the PRO production, "Voice of the Storm," which, with such celebrities as Karl Läge, Martha Sleeper, Hugh Allan and Theodore van Elta heading its cast, had its local premiere at the Star theater Sunday.

This PRO production is sympathetic in the surging appeal of its theme. There is sweetly sentimental quality lent to the piece through the charming love affair that holds Hugh Allan and Martha Sleeper together "even" under the shadow of prison bars.

Speaking Screen Stars Lovely Dolores Costello

Dolores Costello in "Glorious Betsy" Warner Bros. first screen drama with dialogue, as well as Vitaphone accompaniment, comes to the Arcade theater Sunday for a run of three days. Conrad Nagel plays lead and the cast includes John Miljan, Marc McDermott, Pasquale Amato, Andre Panzer and Charles Selwyn. Anthony Colasewicz did the adaptation from Uta Johnson Young's play. Alan Crossland, who directed many of Warner Bros. Extended Run Productions, including "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Johnson, directed "Glorious Betsy."

The story is that of the love affair between Betsy Patterson of Baltimore and Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon. During dramatic highlights of the exciting drama the characters speak, thus adding thrilling veracity to the story.

Old Lady to Pilot: "Why so nervous and pale, my boy?" Pilot: "We have lost both wings."

Old Lady: "Well, don't worry. We will get new ones when we land."
