In the morning game the Reds won 19 to 4, while in the afternoon game they improved the score, making it 11 to 2. The two wins left the Missions a clean sweep on the week's work giving the Reds 7, and the Senators a goose egg.

Thrilling Finish. The two Seattle-San Francisco games provided a thrilling finish to the week's series. The Indians beat the ninth won the morning encounter 4 to 1, and the afternoon affair 9 to 4. However, the Beavers won the series 4 out of 7. Albert Pfluch, a rookie pitcher obtained from the Three-Eyes league, held the Beavers to but two hits in the morning game.

Portland Takes Two. Portland took the first game from the Angels 9 to 5, and the second 5 to 6. Los Angeles won the series 4 to 3. The Ducks took 8 hits off Boehler and Miller, and piled up their six runs in four innings to win the morning affair. The Ducks opened the afternoon contest with a five run rally. Nick Horrell scored a homer with two

Athletics And Yankees Even In Junior League

By William J. Clifman (Associated Press Sports Writer). With the first western invasion of the Polo grounds defining into its final phase, the Giants remain in need of victories as the Cards and the Cubs make the race out front together.

While the clan McGraw can exhibit but three victories against five defeats and one tie for the western stand, the Red Birds have won seven out of nine and the Cubs six out of nine with one tied on their eastern trip.

The Giants ended the more difficult part of their stand against the west by playing a 6 to 6 tie with the Cubs yesterday before 50,000 fans. The game was broken up at the end of the eleventh by a sudden rainstorm. It was a home run battle between Cuyler, Wilson and Hartnett for the Cubs and Ott and Lindstrom for the home forces.

Art Noff started against the Polo grounds, his former mates, but was knocked out in the sixth. Jonnard and Bush both succumbed to managerial strategy and Mike C'engron fired the last two rounds.

Carl Hubbell, the no-hit hero, had to have help from Carl Mays. The Cardinals, of course, defeated Brooklyn. The score this time was 13 to 7, giving the Red Birds a sweep of three games in Brooklyn, and running the Red Sox streak to six. The Reds subjected the Braves at Boston by 2 to 3 behind the fine left-handing of Eppa Rixey.

The Phils and the Pirates got the day off because no Sunday ball is played in either city.

The American league race was plunged into a deadlock as the Tigers won their second straight from the Yankees while the Athletics met rain in Cleveland. The Bengals hit the offerings of Walto Hoyt, and Leo Duracher helped by fumbling a double play in the second. The Tigers won 9 to 7. It was Hoyt's first defeat.

Some 43,000 persons crowded into Navin field despite a stormy morning. They overflowed onto the playing space, making ground rules necessary. The Yanks got seven ground-rule doubles against six for the Tigers.

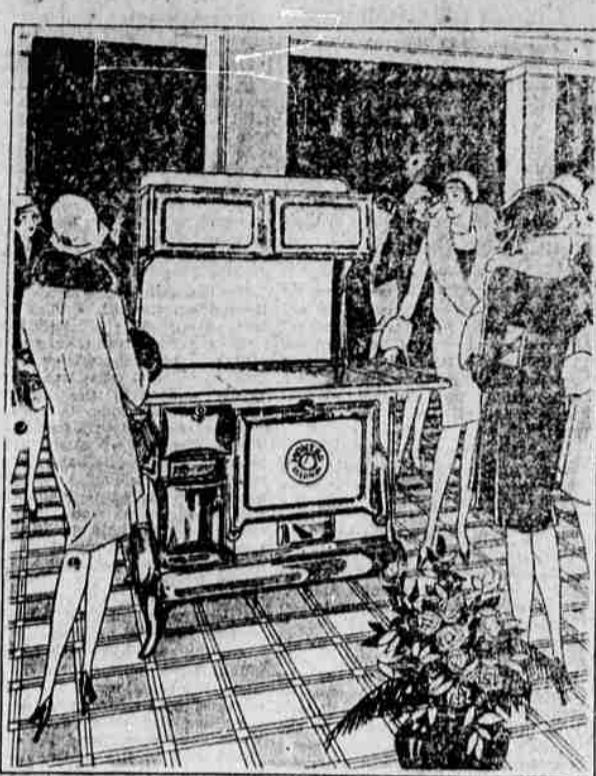

SALEM PROTESTS GAME

SALEM, Ore., May 12 (AP)—The Salem Senators lost their first game of the Oregon-Washington baseball league season to Mt. Scott Sunday, 2 to 1. The game was played under protest after the seventh inning.

Sax, pitching for the visitors, threw a ball which Coleman, Senator outfielder hit a single. Umpire Mason called the runner back because he claimed he had called time out to warn Sax against the way he was standing on the rubber.

—guard its fine motor from harmful carbon-forming oils!

This particular body style, the Commander eight brougham, caught the artist's eye as he sketched a display of the new Studebaker models

TODAY, car makers give us wonderful motors with enormous capacity for endurance, for speed. Not mere size; many of the "biggest" motors have disappeared. Rather it is the strength, the efficiency built into them. A change in design which enabled Studebakers, for example, to shatter existing records for time and distance.

This change in motor design, almost universal now, calls for a new motor oil standard—an oil that forms no hard carbon. Such oils are scarce; many otherwise good lubricants are notorious carbon-formers. They could be used perhaps in the big, roomy motors of a few years ago, but today, with pistons that come almost to the cylinder head, there's simply no room for carbon.

There is an oil, however, that forms 2/3 to 4/5 less carbon than even the costliest oils! The little it does form is only soft soot that blows easily away. It both lubricates and protects fine motors. It eliminates the gritty carbon chips that would grind endlessly through tight pistons and bearings; prevents carbon knocks, valve fouling and burning.

It is Shell Motor Oil. Refined by a new high-vacuum process, this remarkable low-carbon oil is hailed by lubrication experts as a great advance. Full bodied, resistant to heat—Shell Motor Oil is a great new lubricant with the added advantage of less carbon.

Even the costliest oils form more carbon. A sample of this oil, when burned, left more than three times as much as Shell Motor Oil

An equal sample of Shell Motor Oil left only this small fraction of carbon—and it is soft carbon, not the hard, gritty, damaging kind

Here is a section of the efficient 30 h.p. eight cylinder Studebaker Commander motor. No room in it for the handful of coke-carbon which old-style oils would soon leave. To get the most out of any modern motor you need an oil that forms no hard carbon

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that burns cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by topping with "wet" gasoline

Glenna Collett Wins Match In Golf Tourney

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland May 12 (AP)—Glenna Collett, American title-holder, began her quest for the British women's golf championship with a five and three victory over Marjorie White of Southampton, in a first round match today.

Marion Turpie, born at St. Andrews but an American resident since she was less than a year old, was beaten in the first round by Miss S. P. Dampney, of England, three and two.

Most feared among the four American entrants, Miss Collett played a sterling brand of golf to down her first British opponent in decisive fashion. She took the lead at the first hole and never relinquished it. At the turn she was leading two up.

Perfect weather conditions greeted the American champion today in strong contrast to conditions a year ago when cold and rainy weather partially accounted for her defeat in an early round by Mabel Wright.

H. E. Inlow Will Speak at Lostine Commencement

By Mrs. William Wiggins (Observer Correspondent). LOSTINE, Ore., (Special)—Lostine schools will close May 22. President H. E. Inlow, of the La Grande Normal school, will be the principal speaker. The play "Cat O' Nine Tails" will be presented by the high school May 17.

Clifford Conrad and Zack Pugh, of Imbler, stopped in Lostine to call on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Wiggins. They had been to Enterprise where they played ball with the Enterprise team, losing the game by a score of 9 to 2.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stringham and son, Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Keller Stringham, of Imbler, visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Wiggins for a short time Sunday.

They were on their way home from Enterprise to look over their new farm which they recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns, who have been residents of Lostine since last fall, left Monday for Eagle, Idaho, where they expect to make their home. The change was made for Mr. Burns' health.

Amos Evans, of Flora, was very painfully hurt when he became tangled in the ropes of the horses he was leading. Seeing the mix-up he jumped from the horse as it was riding and it also got in the tankle. Mr. Evans was brought to Enterprise where he received medical aid.

The range in this neighborhood is very short this spring and the stock men are very anxious to see some sunshine. Hay has been scarce and it has been necessary for people to turn stock on the range.

Ronald Downs made a trip to Union to see Mr. Dobbing and went on to Jefferson, Ore., to find employment. Dick Cole has closed his Blacksmith shop here and has gone to join his family at Haines several weeks ago.

After the story of last week of Mr. Breehairs and Mr. Beek of Evans, catching the 26-inch trout, comes now a much bigger but nevertheless true, fish story. Roy Horner, of Wallowa, a famed fisherman, hardly left Wallowa when he brought in a string which included one 34 inches long, weighing 19 1/2 pounds, another weighing 7 1/2 pounds and was 23 inches long. For good measure he brought in a rainbow 16 inches long and a Dolly Varden 14 inches long.

Mrs. Ella McKinzie, accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Craig to their home near Enterprise for a short visit.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crow drank a quantity of coal oil Saturday evening, and was rushed to the doctor at Wallowa. He is reported to have suffered no lasting ill effects and is truly recovered.

Mrs. Sadie Hall has been ill at her home for several days. Lefe Hammoek went to Elkin Tuesday on business, returning the same day.

Mr. Shaffer, of Walotwa, is spending the week in Lostine doing assessment work.

Although the weather has been very backward, the farmers have been trying to rush their farm work. A few have finished seeding, while others are not through plowing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robinson purchased the Burns property and will take possession this week. A serious accident occurred on Cricket Flat Saturday night when a Ford touring car went in the ditch. Mr. Warn was coming from Stanfield to Lostine after his aged mother and at this point, the lights of his car went out, the car going into the ditch. Mrs. Bramble who was riding in the car with her three-months-old baby, jumped from the car and suffered a fracture just below the knee. The baby was unhurt.

Reo Buchanan, of La Grande, was in Lostine Monday afternoon on business. Judge and Mrs. L. E. Jordan left for Eugene Tuesday morning after receiving word that their daughter, Myrna, who is a student at the University of Oregon, was very ill.

Several hens have laid large eggs this season, but each week finds some hen doing something bigger. A brown leghorn hen owned by Clint Clemens, of Bear Creek, is the latest. She laid an egg weighing 3 1/2 ounces, measuring 6 1/2 inches in circumference and 8 inches around lengthwise.
