Bridge Luncheon Given Yesterday By Mrs. W. H. Guild

Beautiful and fragrant blossoms and baskets of the old-fashioned garden flowers, made a charming setting for the bridge luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. W. H. Guild at her home, 717 O avenue as a special compliment to Mrs. Max Haber of Omaha, and being the one of a series of social affairs which Mrs. Guild is giving there were four tables for bridge after the delicious luncheon. Mrs. W. H. Reuter received the first prize, Mrs. A. J. Stango, the second, Mrs. H. A. Zurbick, consolation and Mrs. Harber, the guest prize.

Bride-To-Be Is Honored At Party

Miss Emma Baxter, of Union popular teacher in the Imbler school, whose marriage to Grant Wilde, also of this county, is to be an event of June 5, was honored last evening at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. Richard C. Thomas, 1305 Ninth street, with Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Clay Fox, of Imbler, as joint hostesses. Sixteen young women, friends of Miss Baxter, were guests at this delightful informal evening. The gifts intended for Miss Baxter's chest, were given to her from a wishing tree. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the lovely lunch served by the hostesses, the table decorations being mixed garden flowers. The place favors included small pictures of Miss Baxter, with an appropriate verse.
